List Speakers For Catholic Theater Meet

Mgr. Sheen To Keynote Conference; Dr. Anton Lang To Talk

WASHINGTON—Prominent leaders in the field of the drama will be heard at the second meeting of the Catholic Theater Conference which will be held at the Blackfriars Institute of Dramatic Arts, the Catholic University of America, Saturday and Sunday, August 7 and 8.

Designed to complete the work of organizing the Catholic Theater Conference initiated at sessions held in Chicago in June, the convention here will bring together playwrights, actors and actresses, stage managers, and other dramatists active in the field of Catholic drama in schools, colleges, universities and Little Theater groups. The adoption of a Constitution and election of permanent officers will be the principal business of the convention although the Convention Committee under the chairmanship of the Rev. Mr. Lawrence G. O'Connell of the Blackfriars Guild, has assembled a program which will include addresses, dramatic entertainment and theatrical exhibits.

Lavery to Preside
Emmet Lavery, noted Catholic playwright and author of "The First Legion" who prompted the Catholic Theater Conference and is at present its Chairman, will preside at the Washington sessions.

The sessions which will take place in the Blackfriars Theater at the university, will open on Saturday morning, August 7, with a grand session at which the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Joseph M. Corrigan, Rector of the Catholic University will welcome the delegates and the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Fulton J. Sheen, Professor of History at the Catholic University, will give the keynote address.

Other speakers at the first general session will be Sister Jean Marie, O.S.P. of the Yale School of Drama, and Dr. Anton Lang, Jr., Professor of Dramatic Literature at the University of Wisconsin, who will deliver a message of interest.

Banquet is Planned
Following committee and sectional meetings in the early afternoon, the second general session will be held on Sunday, August 8, at the university. The program for that session will consist of brief addresses and presentations of reports of committees. Those who will address that session are Sister Mary Peter, O.F.M., of Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.; the Rev. Fr. S. Stinner, S.J., of the Loyola Community Theater, Chicago; Vice-Chairman of the Theater Conference and Miss Agnes G. Ryan, Executive Secretary of the National Council of Catholic Women.

That evening the Conference banquet will be held in the dining hall of the university. The Rev. Dr. John H. Mahoney, Director of the Catholic Literary Theater in New York City and Vice-Chairman of the Catholic Theater Conference will be toastmaster. Speakers at the banquet will be The Rev. Frank X. Talbot, S.J., Editor-in-Chief of America; the Rev. Dr. O'Connell, O.P., Director of the Blackfriars Institute of Dramatic Arts; the Rev. Maurice Kanselster, C.F., of Georgetown University; Mrs. Josephine Callahan, of North Carolina; and Norman Griffin of the Catholic Historical Society.

Four Walls Offer Shelter

A summer cottage is the only structure that permits the owner to "put away" and finish its construction at his leisure or at his possible period.

The four walls for one summer offer him the essential shelter before he moves in.

However, if he provides a modernistic oil heater and utilizes the designed fire place the cottage can be used from May almost to November. This depends, too, upon the type of insulation installed.

A study of the floor plan of this Southern cottage reveals an ideal arrangement of the large rooms with a well placed bath, plenty of closets and numerous doors and windows which are particularly attractive features of the living room.

If you wish the cottage can be built with a basement beneath it. You can then install any heating system you wish. The portion over the driveway also gives the children a play place if the sun is too warm to permit their romping around on the beach.

Noted Skaters Billed For Park

The Four Skating Stars, featuring Earl Jack and Betty, will be presented at the free attraction of Roseland Park, Canandaigua Lake, from August 2 to August 9.

They will appear in a series of roller skating sequences which they call "rollerplay".

Coming from long-time engagements in Broadway night clubs, the Four Skating Stars will feature wild spins, whirls and acrobatic and stunts which have made them the "talk of the town" in the summer past of their respective cities.
