Scholastic Philosophy Holds Promise
 Of New Literature, Says Padraic Colum
 Cliff Haven, N. Y. (NCWC)—The reappearance of Scholastic philosophy is the promise of a new literature," declares Padraic Colum, member of the Irish Academy of Letters and internationally known poet, playwright, novelist and lecturer. In an address at the Catholic Summer School of America, he said, "philosophers whose work based on the scholastic tradition Christopher Dawson and E. J. Watkin in England, Jacques Maritan in France, Peter Wust in Germany, Maximilian Kolbe in Poland, have become the ground-work of imaginative expression. Even our crime stories and detective stories reflect the metaphysics of philosophers of a generation or two ago. The ideas of the philosophers I have mentioned and of other philosophers of origin will take the place of the ideas that current literature largely reflects. Ideas derived from Hegel, Karl Marx, Herbert Spencer, William James, I think that writers of our time and certainly the writers of the next generation will turn naturally to a philosophy that recognizes the importance of form and that has a spiritual direction, even the detective stories and the crime stories of the day after tomorrow will reflect such ideas. The reappearance of Scholastic philosophy will give support and direction to the future writers. I should also say that its reappearance is the promise of a new literature."

2 Nuns Drown at Beach
 Of Their Order's Villa
 East Moriches, L. I. (NCWC)—Two Sisters of Mercy, teachers in parochial schools of Brooklyn, were drowned at the private beach of the Sisters of Mercy Villa at Hart's Cove here Saturday. The nuns, Sister Mary Girard, of Sacred Heart Parochial School, and Sister Mary Victoria, of St. Gregory's Convent, Brooklyn, were part of a group of Sisters making an annual retreat at the Order's summer home. Joining about 20 other Sisters in the daily water recreation, the nuns, together with two others, waded because Sister Girard could not swim. Suddenly, the group of four stepped into an under-water hole and Sister Girard immediately disappeared. Sister Victoria pushed the others to safety and dove after Sister Girard. The latter's struggles kept Sister Victoria under water and both drowned within a few moments. The bodies were recovered almost immediately, but resuscitation efforts proved vain. The Rev. Charles Hynes, chaplain of the villa and pastor of St. John's Church here, administered the last rites of the church to the nuns.

Easier Divorce Law
 For Nation's Capital
 Signed By President
 Washington, N.Y. (NCWC)—An Act of Congress establishing additional grounds for divorce in the District of Columbia was signed by President Roosevelt Wednesday evening and Thursday there was a race between local attorneys to be the first to file divorce suits under the relaxed law. Until August 8 adultery was the only ground for divorce in this city. A divorce may also be obtained in the court for desertion for two years, separation without cohabitation for five years and a conviction of a felony involving moral turpitude. Habitual drunkenness for a year and incapacity for five years were included in the Senate version of the measure, but were stricken out in the House of Representatives. Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York originally planned a fight to have the two last named grounds reinstated in the measure but abandoned it. He is expected to introduce new amendments in the next session.

The Junior Cook
 By MOLLY GAVIN
 Colorful dishes attract every little girl and there is no vegetable that makes a prettier dish than tomatoes. Of course, all may young readers know how to serve sliced tomatoes and how to make lettuce and tomato salad, but stuffed tomatoes are much different and as they make a very pretty dish I will tell you how to stuff them:
 Stuffed Tomato Salad
 Dip 6 ripe tomatoes in real hot water to remove the skins. Cut a slice from the top of each, and remove all seeds with a small spoon. Peel 2 cucumbers, dice them, season with salt and pepper and mix with 2 cups Mayonnaise Dressing. A tablespoon of chopped celery or onion can be mixed with the cucumber if desired. Fill the tomato cups with this and put a little Mayonnaise on top. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or scallion green pepper and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

CREDIT MISSION GROWTH TO CRUSADERS

 Our American Negro mission problem seems far from solved when we compare our loss of 20 Negro priests with 300 in Africa. But, he added, we are building up our forces with vigor and enthusiasm. In the discussion of home missions, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Eugene J. McGuinness, of the Catholic Church Extension Society, said the indifference to the Catholic Faith in many places is a worse enemy of the Church than hatred. The result of this indifference, he said, is an inferiority complex among scattered Catholics that obstructs their active participation in the civic life of their communities. Surveying various sections, he said North Carolina has fewer Catholics per capita than any country in the world. The Federal Government will be urged to make the Rochester appeal to Mexico for religious liberty according to American standards. The Dubuque Witness said editorially: "The hundreds of young people now in our city testify that the convention motto 'Enthusiasm for the Church' is not an empty phrase. The young Crusaders have a knowledge of mission conditions that betokens something more than the average of the layman. Best of all with the natural optimism peculiar to their years, they have a sure grasp of our present magnificent mission opportunities."

