IS ONE WOMAN TO ANOTHER

Forecasts of Fashion

The Belle of Fall and Winter, 1937, will be a sophisticated version of the Belle of the Gay Nineties. Peaches and cream complexions are due for a revival. Delicately schooled profiles are in vogue again. The luxurious elegance, femininity and allure of pre-War days are back together with clothes reminiscent of Boldini, Lillian Russell, the Florodora Sextet. And boyishness, prosaic plainness in beauty or clothes are out.

That's the Fall and Winter beauty decree issued in New York by Helena Rubinstein, internationally recognized director of beauty fashions for women. The smart woman, on this beauty authority, must exchange her dull, summer-tanned tint for one of gleaming "platinum" talcum. She must remold her profile and contour to delicate, young, clear-cut lines. She must gather her hair up at the forehead as if to form an 1890 pompadour, but instead let it fall suddenly into sophisticated modern ringlets in a new coiffure. And she must paint her lips and cheeks in deep, vibrant blue-red — coloring her eyes in luminous blue shadows, if she is to be in fashion this season.

526 Columbus Civic Center

This coming week brings us our new shepherd, Bishop James E. Kearney. We are counting on all our organizations sending large delegations to attend the civic reception to be given our new Bishop on his arrival Wednesday, November 10, at 6:22 p. m. It will be held indoors at the New York Central station, to avoid inclement weather.

While only a limited number may attend the installation ceremony next day at the Sacred Heart pro-Cathedral, thousands will be able to follow every step of the ceremonies, thanks to radio.

Bishop To Offer Mass

We kept for this week's publicity the news that Bishop Kearney has graciously proposed to offer the Mass of the Holy Ghost to open our Seventh Diocesan Convention on Monday, November 15. The Mass will be at 9 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, South Street.

We are asking our women to make a special effort to attend the Mass, the most important event of the Convention.

Convention sessions will be held in the Red Room of Hotel Seneca.

Registration of delegates will start at 10 a. m. Monday.

The morning session will begin at 10:30.

Minutes of the last Convention and of the Board of Directors' Meeting in Ithaca in July will be read, committees announced and officers' reports given.

Luncheon Plans Made

At 12:30 Rev. Joseph Vogt, Director of Social Action in the Rochester Diocese, will tell us of present Catholic settlement work in Rochester.

Our Most Reverend Bishop

SODALTALK

By MARGARET WORTHINGTON

There is plenty of action in Holy Apostles' Sodality this season. Through the efforts of the Mission Committee, the Sodalists have "adopted" a missionary in North Carolina.

On October 19, Father Leo C. Mooney spoke on the missions at the monthly Sodality meeting. After the business meeting, a costume party was held under the direction of Jean Hemmer, Social Committee Chairman. Olga Wachter, Frances Chambers and Althea Wadsworth won prizes for the best costumes. The "little sisters" of the Sodalists entertained with a song and dance program.

About sixty of their number recently attended a hayride conducted by the Sodality, and supped later at Cutaia's. Miss Pauline Boerchlein was chairman of the affair.

St. Bridget's Sodality is undertaking the editing of a Sodality paper with Miss Lombardi, newly elected chairman of the Mission Committee as the editor-in-chief.

SODALTALK would be delighted to hear more about your Sodality papers and perhaps receive a copy. Have you joined an Exchange group?

Sacred Heart Sodality announces the beginning of committee work. The following Sodalists will head the respective groups this year:

Eucharistic, Our Lady's and Apostolic Committee, Rita Trost. Mission Committee, Lois Conheady. Social and Dramatic Committees, Frances Wilbur; Catholic Committee, Rosemary Keating.

One week of November is almost gone. Do you remember the Poor Souls in some way every day.

James E. Kearney will be our guest at the Deanery Presidents' Luncheon at 12:15. This will be in the Palm Lounge of the Seneca.

At the afternoon session following, we will have a message from Rev. John M. Duffy, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools, telling us how we can best help in the cause of Religious Education.

This will be followed by brief reports from our Deanery Presidents and from our Diocesan Chairman of National Committees.

An interesting talk by a Missionary on Work in the Missions will be given at 4:30.

To Attend Play

The evening is left free, to give all an opportunity to attend the dramatic production "The Royal Family," to be given at the Gregory Street Playhouse, under the auspices of Nazareth College Alumnae, one of our affiliated organizations.

Our program for Tuesday will begin at 8 o'clock with a Mass at St. Joseph's Church, Franklin Street, for all our members, living and deceased.

The morning's session at 9 o'clock will be devoted to reports and the election of Directors to represent Parent-Teacher Associations, Catholic Women's Union, Daughters of Isabella, St. Vincent de Paul Societies, L.C.B.A. and Women's Lithuanian Societies, and of delegates at large from the Corning and Elmira deaneries and the Ithaca District. These are to hold office for three years.

Each year sees the election of representatives of some of the type organizations and of delegates at large. Each deanery is entitled to one of the latter on the Board of Directors.

At 11:30 we are hoping for a talk by former County Judge Philip H. Donnelly on Godless Communism.

The women from the Rochester Diocese who attended the Seventeenth National Convention of the N.C.C.W. held in Washington last month will give brief reports at the luncheon in the Palm Lounge.

It is also hoped that Miss Mary G. Hawks, former National President of the N.C.C.W., will address us.

At the short afternoon session, the report of the Elections Committee and of the Committee on Resolutions will be presented.

The Convention will close with the Te Deum.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors following immediately after the close of the Convention the Directors will elect the diocesan officers for the coming year.

We welcome the attendance to any or all of the Convention sessions of anyone who is interested in Catholic activities.

MEMO: Price of luncheon tickets 85 cents. Limit for luncheons 150.

Reservations for Monday's luncheon must be in Rochester by Friday morning.

Reservations for Tuesday's luncheon taken up to noon on Monday.

Tickets for "A Royal Family" are fifty and seventy-five cents. A section will be reserved for N.C.C.W.

Write or telephone reservations to Mrs. Agnes Bothwick, executive secretary, Rochester Diocesan Council, N.C.C.W., 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, telephone Stone 1492. Office hours 9:30 to 1 p. m.

Try to be with us and urge your friends to come.
