Passion Play Story Planned This Year

MUNICH (NC)—Preceding the next Passion Play of Oberammergau which is scheduled for 1940, the Catholic poet Leo Weismantel's Festspiel, which has for its subject the origin of the Passion Play as the consequence of a vow taken by the village population in 1633, when the bubonic pest was threatening will again be enacted this summer.

Virtually, all the players of the Passion Play will again participate, with the exception of unforgettable Anton Lang, who died recently.

SAYS AMERICAN LABOR RAPIDLY

Developing Class Consciousness

WASHINGTON, (NC)—"While the American labor movement has not as yet developed class consciousness such as has long since taken place in Europe the development of definite class consciousness is now beginning to manifest itself, due to lack of opportunity for the worker, and this development will continue to grow unless ameliorating social and economic adjustments take place within the next generation."

This opinion was expressed by Dr. Elizabeth Morrissy, Professor of Economics at the College of Notre Dame, Baltimore in her lecture Monday night at the second annual Institute on Industry, which is being held here this week at the National Catholic School of Social Service.

The Institute is being sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women. Thirty-five from Illinois, Ohio, New York, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Ontario have registered for the course.

The Institute is designed for women workers interested in industrial problems to stimulate their interest in economics and to develop leaders with Catholic training in labor problems. The students are regularly employed in work shops offices and factories.

Miss Agnes G. Regan, Executive Secretary of the N.C.C.W., welcomed them at the opening session. Miss Linna E. Bressette, of the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference and consultant of the N.C.C.W. Industrial Committee, who is in charge of the program and arrangements, urged the students to work diligently in obtaining an understanding of Catholic social teaching in relation to current problems, so that they might take their places among the leaders and make their influence felt in developing a Christian social order.

Church and 'Pay Check'

Social legislation, the Labor movement and wages are the three main subjects being studied. Other speakers Tuesday and Wednesday morning were Sister Vincent Ferrar, Professor of Economics at Rosary College, River Forest, Ill., and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis J. Haas, Dean of the School of Social Sciences at the Catholic University of America. Miss Elizabeth Christman, Executive Secretary of the National Women's Trade Union League and Dr. George Brown, Professor of Economics at the Catholic University.

In answer to the question "Is there no connection between living a Christian life and the size of the pay check?" Dr. Brown quoted Pope Pius XI who said: "The truth entrusted to us by God and our weighty office of interpreting and urging in season and out the entire moral law demand that both social and economic questions be brought within our supreme jurisdiction, insofar as they refer to moral issues."

"There are many Catholics," Dr. Brown said, "who are not fully convinced as yet that the Church should become involved in such worldly questions as hours and wages of workingmen. They are not fully aware of the problem of raising a family on $25 a week or less, nor do they care to be concerned. They are not interested in the fact that young girls and boys are asked to live decently on a wage of less than $10. Fortunately the Church is better informed than some of its members as to actual conditions. Guided by the principles of true Christianity the Church is attempting to restore justice."

CLEAN READING LEAGUE PLANS DOUBLE PROGRAM

LOS ANGELES (NC)—A two-fold program is embraced by the activities of the League for Clean Reading in high schools and colleges here.

The League organized in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles by the Sodality of Our Lady seeks, to raise the literary standard of the students by a critical analysis of the modern magazines on the newsstands, and also distributes to students a pledge card on which they promise to abstain from reading objectionable literature and to withhold patronage from places where such reading matter is sold.

To him who remembers that he has deserved hell, all suffering seems right.

135 Laymen at Retreat

With 135 men from all parts of the diocese present, the first of two laymen's retreats for this year was brought to a successful conclusion on Monday morning at St. Bernard's Seminary.

His Excellency, Bishop Kearney praised the men for their devotion and zeal following the closing Mass Monday celebrated by the Rev. Albert A. Murray of the Paulist Fathers, New York, retreat master. The attendance showed a marked increase over last year.

The exercises opening Friday evening were conducted by Father Murray well-known in this diocese for having given a number of missions and retreats here.

In his opening remarks, Father Murray said to the retreatants:

"The basic trouble with so many of us is not so much that we are vile and miserable sinners. We do not normally lie, steal or commit other serious sin. The trouble lies in that in our rush and concern for material things we are apt to lose our sense of proportionate values. We forget to put first things first. Only as we enter into Retreat and take time out to adjust ourselves, do we learn to 'seek first the Kingdom of God'."

At a business session held on Sunday, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles F. Shay, moderator of the Laymen's Retreat League, urged as many as possible to attend the eighth national conference of the Laymen's Retreat Movement at Niagara University on July 29 to 31.

The business session was presided over by President William G. Wynn. Announcement was made that officers of the League will be elected at the next retreat to be conducted at the Seminary beginning August 19.

Reservations for the next retreat can be made with Secretary Walter T. Simpson, 70 Kirkland Road, Rochester, N. Y.
