Program Set for Evening School of Catholic Action Next Week

One night sessions of Rochester's first Evening School of Catholic Action will be devoted to the discussion of "Rural Life" according to an announcement coming from Miss Dorothy Williams of St. Louis, national executive secretary of parish sodalities, who will conduct the sessions of the evening school.

The subject of rural life, the announcement continues, is considered especially appropriate because of the forthcoming National Catholic Rural Life Conference which is to be held in Rochester in October.

The Evening School, which is sponsored by the Rochester Parish Sodality Union with the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop Edward Mooney, is designed especially for members of men's and women's parish organizations, but is open to the general public as well.

Congressman To Address Women On Capital Events

On Monday evening, September 16, the first fall meeting of the Catholic Women's Club will be held at the club house, 215 Alexander Street, at 8 o'clock. Members who attend will have the pleasure of hearing Hon. James P. Duffy speak to them on his personal impressions of Washington and Congress. Mr. Duffy's talk which will not deal at all with politics will be an informal presentation of "people and events in Washington."

An event of unusual interest in the program of the club for the coming year will be the series of afternoon talks to be given by Miss Mary McCarthy, at 8:45 on the second Thursday of each month beginning October 10. Interesting and world affairs will be discussed and an interpretative review of a book from the best modern literature will be given. This group will hear the first review of each book. The tickets for the series are limited to one hundred. Mrs. Charles W. Fields, chairman of Ways and Means, will be in charge of the sale of tickets. They may also be reserved by mothers and friends who call the clubhouse, Stone 4950. Other members of Mrs. Fields' committee are Mrs. Clayton C. Handy, Mrs. James Carroll, Mrs. Charles H. Vayo and Mrs. George W. Lowe.

A series of Contract Bridge Lessons will be given on Wednesday evenings with Mrs. Bradford J. Noyes Jr. as instructor. There will be eight lessons in the series for beginners and six lessons for advanced players. Registrations for these classes may be made now by calling the clubhouse.

An invitation has been extended by the Rochester Parish Sodality Union to the members of the Catholic Action to be held each evening from September 16 to 20 at the Columbus Civic Center at 7:45 o'clock.

The Business Women's Group of the Club will have as the first event in their program of activities a breakfast at Powder Mill Park on Sunday morning, October 6, at 11 o'clock.

Hindus Greet Catholic Bishop
Trichur, India. On the occasion of the visit of the Most Rev. Francis V. Murphy, Bishop of Trichur to Paripukur Church, the Hindus of the locality assembled in large numbers to greet the Bishop. An address of welcome was presented to the Bishop on behalf of the Hindu community in the presence of several Hindu leaders.

PHILANTHROPIST DIES
Los Angeles. With the Most Rev. John J. Cantwell, Bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego, presiding, funeral services were held at St. Vincent's Church for Michael J. Connel, prominent banker and philanthropist.

THE AFFLICTED
By THE REV. EUGENE GOLDING

The finest products of the Christian life, in all ages, have been men and women who have dedicated themselves to the service of those in need. It is in the lives of such that we find the best illustrations of Christ's teaching. The care of the sick of the poor and the outcast of society have always gone hand in hand in the charitable administrations of the Church.

Sympathy is the natural response to human suffering. It is difficult to be unmoved towards those in anguish and pain. The Master taught the brotherhood of man, the equality of man, the golden rule of the Gospel. And therefore, the consideration of the unfortunate, whether in mind or in body, merits the confidence and respect of all who profess belief in the Sermon on the Mount. Blessed are the merciful. Experience is one of the most impressive of teachers. The past years repeat themselves so much the same way it needs no stretch of the imagination to realize many of those confined to these institutions are blighted with incurable stigma and loiter near the end of life's journey. Ours not to ask the reason why or what might have been or what should have been.

From their demands of favors various as they are, who would be the first Christian to turn from their pleadings?

Nothing is more appropriate in the duty of up-lift than that of the atmosphere of spirituality surround these individuals in the evening of their life. Not only the saint but the derelict needs the rosary, the rosary, the medal, the substantial books of devotion so many encourage themselves to look big - that show somebody cares. Sometimes here and there a little contribution for a deserving case of an unclaimed body. From the criminal to the insane, to the tubercular, to the chronic diseased, to the out-cast, let the sociologist wrangle back and forth, in pity we have an obligation for those to whom life has been unkind.

In conformity with the popular appeal of Catholic action, the opportunity is gratefully extended to the public by way of a Charity Bazaar to be held in Convention Hall, Sept. 27 and 28 and that the wants of the afflicted, from our view of faith, in a cause that must forever be glorious and surely humane, may be sustained, to the honor and praise of Him of Whose Image we have been raised.

