Their Interests

Their Interests

Its machinery functions so smoothly and efficiently that the outside world only hears about it during membership drive time.

Members comprising the young men's group in the association have formed a basketball league of six teams...

Yes, mother, sister, auntie and even grandmother fit into the scheme of things in the Columbus Youth Association.

The general Women's Club and the "Young Men's Club" sponsor the sports classes...

Their program throughout the year covers calisthenics, volleyball, gym games, basketball, swimming, life-saving, dining, meetings, parties, shopping tours and sportsman's clubs.

The main appeal of the CYA however, lies with the boys and girls.

Hundreds of our school boys are put through their paces in numerous activities under the watchful eyes of members of the Dom Bosco Society.

In addition to all kinds of sports, the children's course covers drama, music and novelty clubs, hobby and reading clubs, leaders' corps, guidance work, scout troops and investigation tours.

Now what about the man behind the guns in this complex enterprise?

Bill Quinn is well equipped for his job. He was graduated from West Rutland High School in Vermont in 1924 and from Savage College for Health Education in New York five years later.

Quinn was boxing instructor and boys' advisor of the Catholic Boys' Club of New York from 1927 to 1929. He returned to his alma mater in Rutland to coach football in 1929 and served as coach for the Board of Education for the next three years.

His assistants at the Civic Center include James Blumman, boys' director, Mrs. Marie Kinnear, women's director, and Miss Margaret Sullivan who is in charge of the girls.

Apparently nobody seems to realize it but the fact remains that Leary is doing a great job at the helm of the rejuvenated Aquinas basketball team.

The basketball situation at the school now is a far cry from the halcyon days of the early twenties when a promising court performer would for the school just as surely as an embryo football star today evinces a spot on Notre Dame's first team.

Now, said to say, some of our up and coming court luminaries.
