DIVINE WORD FATHERS MOURN DEATH OF THEIR FOUNDER IN AMERICA

Techny Ill. (NC) News reached [illegible] to record the Lenten Regulations to be observed in this diocese.

The law of fasting holds for all the weekdays of Lent up to noon on Holy Saturday. Fasting essentially implies taking only one full meal a day, whether it be at noon or in the evening; another light meal, from which, however, meat is excluded, may be taken either as a luncheon or as a supper; and a very light breakfast of bread and coffee, or the like, is permitted.

The law of fasting binds all who are twenty-one and not yet fifty-nine years of age except the sick, nursing women, and those who do hard labor or whose physical condition is such that they cannot fast without prejudice to their health.

The law of Lenten abstinence from flesh meat holds in this diocese for the Wednesdays and Fridays of Lent, for Ember Saturday in this season and for the morning of Holy Saturday, and binds all who have completed their seventh year. In virtue of a special indult of the Holy See, however, workingmen and their families are allowed the use of meat on all days in the year except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Holy Saturday morning and Christmas Eve. For workingmen and their families, therefore, the days of abstinence in Lent are reduced to Ash Wednesday, all Fridays and the morning of Holy Saturday.

It may be further noted that all persons who for any reason are exempt from the obligation of fasting may eat meat more than once on days when the use of meat is permitted by [illegible] for instance on the Wednesdays in Lent those bound to work are gradually bound to fast can eat meat only once on such days.

Those who are in doubt as to their obligations in regard to fasting and abstinence should consult their confessor or their pastor. The confessor can advise them, making [illegible] for instance, their exemption or to those who are on [illegible] or otherwise prevented by poverty from complying with the law. The pastor can dispense individuals and [illegible] required.

It is clearly the mind of the Church that those who avail themselves of legitimate dispensations from the full rigor of Lenten Law should make some compensation by voluntary mortification of sense appetites in the way that suggests itself as most appropriate for them, by special charity to the poor, and by more than ordinary devotion to works of piety such as attendance at daily Mass and Lenten evening services, and more frequent Communion.

May we all put on the heavy mantle of penance that marks the season of grace and use this acceptable time to grow in the knowledge of the faith that unites us in Christ.

Devotedly yours in Christ,
Edward Mooney, Abp.
BISHOP OF ROCHESTER

Representative Rabaut called attention to the fact that Belgian blood flows in his veins, and that he is the first of such lineage ever to enter the American Congress.

In his remarks he also briefly traversed the life story of Father Damien, concluding with these words:

And this, although the people of Hawaii have said farewell to their beloved hero he will long be remembered as the self sacrificing exemplar of the forgotten and neglected lepers at Molokai.

No wonder Mr. Speaker, that the movement for the canonization of Damien is seeded with the purest flower that a human heart can bear, the love he has for his friends.
