Captain Chang Decides Against Death, Paves Way For Freedom

Now the entire group were demanding my death... Captain Chang decided against death, paving the way for freedom... The night of this day a deserted cabin was sighted on an adjoining hill, and a decision was made to pass the night there in the hope, perhaps, that my strength would recover sufficiently to enable me to go on...

Wanted Headquarters

The bandits, learning that the house they were preparing for my winter quarters was not ready, prepared to depart... Leaving the headquarters of the bandits, we again entered the woods, and fearing that they might be crossing over mountains, refused to stop for a rest and pushed onward until several hours later we came to my winter home...

Prepared To Meet God

One day toward the end of this horrible period, as I sat curled up trying to warm my feet, my captor... I prepared to meet God... The night of this day a deserted cabin was sighted on an adjoining hill, and a decision was made to pass the night there in the hope, perhaps, that my strength would recover sufficiently to enable me to go on...