EXPECT 2 00 FROM DIOCESE AT CLEVELAND

The closing exercises of the Congress will be held in the ballroom of the Columbus Civic Center Building, September 16 to 20, inclusive. Miss Helen Gunter, president of the Union, reports that present registration indicates a capacity attendance at the school.

National Sodality Headquarters, according to Miss Gunter, has prepared a very complete program of activities for rural sodalities and for other business and recreational organizations that can be made to center about the parish church. These include 4-H Clubs, study groups on farm legislation, and the formation of music and dramatic clubs.

The program of the Evening School follows:
Monday
7:45 Christ and Catholic Action
8:45 The Sodality and Catholic Action

Tuesday
7:45 The Church, the Sodality and Efficient Organization
8:45 Your Personality and Leadership

Wednesday
7:45 Mary, the First Catholic Teacher
8:45 My Personality and Leadership

Thursday

Friday

On September 18, over a national hookup of the Columbus Civic Center Standard Time, the Eucharistic Congress Palatine Chorus of 300 voices will be heard in connection with the closing of the Congress. The chorus will sing the Eucharistic hymns composed by Bishop Schrembs, which will be sung also at the Congress.

As an example of the cooperation which the Congress committee is receiving from the residents of Cleveland, the section of the Cleveland Baseball Club is cited. Mr. Bradley decided to postpone the American League game scheduled for Sept. 28, closing day of the Congress, in order that the club members could attend the Eucharistic Congress.

Complete program of the Congress may be had by all interested by inquiring of Mr. DePrez at the Central Travel Agency.

LEADERS WILL TALK WELFARE AT PEORIA

Solidly back of solutions approved by the group in the course of the sessions.

Prominent among the discussions will be that of the Committee on Neighborhood and Community Activities, headed by the Rev. Dr. Edward Roberts Moore, Director of Social Action of Catholic Charities for the New York Archdiocese and a member of the Municipal Housing Authority in New York City. Many housing experts, among them Coleman Woodbury, secretary of the National Association of Housing Officials, and Ernest S. Bohm, chairman of the Housing Committee of the City Council of Cleveland will speak on "The Government Housing Program."

The Committee on Families is headed by Miss Frances K. Reynolds of the Catholic Welfare Bureau, Los Angeles. Implications of the Federal Government will be discussed by the Rev. James M. Campbell, president of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference. Other phases of relief as a part of the permanent government program will also be analyzed.

Dependent Children Topic
The connection between the recently enacted Social Security Act and programs for the care of dependent children and adolescents will be dealt with under the auspices of the Committee on Children of which the Rev. Francis T. Cullity of the Catholic Charities of Cincinnati is the chairman. Attempts will be made to differentiate properly between the role of the foster parent and the institution in this field.

Medical experts and executives from hundreds of Catholic hospitals throughout the country will focus their attention on the health of the nation's citizens in the meetings of the Committee on Health. The physical section of the Committee on Health is headed by the Rev. Alphonse J. Schmittala, S. J., president of the Catholic Hospital Association and the mental section of the same committee by Dr. William Dunn of the Catholic Charities in Washington, D. C. The growing trend toward group hospitalization and its possible effects on Catholic hospitals will be discussed by Austin A. Hayden, of Chicago.

Crimes, the prevention of crime, and the methods of caring for criminals in penal institutions will be taken up by the Committee on Protective Care of which Miss Mae K. Sargent, of the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Los Angeles, is chairman. Many prominent criminologists and state social workers and Catholic chaplains of penal institutions will have a share in the discussions.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. James C. Hagerty of Ohio State University the Committee on Social and Economic Problems will seek the viewpoint of the delegates regarding the content of the new Federal and state social insurance program. The possibility of bringing security through means of insurance to an estimated four or five million persons who will still not be gainfully employed even if a permanent prosperity is achieved, will be examined in the meetings of this committee.

For a group, only skin bather the face twice a day with the following lotion: Five and one-half ounces of rosewater, 1/2 ounce of alcohol, and 1/2 dram of boric acid.

CATHOLIC WILLS SOLVE MISSION PROBLEMS

The instinct is strong to keep what you have. Yet when death summons we must go to the grave, "clutching in our dead hands only that which we have given away." If you feel you cannot share your earthly possession now with God, perhaps you will be mindful of Him and His missions when drawing up your last will. You can be sure that what you leave to carry on Mission work will merit a blessing on your soul, and cause your name to be held in benediction long after your death. Think then of our mission when making or changing your last will. Kindly use this formula:

"I bequeath to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 59 Chestnut Street, Rochester, N. Y., the sum of . . ."
