THE PEACE OF CHRISTMAS

World peace will, armed conflict, be the result of the peace of Christmas.

With full confidence in the efficacy of the prayer of the Feast of Christmas, we believe that the peace of Christmas will bring peace to the world.

A SENSATIONAL STORY

American people will not become aroused by Communist invasion of the colleges.

At the University of Kansas, the Communist Party is active in the peace movement.

Library Signpost

There are three ways of passing through this holy season. One way is to read the Bible and all those books which stand for the faith.

Two days later Mr. Henry declared that evidence of communistic influences has piled up as the family proceeded with a minute examination of the boy's effects.

Believe it or not, there was once a time and cry to abolish Christmas.

To which interesting seasonal items I append the following strange bit from the 17th century.

LEARNING THE LESSON

A few well-chosen words of apology were followed by an excellent program on the Chase and Sanborn hour.

RELIGION AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Rip Van Winkles of secular education are waking up. Indications are clear-cut that the Protestant ministers are beginning to realize that the public school system of America is the mother of religious morose.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

Catholic Facts But Little Known

By M. J. MURRAY

Under the 'Intendant' heading in the December 20th issue of SOCIAL JUSTICE, national weekly led by Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, editorial counsellor of the review, writes the following:

A Word From Father Coughlin

With co-operation both from old readers and from new readers from the editorial staff and the printer from the left and the right from Catholic and from Protestant all of whom are not only with Pope XI but with his doctrine, SOULS ARE BEING SAVED.

It is difficult at best to operate a weekly newspaper of this sort with advertising support. It is almost impossible to operate one without advertising, except in a loss.

It would be foolish to attempt to interpret Pope XI and his writings unless one had been schooled in them. It would be ridiculous for any person to impose his personal ideas of social justice upon his readers unless they were in harmony with the teaching of the official Church and its infallible Pope XI.

Following my withdrawal from the Social Justice Publishing Corporation, it became evident that the editorial staff would wander from its original path.

In a spirit of loyalty and of devotion to the cause of the Church, I have written a message emphasizing the spirit of peace.

CHRIST COMES

And in a shiny window but for an instant they are ready to see the King of Kings.

Now just in time for the old and young to see Him from the top of the tree.

From the morning of your eyes to the evening of your eyes, the Christmas season is a time of joy and peace.

It comes in time to be a Christ message in the members of the Catholic Central Council of America, and National Catholic Women's Union.

With full confidence in the efficacy of the prayer of the Feast of Christmas, we believe that the peace of Christmas will bring peace to the world.
