Paine DRUG COMPANY A Paine prescription is guaranteed to contain fresh, potent ingredients that will do their work effectively. Because Paine's specialties in prescriptions filling many years than the average drug store, our large turnover keeps most drugs fresh automatically. But we do not rely on turnover alone. Periodic inventory is taken and drugs are discarded before they have a chance to become aged and inert. This is just one safeguard that leads doctors to say, "It's better to bring your prescriptions to Paine's than to wish you had."

What About Your Will? Is your last will and testament an evidence of your spiritual allegiance? When making your will you should not forget your soul nor that the goods of the earth are to be used and not abused, to be employed, among other things, for God's honor and glory and the welfare of your less fortunate brethren. There is no better way of disposing of earthly possessions after personal, parochial, diocesan, have been fulfilled than by making them serve the cause of the missions. The Society of the Propagation of the Faith is the Holy See's main organization for the support of all missions.

Editorial Comment

To Larger Fields Changes in the ecclesiastical world, announced in dispatches from the Vatican, interest Rochester intensely because they disregard statements of two distinguished sons.

Rejoicing because the Most Rev. Edward Mooney, bishop of Rochester, is made head of the archdiocese of Detroit, and the Rev. Walter A. Foery, pastor of Holy Rosary Church, is advanced as bishop of the diocese of Syracuse.

Although Archbishop Mooney has been in Rochester only four years, they have been crowded with accomplishments. First of all he is a scholar. His talent for spiritual leadership is supplemented by a wealth of learning gained not only from textbooks of his classrooms, but also in a varied school of experience.

His appointment to head the newly-created archdiocese of Detroit will mark the beginning of another chapter in a record of many high missions for the Catholic Church.

Some day the Rev. Walter A. Foery may be known as the Bishop of Syracuse. Although he has performed, with unusual success, all of the duties incumbent upon priest and pastor, charity has been the great work of his life.

Notable in the history of the Rochester Diocese is the selection of two of its clergy for high positions in the Roman Catholic Church. Archbishop Edward Mooney, named by Pope Pius XI as the first Archbishop of Detroit, has been bishop of the Rochester Diocese since 1933. Prior to coming to Rochester he spent much time in the missionary field, being made titular bishop of Hippo when he was sent as apostolic delegate to India in 1923. In 1931 he was transferred to Japan.

Now Archbishop Mooney's administrative abilities and capacity for spiritual leadership will be exercised as head of an archdiocese which includes one of the nation's largest cities. In characteristically gracious manner he expresses his regret at leaving Rochester where, he says, "the close and sympathetic co-operation of the clergy and the laity of this diocese has made my work so easy, and where my fellow Catholics follow citizens have been so uniformly kind and friendly."

The Rev. Walter A. Foery was born in Rochester and after completing his preliminary education studied at St. Andrew's Seminary and at St. Bernard's. His appointment as Bishop of Syracuse marks the third instance in which a member of the class of 1918, St. Bernard's Seminary, has been chosen to head a diocese. This is a rather unusual example of the high standing the seminary holds.

Since 1932 Father Foery has been pastor of Holy Rosary Church, and has been in almost touch with all members of that large parish. He has been especially active in social service and charitable work, as executive director of Columbus Civic Center and director of the Catholic Charities of Rochester.

Not only the members of their own church, but their many non-Catholic friends and admirers unite in congratulating Archbishop Mooney and Bishop-elect Foery on their advancement to

Abp. Mooney Will Preside At Ceremonies In St. Patrick's Cathedral

Abp. Mooney will have supervision over three bishops, 115 priests and 838,860 Catholics in the Archdiocese of Detroit and the Dioceses of Marquette, Grand Rapids and Lansing.

Lansing is a newly-created diocese and Pope Pius XI has named the Most Rev. Joseph M. Albera, Auxiliary Bishop of Cincinnati as its Ordinary. Detroit and Grand Rapids were created dioceses by provision of the Most Rev. John T. McNicholas, Archbishop of Cincinnati as Metropolitan of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. Marquette formerly was part of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee.

The See of Detroit has been vacant since the death of the Most Rev. Michael J. Gallagher last January. The Syracuse See has been vacant since the Most Rev. John A. Duffy was transferred to the Diocese of Buffalo to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the Most Rev. William Turner.

Until he leaves for Detroit tomorrow, Archbishop Mooney will serve as administrator of the diocese. Upon his departure another administrator or vicar-capitular will be named to rule over the Rochester Diocese until the appointment of a new Bishop.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William H. Hart, Vice-Chancellor of the Diocese, served as vicar-capitular from the time the late Bishop John Francis O'Hern died on May 27, 1935 until the appointment of Archbishop Mooney on August 23 of the same year.

Bishop Foery was proposed to celebrate a funeral Mass at Holy Rosary Church Sunday morning when he received word of his appointment to the Syracuse See. Completing the Mass he first conveyed the glad news to his mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Foery, who lives at No. 100 Avenue B. The new Father Foery in every respect measures up to the high standard of bishop that Pope Pius and his predecessors have put in charge of this diocese.

Abp. Mooney then returns to his rectory to receive the congratulations of his assistants, classmates and others. A holiday was declared for the 40 children of Holy Rosary School and they had no class in attending the glad tidings throughout the neighborhood.

Receives Congratulations The forty-six year old bishop was soon deluged with telegrams, telephone calls and scores of well-wishers. When the news reached Syracuse, reporters and photographers sped by airplane to Rochester to interview their new prelate and rush photos back to Syracuse.

Especially encouraging to the new bishop were the wired and telephone congratulations from Syracuse, including several from his classmates at St. Bernard's. Archbishop Mooney was the recipient of congratulations from all sections of the country, tie is well-known in other dioceses not only as Bishop of Rochester but as Chairman of the Administrative Board and the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Archbishop Mooney will carry on his schedule of activities until he leaves for Detroit.

The Biographies Of Two Prelates

For many years Bishop Foery has been actively identified with the work of Catholic Charities. In June, 1930, he was named director of Catholic Charities by the late Bishop John Francis O'Hern. A year later he was appointed executive director of the Columbus Civic Center.

His interest in welfare work was resulted in his election as vice-president of the Council of Social Agencies. A year ago Bishop Foery was selected as the delegate of the National Catholic Welfare Conference to the world-wide welfare meeting in London. He was the representative of the Rochester Diocese on the New York State Catholic Welfare Conference.

Bishop Foery's mother, Mrs. Margaret A. Foery, lives at No. 100 Avenue B. Rochester. He also has two sisters, Florence and Loretta Foery, and a brother, Frank Foery.