Archbishop Blesses Church Building in Impressive Ceremony

 His excellency praised highly the present pastor, the Rev. John M. Bakays, for their enthusiastic part in fulfilling the hope of the parishioners. In conclusion, Bishop Matulonis assured the celebrants of the honor that was conferred upon him in witnessing the dedication of the church that had been built through such a great sacrifice in such trying times. At the end of the Mass, Archbishop Mooney spoke briefly to the assembly, congratulating them on having accomplished a fine and worthwhile thing in erecting their new church. He said that God's benediction be upon the church, the edifice had been their church; now it was their gift to God. "Officers of the Mass assisting Archbishop Mooney, who pontificated, were: Rev. William M. Hart, V.G., Deacon of Honor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles F. Shay and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George V. Burns, Deacon of Honor. The celebrants, subdeacon, the Rev. Joseph A. Balcer, Master of Ceremonies, the Rev. Lawrence B. Casey, assistant Master of Ceremonies, the Rev. Edward Lyons, the Rev. Arthur F. Florek and the Rev. Augustin Petrus. Thurler, the Rev. Joseph Wurzer, Bookbearer, the Rev. Leo C. Mooney, Candelbearer, the Rev. Hubert Kinsley, M. C., the Rev. Right Rev. Msgr. John J. Lee and Rev. Michael B. Groden will also bring a message to the assembly. The afternoon meeting, which will immediately follow the ceremony is open to all who wish to attend, whether or not they belong to affiliated societies. This meeting will be held at the Mark Twain Hotel. Tickets for the luncheon are eighty-five cents and may be procured from Mrs. Agnes Bothwick, Executive Secretary of the Rochester Diocesan Council, 536 Columbus Center, Rochester, telephone Stone 1492, from Mrs. Frederick W. Casser, 501 E. Church Street, Elmira, or from the various Deaconery Presidents. All reservations made through the Rochester Office must be in by Monday noon, August 19. Aid Widows, Orphans Of Flu Epidemic

Diogo Soares, Madagascar (NCWC-Sides)—"The Poor People's Clothes-Money" is the name given a form of Catholic charity begun by the Holy Ghost Fathers here in 1919 to aid the many widows and orphans left without means of sustenance after the epidemic of influenza of that year. Since its foundation this work has distributed 75,000 francs, and in the last 12 months, notwithstanding reduced income and increased demands on the funds of the mission, 8,450 francs were distributed. How and What To Serve
 Hints For the Homemaker
 By MOLLY GAVIN
 During the summer months our appetites are not so keen and especially in the morning. Therefore women must put some thought into breakfast dishes that will entice the family into eating good food. The world's dietitians urge all to watch their breakfast; to start the day with foods that "stand by" you through the morning and thus protect the most important hours of the day. Some people like a warm cereal for breakfast all year around, but most people prefer a cold cereal or a cereal and fruit dish with cream or milk. In the busy summer attractive and delicious dishes can be served, as there are a variety of berries from early July until late in August. Powdered sugar is much better to serve on berries, fruits and melons than granulated sugar. Cantaloupes chilled well can be served plain or with a spoonful of berries in the center of the half melon. They are also delicious cut into cubes or with a round vegetable cutter and served in glasses with some orange or grape juice. Honey Dew Melons are served in the same manner as cantaloupes and must be served real cold. Fresh pineapples peeled and cut up the night before serving makes a refreshing breakfast dish. Fresh sliced peaches served with sugared cream makes an excellent dish. Omelets and fish are nourishing foods to serve as a second course at breakfast during the warm weather, as is also poached eggs on hot buttered toast. Let set overnight. The next day simmer slowly until thick, stirring as little as possible. Pour into clean hot jars and seal with paraffin. It is real economy to make your own blackberry jam, as it is a high-priced jam. Blackberries are cheapest at this time of the year. A new splitter can carry the whole 2 mile or more. Let's hope it's not commercialized until after the 1935 elections.
