KNIGHTS ATTEND COL. WEISMILLER FUNERAL RITES

Funeral services for Colonel Michael H. Weismiller, a member of the Rochester Regiment, Knights of St. John for fifty-five years, were held at St. Michael's Church today with a large delegation of knights in attendance.

TEXT OF ENCYCLICAL ON MOVIES

(Continued from Page 7) ble, the learned and the unlearned, the judgment passed upon the film cannot be the same in each case in all respects.

Therefore it will be necessary that in each country the Bishop set up a permanent national reviewing office in order to be able to promote good motion pictures, clearly good and being the judgment to the knowledge of the priests and the faithful.

It will be very proper to entrust this agency to the central organization of the Catholic action which is dependent on the Bishops. At all events, it must clearly be laid down that this service of information in order to function organically and with efficiency must be on a national basis, that is, it must be carried on by a single central responsibility.

Should grave reasons really require it, their excellencies, the Bishops, may, through their diocesan reviewing committees will be able to apply to a national list which must use standards adaptable to the whole nation—such severe criticisms as may be demanded by the character of the region. They may even censor films which are admitted to the general list.

The above-mentioned office likewise will look after organization of the existing motion picture theatres belonging to various Catholic associations so they may be guaranteed reviewed, approved or films. Through organization of these halls, which often represent a considerable clientele for the industry, it will be possible to advance a new doctrine, namely, that the industry produce motion pictures which correspond entirely to our principles. Such films then may readily be shown not only in Catholic halls but also in others.

UNITY OF JUDGMENT We realize the establishment of such an office will involve a certain sacrifice, a certain expense for Catholics of the various countries. Yet the great import-
