TENNIS ADOPTED As Major Sport At Aquinas

For the first time in a decade, Aquinas has completely endorsed representative tennis.

Since competition with various nearby high schools is definitely assured, team contenders began looking forward to some manner of early spring practice in anticipation of pulling one of the six or seven teams to be had on the tennis court.

An elimination tournament to begin immediately after Easter will decide the dominant players at Aquinas and the eight quarter finalists will battle for places on the team.

Under Father Feller's direction, tennis has been a successful sport for the season's first meeting.
