INTEREST HIGH IN DIOCESE FOR STUDY

ers meeting at St Francis DeSales in the evening.

At the evening meeting the seniors, boys and girls, assembled with the grownups to form study groups. An unusual feature was the presence of six present and past Grand Knights of the Knights of Columbus. Pastors of these enthusiastic groups scheduled leaders' meetings for the following week in their respective parishes and a general meeting at St Francis De Sales Hall, Sunday, Feb 23 at 8 p. m. at which Father Duffy and Miss Marks will attend

AUBURN MEETING

The Auburn Deanery meeting held on Feb 6 at Holy Family parish hall attracted priests and parishioners from the seven parishes of Auburn and from Aurora King Ferry Moravia Weedsport Montezuma and Scipio. The Rev Dr William E. Cowan D D opened the meeting with prayer. The Rev Donald M Cleary presented Father Duffy and Miss Marks. The diocesan plan for study clubs was presented to the 300 men and women present

Father Duffy in referring to the assigned text, "Let Us Go to the Mass" said "A study of the Mass will increase the individual's appreciation of the Holy Sacrifice and prepare him to present its meaning intelligently to others." Miss Marks said that Pope Pius XI has asked that the laymen "possess his faith as a subject investigated and understood so that it may bear fruit to himself and to others."

The following evening 130 leaders and potential leaders from various parishes had a practical demonstration of the first assignment from "The Ceremonies of the Mass". It was pointed out that husbands and wives may join study groups and non-Catholic parties of mixed marriages are invited to join. Parish leaders' meetings were announced and a return engagement scheduled for dozen organizers for Monday, Feb 24 at 8 p. m.

ITHACA MEETING

Leaders and potential leaders from Ithaca and Truman Ivins met at Immaculate Conception Hall in Ithaca on invitation of the Rev William Byrne Ph D pastor on Feb 8. Miss Marks emphasized the point that leading a discussion group is not a difficult task but a stimulating interesting one that common sense, consideration and generosity of service are prime requisites.

Mrs Sullivan of Ithaca was named by Father Byrne as parish chairman of study clubs. Forty-two persons were present from Ithaca and three from Trumansburg accompanied the Rev G Stuart Heim pastor.

ELMIRA MEETING

About 300 men and women gathered in SS Peter and Paul Hall Elmira for the meeting in that city. The Rt Rev. Msgr John J Loughran opened the meeting with prayer. The second meeting of potential leaders attracted a great number of men and women at which the second assignment of "The Ceremonies of the Mass" was taken up. Fifty-nine members of the laity were present from Elmira parishes six from Owego six from Waverly and four from Horseheads. Members of the Elmira deanery V C C W council Mrs. Mary at a tea in Dunn Memorial on Feb 9. Miss Mary Newsome president and other members of the Council Board were hostesses. Miss Marks outlined the purposes of the National Catholic School of Social Service in Washington sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women

CORNING MEETING

With about 75 member of the laity present the meeting at Corning on Feb 11 was opened by the Rt Rev Msgr Joseph Grillo V F in St Mary's Hall. Parts of the meeting were explained by the Rev Charles Mahoney Assistant Director of the Confraternity. Of the following day's luncheon at the Baron Steuben Hotel was attended by members of the clergy and of the Corning Deanery of Catholic Women. Mrs. Catherine Walsh deanery president presided. Value of discussion study clubs was presented by the Rev Lawrence Canavan and Miss Marks.

In the evening members of the laity from St Mary's St Patrick's St Vincent de Paul and St Mary's Bath, and priests from each parish participated in a demonstration of the discussion study club.

Duties of parish chairmen who will be appointed in each parish are, to assist in the organization of clubs and to obtain the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the leaders, secretaries and members of each group in the parish, to announce time of meetings, and to obtain materials and to disseminate information to all clubs; to arrange leaders' meetings and assist as the pastor may direct
