Irene Wicker, The Singing Lady, has won so many awards that it is becoming a habit. Since the first of the year she has received four awards. Her program was judged best in the juvenile field by a poll of radio editors conducted by the New York World-Telegram and the Herald Tribune. For outstanding service to children she was presented a plaque by Parents Magazine, Advertising and Selling presented her program an award for its contribution to advertising in radio.
 Miss Wicker even wins prizes when she's not on the air. At the Rainbow Room atop the FICA Building in Radio City, dance judges recently awarded Irene and her partner first prize in a waiting contest. The Singing Lady is a writer and she acts her own continuity.
 When Secretary Cordell Hull declared the Foreign Policy of the United States of March 17, he made it a world declaration. The address, "Our Foreign Policy," was broadcast throughout the world in five languages over the short-wave facilities of the National Broadcasting Company and associated stations simultaneously with the broadcast throughout America over NBC and Germany. The Secretary's declaration was also broadcast in French, German, Portuguese and Spanish.
 WHAM's Esso News schedule is a four time a day proposition with copy supplied by United Press. During the day news of importance is presented in bulletin form during the interval of October 11 to March 21. WHAM presented 255 bulletins during the past year on the Pacific coast with his human interest stories of "people, places and things."
 Also featured each Tuesday and Thursday at 12:15 P. M. with Sawyer is Miss Ruth Jordan, well known Hollywood beauty expert.
 During the new series, Sawyer will discuss topics of timely interest presenting little known facts about important events and people in the news. His program during the past year on the Pacific coast with his human interest stories of "people, places and things" has gained widespread popularity. His program is a fact and research feature. Proof of his popularity is shown by his many fan letters and more conclusively by the fact that his "Sweetheart Toilet Soap" has shown a three hundred percent increase in sales since the series began on the Pacific Coast.
 Horace Heidt boasts one of America's really "all-American" bands. His Alcoholic Brigades come from twelve different states and Alaska.
 Here are a few facts about Jim Aronche, star of Campagna's Grand Hotel. Of course he is a brother of the well known Don Aronche. He was born in Kansas, Okla. Wis. in 1915. Passed an NBC audition a few months after winning high school oratory contest. He is five feet eight and one-half inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has dark brown hair and brown eyes. Likes to drive with new cars in automobile shows.

With winter hardly over radio stars and radio sponsors are planning on vacations. "What Would You Have Done?" novel West coast sustaining feature which has become a hit show during the past winter, has been signed to replace Jack Herby when the "seven delicious flavors" comedian takes his usual thirteen week summer vacation.
 Arturo Toscanini has completed his first series of concerts for NBC. During his brief stay he established many grand ideas and presented a superb series of concerts. Among other things, Toscanini left a legacy to NBC Symphony Orchestra, guest soloists, the only clockless studio in Radio City. The clock itself never bothered Toscanini but his studio audience, familiar with the split-second timing of radio, watched the clock hands revolve 10:20 then as the red hand rose 101 minute after minute and nothing happened, became uncomfortable. He tense. Though they could not hear him, the announcer during these minutes was describing the coming program. Within the studio, audience anxiety and the deathly hush that accompanied it, reacted sharply on the Maestro. After the second Toscanini concert, NBC program officials ordered the clock face covered every Saturday night.
 If you're a sporting fan, try this program. Thirty scheduled rounds of boxing—the fifteen round Fred Apostoli-Glenn Lee fight at Madison Square Garden in New York and the fifteen round world's heavy weight championship bout between Joe Louis and Harry Thomas at the Chicago Stadium—will be described blow-by-blow from the respective ring-sides in an unprecedented radio boxing broadcast. This exciting exclusively by the National Broadcasting Company on Friday, April 1. The program will be carried by WHAM.

FR. COUGHLIN ASKS DEFEAT OF BILL To Reorganize Executive Dept.

