Christmas Eve Noted Jan. 6 by Ukrainian Catholics Here

Monday evening, Jan. 6, was Christmas Eve in one section of this city. Windows hitherto bare of candles and holly decorations shone resplendent, lighting the way for the infant Saviour. Small replicas of the Bethlehem manger adorned the tables in the homes. Midnight services ushered in the Christmas festival.

Many customs mark the difference between the Slavic peoples Christmas festival and that observed by the Western World. Midnight mass is preceded by family re-unions. A 12-course dinner is served on Christmas eve, the number 12 being indicative of the number of Christ's apostles. Tables are decorated with small figures of the Holy Family placed on straw representing the manger in Bethlehem. Gifts are not exhanged during the Christmas season but on Dec. 19 the feast of St. Nicholas patron of generous giving.

Mass was also celebrated Christmas morning, Jan. 7, at 10 o'clock in St. Josephat's Church.
