Along the Sports Horizon

By BILL LANG

A streak of brilliant hitting now darting across the courts of Rochester and points north, south, east and west has served to revive an ancient but unanswered question: "Who is the greatest player ever to don the Maroon and White spanglers of Aquinas Institute?"

The gentleman who provokes the revival of this question is one Mike Pellino. At the present moment, Mike is dashing up and down some court throwing in buckets with reckless abandon. And, what's more, he's doing it in fact company.

There you have just a scattering of the "winner" Mike Pellino. That man like Riley Kennedy, Missions, and Sullivan, Quinn and Wagner topped Pellino as a scholastic basketball player. In fact they were just about the cream of the court crop for years around.

The 1935-36 edition of the Aquinas basketball team consists of twenty-one players for the season.

The fast-stopping Notre Dame basketball team, flustered at the sports mystery of the New Year, the other night.

This year Notre Dame is sporting one of the finest court teams in collegiate circles.

ELLAA's triple victory over the Blessed Sacrament Belgians raised their league leadership to four full games because St. John's out of the second place St. Michael's team over the rocks for a third place.

Parish Schools Court Loop to Start Season

Schedule for Friday, Jan. 10

Holy Redeemer vs. Nazareth Hall, at Holy Hall, 7:30 o'clock; Holy Redeemer, Jim. Rickard.

Above is the lineup for the opening of the Rochester Parochial Basketball League which will get under way this week.

Best battles are anticipated in both games Friday night. The game that promises to be the most exciting is the one between the St. Mary's and St. Theresa teams.