DETROIT (UPI)—An appeal to his listeners to "storm" their Senators "with thousands of telegrams" calling upon them to defeat the Reorganization Bill it had under consideration, was sounded by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower at Royal Oak, in his radio address Sunday.
 "It is too late to write letters," Father Coughlin said. "The immediate remedy of the danger insists that before tomorrow noon your telegram is in the hands of your Senator to stop the Reorganization Bill as Washington stopped George III and his encroachments against liberty."
 "If the Reorganization Bill now pending will be passed tomorrow," said Father Coughlin, "it will mean a continuation of spending more money for doles. It will mean the establishment of more government corporations. It will mean that the people's representatives have no voice in curtailing the wasteful expenditure of money in preventing the cancellations of debt owed our Government. It will mean that its none of the people's business how their tax monies are used. And finally, if the past five years are any criterion of the future, it will mean a perpetuation of an emergency."
 Father Coughlin directed attention to some of the 50 Government corporations which he said already have been established. These, he asserted, "are not the creations of Congress," but of the President under power to issue executive orders. He said the government would help denunciation upon any private corporation "for stooping" to some of the practices of some of the Government-created corporations.
 The bill was passed by the Senate, Monday.

FRANCO LABOR LAWS

 of its conservatism and ability, the family patrimony is recognized as inalienable.
 The greatest novelty of the Labor Law is its "national" sense. "National production constitutes an economic unity in the scope of the country," the Law states. "The head of an industry assumes direction for himself but is responsible before the State." It adds: "Profit, the just interest of capital having been taken into consideration, shall be applied with preference to the necessary reserves for the stability of the enterprise and for the perfecting of production and the betterment of the condition of the workers."
 All factors of economy shall be organized according to branches of production into "vertical syndicates." These syndicates are corporations "of public right and instruments of the State to realize its economic policy." To these syndicates shall correspond, therefore, the State functions in relation to workers and enterprises and all other problems of production in being put into practice they will be adjusted according to a Law on syndicates so that the existing associations may be incorporated into the new organization.
 To exercise justice the State will create the "Magistracy of Labor," that is judges and courts will be charged with administering the social or labor law with justice to all.
 Religion attaches the emotions and passions of the lofty of the State and thus purifies, chastens and consecrates them.

URGES PUBLIC SCHOOL BOOKS BE SCRUTINIZED FOR RED PROPAGANDA

BOSTON—Text books in the public schools must be carefully watched to prevent the spread of Communism, Governor Charles F. Hurley warned in an address at the annual Communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, East Boston.
 "The place to watch for Communism is in the American schools," Governor Hurley asserted. "The children in the schools simply pick up a text book to learn they do not read the name of the author."
 "In order to offset Communism and uphold the faith of our country," he maintained, "the Church, the schools and the people must work together."

Bishop To Give Illustrated Talk To K.C. on Savior

His Excellency, Bishop Kearney will give a stereopticon lecture on "The Life of Christ" for his fellow members of the Knights of Columbus Thursday evening, April 7, in the Columbus Civic Centre clubrooms of the knights.
 To illustrate the lecture covering the Passion and Death of the Savior, Bishop Kearney will use 150 beautiful slides.
 The lecture will be in connection with the regular Council meeting over which Grand Knight Leo F. Rombaut will preside.

Profanity Forbidden By Directors of CCC

BOSTON (UPI)—Members of the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New England district have been invited to leave the service if they find it impossible to refrain from the use of profanity, a communication issued by the education officer.
 "If you cannot get along without profanity," the bulletin reads, "you might as well call yourself a failure and leave the CCC."
 Religion attaches the emotions and passions of the lofty of the State and thus purifies, chastens and consecrates them.

Bishop At Corning Blesses New Organ, Addresses Knights

 Marche Funebre et Chant Sera phique, Guilmant.
 "The Knights of Columbus is not alone a religious organization, but is also a patriotic body pledged to the preservation of American ideals," Bishop Kearney said at the Founders' Week banquet. In other words, he said, elimination of belief and devotion to God has wrought havoc and unrest.
 "Powers of a true state come from God," Bishop Kearney said, "and when the head of a state denies the existence of God there can be no real government."
 "We have no quarrel with some Communist principles, there must be a certain amount of good in them to attract men, but we fight Communism because it denies the existence of God," Bishop Kearney said.
 "We are fighting to keep God in the place of the world's creator and made," the speaker asserted.
 Reviewing the Knights of Columbus history and accomplishments, Bishop Kearney averred that membership in the organization tends to make a man a better Christian.
 Compared with the life of the Church that goes back to the cradle of Christianity, the 66-year-old span of the Knights of Columbus is a short period, but the organization has been a vital agency in assisting the clergy with many projects, according to Bishop Kearney.
 Thomas E. Moran, third Grand Knight of Corning Council, speaking as a representative of charter members of the Council, told the assemblage that "the Council was organized 41 years ago—it has always been very well managed as a happy family.
