Plans Completed For Stadium Meet

Altar To Be Erected In Form of Monstrance; More Than 5,000 Candles Already Sold; Prominent Speaker To Address Gathering; Women To Be Admitted As Spectators

PLANS COMPLETED—

Further plans for the Eucharistic Service and Rally to be held in the Rochester Red Wing Stadium on Sunday, June 14, by the Rochester Diocesan Holy Name Union were discussed this week at a meeting of delegates from the Rochester area in Columbus Civic Centre Building.

The meeting was presided over by B. Edward Shlesinger, President of the Diocesan Union.

As in previous years, the rally which is expected to draw 15,000, will be in the form of a candlelight service. A platform surmounted by an altar will be erected in the ball-park behind second base. A section of the stands will be reserved for each parish and box seats will be assigned to the out-of-town delegations

The rally will begin at 7:15 p. m. There will be an address of welcome by Archbishop Edward Mooney of Rochester and an address by a figure of national prominence in Holy Name affairs, whose name is yet to be announced. Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow.

Hold Candles Aloft

The program will be so timed that when the principal address is concluded, it will be dark. At a given signal, the men will then light the candles with which each will have been provided and rising with their candles held aloft they will pronounce in unison the Holy Name pledge. During this portion of the service all other lights in the ball park will be extinguished.

The Rev. F. W. Stauder, Spiritual Director of the Union, has announced that the altar to be erected this year will be in the form of a huge monstrance decorated in gold cloth and sequins. During the service, this monstrance will also be illuminated to add further impressiveness to the ceremony. Decoration of the altar will be in charge of the Rev. Albert Geuge of Holy Redeemer Church, assisted by the Alfo Club.

Women To Be Admitted

As in previous years, women wishing to see the ceremony will be admitted to the bleachers of the park but in addition, this year space will be roped off for them on the playing field.

Orders for the specially decorated candles which are to be used in the service and the sale of which go to defray the expense of the rally are pouring in fast from all over the diocese. At Monday's night's meeting, according to James G. D'Amico and Joseph Antolina, who are in charge of sale of candles, order for 5,125 candles were placed.

Name Committees

Committees for handling the rally are being named now. The following have been named: Chairmen in charge of the principal details of the demonstration: Audition, Roy W. Crissy, St. John Rochester; Procession and Seating, John W. Diringer, Corpus Christi Rochester; Lighting and Public Safety, Norman A. O'Brien, Holy Rosary, Rochester; Platform and Music, Rev. A. F. Florack, St. Michael, Rochester; Escort, W. Blessed Sacrament and Invitation, Wm. G. Wynn, Immaculate Conception, Rochester; Programs, Francis E. Wolfe, Blessed Sacrament, Rochester; Radio and Reception, Joseph P. MacSweeney, St. Monica, Rochester; Speakers, Rev. F. W. Stauder; Out-of-Town Delegations, Rev. J. J. Healy, St. Francis de Sales, Geneva, Rev. D. A. McCarthy, SS. Peter and Paul, Elmira, Wm. McLane, St. Apollonia, Auburn.

"This demonstration will be not only for Holy Name men but for every Catholic man of the Diocese of Rochester," Father Stauder announced. "It has been three years since we have had a rally in Rochester and two since we have had one in the Diocese. We are bending every effort to make this year's service the greatest we have ever had. We have big plans for this affair. All over the world, the church is being assailed. It is a time to reaffirm our Catholic faith publicly. It is a time to stand up and be counted. It is a time to advance and to sell the purpose and program of the Holy Name Society. We feel that our Catholic men are alive to the currents of the times and we expect that we shall see 15,000 and more of them at the park on June 14th reaffirming the principles of their Catholic faith.

While Nazareth College was crowning a May Queen in a swirl of spring organdy a few hundred feet away Coach Tommy Sullivan of Aquinas was preparing to crown a queen of the other afternoon, trying to select a May King of his own.

Now don't for a moment think that the boys at Aquinas were dotting an arid a May pole or placing a wreath on the noble brow of some lusky son of the Maroon and White.

On the contrary, the lads donned their fall moleskins and went at it in a dig dong football game between the 1935 regulars and the 1936 hopefuls. What Coach Sullivan was after was a player around whom he might build next fall's pig-skin program.

The event was one of the features of Mission Day observance at the school and brought out a goodly crowd and "Punk" Rowe to watch the proceedings. The tilt resulted from a challenge hurled at the 1936 outfit by the 1935 edition.

Fortunately the day was conducive to football and the boys went at it in healthy style to the soft tunes of "Lohengrin" floating through the spring air from the aforementioned Nazareth campus.

Just as Queen Mary Rita O'Connell reached her throne on the Nazareth Campus, the Aquinas hopefuls ripped off a series of off tackle plays that must have tickled Coach Sullivan pink even though the Nazareth audience, drinking tea in a yonder garden, wasn't exactly thinking in terms of line rushes and end skirting.

Wearing their green helmets, gray sweatshirts and moleskins which must have seen better days, the Aquinas boys certainly couldn't hold the fashion light to the Nazareth misses who strolled across the campus in pretty afternoon frocks. But then it wasn't a fashion show for the boys. Nor were the girls especially well attired to dash off a bit of football.

Despite the rain, the Catholic Softball League got two games into the records this week, both in the western division.

The Holy Rosary champs made it two in a row by taking the measure of the SS. Peter and Paul nine by a 6-4 score.

Sacred Heart nine kept pace with the champs by submerging the Immaculate Conception youngsters under a 12-3 barrage.

With the opening game edge worn off, the league teams can be expected to settle down and provide the fans with a brand of ball to compare favorably with the best offered in Catholic League competition in recent years.
