Jesus and His Heart

June, the month of roses, is dedicated to the heart of Jesus. Nothing could be more fitting. His own heart is like a flaming red rose, glowing with love for us. The Saviour Himself from time to time chose a herald for the propagation of this cult of His heart, such as St. Gertrude, St. Hildegard, and especially St. Margaret Mary Alacoque, until at last the worship of His heart as the symbol of His love became one of the most favored devotions of the Christian people. The twelve promises made known to the Christian world by St. Margaret Mary are so full of attraction that all who hear of them should be moved to heed them. There are promises to priests, to sinners, to sufferers, to the dying. He promised to bless every place where the picture of His heart is set up and honored, and that all who receive Holy Communion on nine consecutive first Fridays would not die in sin. The heart of Jesus is indeed divinely merciful.
