"Pardon me, Mr. Brown, but aren't you one of the big bosses over at the Acme plant? How does a chap get a job in the office of such a place?"

"Well, Jim, I am an executive. Times are better in our business yet the same advice holds good that was given me when I was your age: Willingness to work is not sufficient. Business wants trained young men and women. A sound course in a recognized business institute is not costly if you save and save, rewards through later years. Why don't you talk to R. B. The Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Joseph A. Baicerek, pastor of the church.

On November 20 the students at St. Mary's Boys' Home at Main Street West and Genesee Street will give a demonstration in the home church.

Another demonstration of the Gregorian Chant is scheduled for Monday, December 7 at St. Ambrose Church by the children's choir of St. Ambrose School.

Public invited.

These demonstrations of the Gregorian Chant are being given in the churches throughout the city to answer the question of why the Chant is taught to the children and to show how it is used.

Our Catholic people are cordially invited to attend these Masses.

Add Philosophy School To Catholic University

WASHINGTON (NC) - The School of Philosophy of the Catholic University of America, of which the Rev. Ignatius Smith, O.P., is acting dean, is the latest addition to the schools and colleges comprising the Catholic University of America.

The school was formed in 1934 in its independent relation to the other departments of the university. It has a complete faculty and curriculum of its own. Students who are doing work for Ph.D. or M.A. degrees may remain completely within the school and obtain their degrees there.

Catholics In History

CORNELIUS HEENEY
Heeneey was a prominent American merchant and philanthropist. He emigrated to this country from Dublin, Ireland where he had already achieved success as a merchant, and he was soon to amass a considerable fortune in America. He was a bachelor and devoted virtually his entire estate to religious and charitable works.

In this country he entered the employ of a New York fur trader. Among his fellow employees was the founder of the Astor family. His employer subsequently retired from business and Heeneey and John Jacob Astor formed a partnership. Several years later Heeneey established a separate business and continued to prosper.

He made generous gifts to St. Peter's Church, to St. Patrick's and to the Catholic Orphan Asylum in New York. When he retired he purchased a large farm in a section that is today one of the principal residential districts of Brooklyn. He was one of the first Catholics to hold public office in New York State, serving in the legislature for four years.

After having for years devoted most of his income to works of charity and religion he determined to place the whole of his estate at the disposal of these enterprises and accordingly formed a trust incorporated by act of the legislature and known as "The Trustees and Associates of the Brooklyn Benevolent Society." This trust has continued to function for the benefit of the poor and orphans. Heeneey was born in King's County, Ireland, in 1754, and died at Brooklyn in 1848.

Thanksgiving Vacation Starts Wednesday for All Students

Mass Attendance Perfect Way In Which To Give Thanks To the Lord

Thanksgiving Day is on the way and it means the first extended holiday of the school year.

Yes, it's next Thursday November 24.

From the office of the Rev. John M. Duffy, superintendent of the Catholic schools, diocese of Rochester, comes word that the schools will close on Wednesday, November 25 and reopen on Monday, November 30.

A Thanksgiving Opportunity
In a proclamation issued to the people of the United States this week President Roosevelt asks that we give due thanks to God for the multiple blessings showered down upon our country during the past twelve months.

We, as Catholics, have a fine opportunity to express our thanks on this legal holiday and turn it into a holiday of Thanksgiving by attending the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We also know that there is no more perfect act of thanksgiving than Holy Mass.

And there's Turkey
Thanksgiving, of course, turns the vision of turkey into a reality. The editors hope that every reader of the Junior Catholic Courier has plenty of good things to eat and much to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day of 1936.

ST SALOME'S STUDENTS MARK ARMISTICE DAY

Elizabeth Annan of the Eighth Grade reports that a colorful Armistice Day assembly was held in the St. Salome's auditorium last week.

Betty Healy delivered the Armistice Day address while Judson Florkack and Robert Bailey rendered a duet. Ruth Dwyer and Robert McGrath recited "In Flanders Field."

The program concluded with singing of war songs, moving pictures and the sounding of taps by Frank Doherty.

GIFTS

A BOY SPEAKS:
Little brothers across the sea,
'Chinese, Indian, Japanese,
You never come to play with me.

But on this day when I think of you
I can send you a thought both kind and true—
And look, I'm sending a penny, too.

A GIRL SPEAKS:
Little sister so far away,
In sunny lands where the palm tree sway,
I'm thinking of you this very day.
I saved this penny to send to you
It's very small, but it's lively too—
There are lots of things a penny can do.

