Bill's Answer

NEWS ITEM LAST WEEK REPORTED THAT PRIMARY SCHOOL TEACHERS TOLD CHILDREN IN THEIR CLASSES THERE IS NO SANTA CLAUS. THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS ADDED THAT ST. NICK IS NO PART OF THE SCHOOL CURRICULUM. THE STATE OF THE STATEMENTS IS IN THE EAR WEST, BUT EVERY SECTION OF THE COUNTRY HAS BEEN HEARD FROM IN EARNEST PROTESTS AGAINST THEM. HERE IS WHAT ONE OF OUR CORRESPONDENTS HAS TO SAY ABOUT THE MATTER.

You say there ain't no Santa Claus
Who goes round Christmas night
And leaves the presents for the kids
When they're all tucked in tight.
I stayed awake last Christmas Eve—
Guess I know what I feel
You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
Then, who the deuce was he?

You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
Last year I sent a note
And told him "Bring a pair of sties,
A football and a boat."
That good old man came Christmas night
And left them there for me.
You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
Then, who the deuce was he?

You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
I saw him in our school
Why, even Sister shook his hand.
And she's no crutch to fool.
He gave the kids all candy.
He gave a box to me.
You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
Then, who the deuce was he?

You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
One year my Dad was sick.
He couldn't go to work for months.
He limped round with a stick.
And Mother said she was to broke
She couldn't buy a tree.
But some one left one Christmas night—
Then, who the deuce was he?

He filled it up with candy.
Like Mother used to get.
I got a box of building blocks.
Six got a painting set.
A new dress and a funny doll.
All dressed up like a tube.
You say there ain't no Santa Claus—
You got a big ignorant boob!
