Tells Children the Value Of School Banking Plan

By MARGARET J. BAUGH
Director, Income Management Bureau, Monroe County Savings Bank
"Good morning, children. It is fine to see you in the bank. What can we do for you? You wish to get a new bank book? Come right over here to the School Banking window and give your duplicate banking slips to Miss McCabe who will exchange them for a book. We are proud that you have been able to save at St. Thomas' school. And what do you two children want? To talk to me about something serious? I am sure you let us sit down at my desk for a few minutes in order that we may settle these questions properly. You say you are from St. Michael's school where you heard me tell the children about saving and giving, and saying your parents show that you have been saving carefully and we are much pleased with your success. Grandfather is right. Your grandfather says it is fine to have the money in the bank where it will draw interest. He is right again. What do you want to do with it? I can see that you have a real reason for your wish to withdraw some of the money which you have saved yourself. You wish to surprise mother and father with the gift of a ton of coal for Christmas? Each one to pay half. Father and mother certainly could appreciate that present in your boy's bank savings are not so good as they used to be. I am sure that if you will explain your idea to your grandfather that he will agree with us and 'feel that' it is proper to use your money for just a practical present to your parents. Come in again after you have talked with him and we will attend to your business for you. They did emphasize that."