POPE HONORS LAYMAN
Hong Kong—Lumen Service says the Holy Father has conferred the Knighthood of St. Sylvester on Henry Dixon, outstanding Catholic here. A native of Hong Kong Mr. Dixon has had a long and distinguished career in the civil service. He was awarded the Imperial Service Order by the British Government a few years ago. At the same time he has been throughout his career a leader in the Catholic life of the Colony.

CATHEDRAL OPENS SCHOOL LIBRARY

New Principal Employs Spare Room; Books Rounded up, Indexed

The library movement is sweeping our schools.

Spare rooms are being headed for the last roundup. Spare rooms are being put into use. The index system is being employed. It's all being done to afford our boys and girls every possible opportunity of reading the best available books.

A prime example of what can be done toward the construction of a school library is afforded by Sister Leonilla, new principal of the Cathedral School.

Spare Room Used
Determined to start a school library, Sister Leonilla first obtained a spare room for the site. She then began assembling some of the books which were scattered throughout the school. Indexing followed and now Cathedral School has the start of what promises to be a thriving library.

This library movement is one of the big results of the Library Institute held in May, 1935 under the direction of the Rev. John M. Duffy, diocesan school superintendent.

Other Schools Can Follow
What is being done in the Cathedral School probably can be duplicated in other schools which do not as yet boast of a library.

A bit of ingenuity, some added effort and a strong determination to build the library are some of the needed factors in making a success of this undertaking.

What has your school done or what is it doing toward a fine library? We'll welcome any comments you may have.

What's more the Junior Courier is available for an interchange of library ideas among the various schools.

Proclamation

By The President
I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 23rd day of November, 1936, as a day of national thanksgiving.

The observance of a day of general thanksgiving by all the people is a practice peculiarly their own, hallowed by usage in the days before we were a nation and sanctified through succeeding years.

Having safely passed through troubled waters, it is our right to express our gratitude to Divine Providence for our safety, our wisdom and courage to overcome adversity. Our free institutions have been maintained with no abatement of our faith in them. In our relations with other people we stand not aloof but make resolute effort to promote international friendship and the avoidance of discord, in further world peace, prosperity and happiness.

Coupled with our grateful acknowledgment of the blessings it has been our high privilege to enjoy, we believe responsibility to assure for ourselves and our descendants a future more abundant in faith and in security.

Led us, therefore, on the day appointed, each in his own way, but together as a whole people, make due expression of our thanksgiving and humbly endeavor to follow in the footsteps of Almighty God.

Feast of Presentation Of Mary Saturday

Saturday—November 21—is the feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary and incidentally a Holy Childhood Feast.

Children Invited To Send 'School Smiles'

Like a good joke? Certainly! Well, so do we and we're pretty certain every reader of this page feels the same.

Our "school smiles" column is pointing its big feature of the Junior Courier but we want to make it even better. We want our readers to furnish the material for this column. Send in the jokes you consider best and we'll publish it with due credit.

School Smiles

Apples
Menagerie Man—"Madam please keep your children away from the apples and a bear!"
Woman—"You don't think my children would hurt the bears do you?"
Menagerie Man—"No, but this bear almost choked to death on a knife in the pocket of the last boy he ate."

Difference
Teacher (having six in mind)—"What's the difference between an elephant and a bear?"
Tommy—"Well, for one thing, an elephant can have fleas, but a bear can't have elephants."

Unexpected
Johnny, ten year old, applied for a job as grocer's boy for the summer. The grocer wanted a serious-minded youth, so he put Johnny to a little test.
"Well, my boy, what would you do with a million dollars?" he asked.
"Oh, gee, I don't know—I wasn't expecting so much at the start."

Dear Abe
Baker—"I think I'll drop Lincoln a line."
Bottle—"Don't be silly. How could you?"
Baker—"I've got his Gettysburg address."

For Safety?
Teacher—"Johnny! Can you tell me what waffle is?"
Johnny—"Yes'm, it's a pancake with a non-skid tread."

Habit
Drowning Man—"Quick, throw me a life belt!"
Rescuer (sailor)—"Yes, sir. What else round the waist?"

Eventful
History Teacher—"Mary, what event took place in 1732?"
Mary (promptly)—"George Washington was born."
Teacher—"Correct. Henry, what happened in 1742?"
Henry (after a pause)—"George celebrated his 10th birthday."

Not So Smart
"I hear that you have a very clever dog, who understands 15 languages," said the teacher.
"Must be a mistake, Miss," replied Class. "When I took home my school report he said, 'What is the meaning of this?'"
