SODAL TALK

Recording the Activities of Rochester Parish Sodalities Union

"The love of Christ drives us on."

If you are receiving your new members into the Sodality on Dec. 8 begin to plan now for the reception, the medals and the manuals. This ceremony, important to every Sodalist, should be planned in advance so that all the dignity and impressiveness which it merits can be gained.

The Sodality of St. Jerome's Church, East Rochester, held their monthly meeting on Nov. 10. They are having a Card Party on Nov. 26.

The St. Boniface Sodality announces the election of the following officers, President, Louise Weigel; Vice-president, Helen Curran; Secretary, Ruth Ehmann; Treasurer, Ruth Weist. We wish them success in all their undertakings. At the recent bazaar, which was a jolly affair, we know, the Sodality had charge of two booths.

A Silver Tea to be held Sunday, Dec. 8, was planned at the regular monthly meeting of the Immaculate Conception Sodality. After the business meeting a delightful entertainment was sponsored by the Mission Committee and Our Lady's Committe.

St. Mary's Sodality will present a three act comedy-drama "The Chronic Kicker". It will be given in the church hall on Nov. 29 at 8:15 p. m. All you might wish in thrills, comedy, and drama is promised. Patricia Brennan, Natalie Cummings, and Joan De Forest are playing leading roles. Miss Mary Skelly of Immaculate Conception Sodality is director. Tickets are being handled by Margaret Brennan and publicity by Bernice Morgan and Geraldine Twillegar. You are all invited to attend.

The general sodality meeting of Holy Rosary Church was held Nov. 18. Another issue of their Sodality newspaper "So Rumor Li" made its appearance at this meeting. A masquerade party was held Wednesday, Nov. 20. The Sodality took part in the parish bazaar by sponsoring a fish pond booth and the Bingo game.

Our Lord's birthday is coming. Are you preparing any gifts for Him?

Says Jesus Christ Is Divine Head of Catholic Hospital

Dubuque, Ia. (NC)—Jesus Christ is "the Divine head of the Catholic Hospital," declared the Rev. Charles J. Miller, director of hospitals of the Archdiocese of Dubuque at the pontifical Mass, which opened the first Iowa-Nebraska Regional Conference of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada, here. The Most Rev. Francis J. L. Beckman, Archbishop of Dubuque, was celebrant of the Mass.

Declaring that "if the hospital does not minister, to its utmost capacity, to the spiritual needs of its patients, it has betrayed its religious character and its mission," Father Miller said that "the supreme token" of the Catholic hospital's success "is not a certificate of approval by the American College of Surgeons, but the power of its spiritual influence."

Jerome Wunsch, Edward Klinger, Andrew Reisinger, Leo Schifferli.

St. Philip Neri: Michael DiRoberto, Bernard Fischette.

St. John Evangelist's: William Grupp, Owen Hegle, George King, Robert Miller, Robert Principe, Joseph Stauffer, Charles Costello, Walter Hoffman, William Huggins, John Meyering, Arthur Principe, Ralph Slayton.

St. Salome's: George Milliner, Paul Amas, John Groore, Harold Weichmann.

St. Stanislaus': Victor Koulowski, Francis Olszewicz.

St. Francis Xavier's: Joseph Malanger, George Casaretti, George Lawless.

St. Simon's: Joseph Kuntz, Gerald Curtis, Francis Kinsley.

St. Bernard's, East Rochester: Lois Muirdoon.

St. Lucy's: Adolph D'Ettore.

St. Bridget's: James O'Grady.

St. Cecelia's: Victor Bertuzzi, John Patterson.

St. Charles: Richard Kraft, Francis Driscoll, Leonard Gallo, Peter [illegible]

COMMUNISM TEACHING IS BANNED IN SCHOOLS OF NATION'S CAPITAL

Washington—The Federal Government has taken a determined stand on the much-discussed "teaching" of communism in the schools of the District of Columbia.

A ruling just made public by Comptroller-General McCarl specifies that teachers and other employees of the District of Columbia school system hereafter will not receive their pay unless they certify they have not "taught or advocated communism."

For the past several months a heated debate has raged in the Nation's Capital over the question of teaching communism in the public schools. In the last session of Congress a rider, attached to the District of Columbia appropriation bill, provided that salaries would not be paid to teachers who taught or advocated communism. The controversy is over the interpretation of the word "taught." The school officials have acted on the belief that the rider did not prohibit factual teaching of communism but was merely intended to prevent any praise or advocating of the communistic theory of government.

It has been agreed upon by school officials that factual teaching was permissible under the terms of the rider. McCarl's ruling was designed to clarify the muddled situation. School officials, however, insist that McCarl's ruling was not explicit enough on the controversial point of factual teaching. Another ruling may be necessary to clear up the matter.

Berlin Letter

(By NCWC News Service)

Berlin — Almost simultaneously with the appearance of the German Catholic Hierarchy's joint pastoral in which the Ten Commandments are proclaimed as the "objective and divine moral code" of the Christian Faith, General Eric von Ludendorff proposed that these Commandments, because of their Hebraic origin, be scrapped and a code of twelve Teutonic "admonitions" be substituted.

The admonitions, as published in Ludendorff's fortnightly magazine, Holy Well of German Power, are:

"Be German.
"Be true.
"Be dependable.
"Be proud.
"Be strong.
"Be chivalrous.
"Be self-controlled.
"Be conscious of your blood.
"Be a champion of what is noble.
"Be a destroyer of evil.
"Be with the nation with ill your heart.
"Be the enemy of its enemies."
