Dr. Boland Urges Employers To Unite for Bargaining

To bring about the social order desired on all sides there should be employers' councils formed to bargain collectively with the labor unions, as advocated in the great Papal Encyclical.

This was the message left with a capacity congregation in Sacred Heart Cathedral, by the Rev. John P. Boland, Ph. D., chairman of the State Labor-Relations Board at the special Pontifical Mass marking Labor Day.

Celebrating this Mass was the Most Rev. James M. Komarney, Bishop of Rochester who met the Cardinal Hayes "as one of the noblest characters who ever wore the garments of a priest." The congregation stood while the choir

Anniversary dinners and celebrations are very much in order this time of year.

Two prominent Catholic organizations are being feted this month in honor of their long and profitable periods of existence.

Ladies' Auxiliary No. 43
St. Eustace Ladies' Auxiliary No. 43, Knights of St. John, will celebrate their 40th anniversary by holding a dinner at the Tuna Yacht, Thursday evening, September 15, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Ann Brundage, general chairman, has announced that the dinner will be followed by entertainment and dancing, and that the Brother Knights have been invited to attend the affair.

The anniversary celebration of Auxiliary No. 43, which having been organized July 12, 1898, was the first auxiliary affiliated with the Knights of St. John in Rochester will close Sunday, September 18, as members of the group receive the Communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock Mass.

Ladies' Auxiliary No. 44
Plans are being completed for the 40th anniversary dinner of St. Peter and Paul's Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 44, Knights of St. John.

The dinner is to be served on Wednesday, September 14, at 8:00 o'clock in the Palm Lounge, Hotel Seneca.

Mrs. Theresa Genter is honorary chairman of the affair and Mrs. Georgiana Wisniewski is general chairman. Other officers of the organization are acting as chairmen for the various committees.

Holy Father Retires
Definition of Catholic Action

Speaking recently to a group of pilgrims whom he received in audience, His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, took occasion to repeat and re-emphasize his original definition and explanation of the status of Catholic Action in the following words:

"Catholic Action must be the participation of the laity in the Apostolate of the Hierarchy of the Church, and therefore it is necessary above all that it be marked by discipline, obedience, faithful concord and the cooperation of all forces and energies for one tendency or the other but not for the enlargement of the Kingdom of Christ and the Hierarchy of the Apostolate."

The young women of the diocese who have recently been attending the schools of Catholic Action in Boston and Washington have returned full of enthusiasm. This gives great promise for the future of Catholic diocesan activities.

Mrs. Edward J. Lucas, N. C. W. Diocesan Chairman of Ways and Means, is making plans for the annual Sustaining Membership Campaign.

Look for further details in next week's CATHOLIC COURIER.

Next month the Diocese of Natchez, entertaining the 18th Annual National Convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, October 22-26, will have the distinction of sharing the spotlight of our national Catholic life with the Archdiocese of New Orleans, host to the 18th National Eucharistic Congress, October 18-20.

The Convention will gather in the quaint, historic seashore city of Biloxi, Mississippi.

The story of the Church in Mississippi like that of many of the older dioceses in our country, is an interesting and romantic one. Its story brings pictures of Spanish cavaliers exploring the unknown forests searching for gold. They were accompanied by priests who sought to convert souls to Christ—brave French missionaries who, leaving the comforts of civilization, established themselves among the savage Indians that they might bring the light of faith to these children of the forest.

With them also came, sturdy French and Canadian pioneers who braved the uncertainties of a strange, unexplored land that they might establish colonies to shed light on the imperial crown of France. Later, bishops and other priests came to struggle in poverty against a climate that would have demoralized and discouraged less brave and zealous souls.

Catholic Scholar Gets Oxford U. Ph. D.

BASKATOON, SASK. (N. C.)—Francis Leidy, of the University of Saskatchewan faculty and member of one of Saskatchewan's most respected Catholic families, has been awarded the degree, Doctor of Philosophy, in classic, by Oxford University. He is believed to be the first Rhodes Scholar to have been awarded this doctorate.

He was graduated from Oxford in 1936 with a Bachelor of Letters, after a course in which he merited several scholarships. His doctorate is the result of post-graduate work. He took his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Saskatchewan with honors in French and Latin. He later attended Chicago University and was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship.

St. Sulpice Order Founds New Canada Novitiate

MONTREAL—(N. C.)—Following the canonical visit of the Very Rev. Pierre Boisard, Vice-Superior General of the Congregation of St. Sulpice, it was decided to set up a novitiate for the Order here.

Hitherto members have gone to Issy, France, for their year of novitiate which is similar to the novitiate of other Orders. During that time they devote themselves to spiritual exercises. The Rev. Paul Emile Leger, P.S.S., first Superior of the novitiate at Fukuroka, Japan, will return to Canada as the first Superior of the novitiate here which will be established at the Seminary of Philosophy. Ten priests will follow the spiritual exercises there this year.

ELMIRA HOSPITAL CLASS OF 27 Begin Year's Training Course

ELMIRA—Twenty-seven young women, including seven Elmira natives, are beginning their training course at St. Joseph's Hospital School for Nurses on Wednesday of last week.

The school's 1938-1939 year was officially opened on last Friday when the Rev. Francis G. Walker, hospital chaplain, celebrated Mass in the chapel of the Dunn Memorial Building. New nurses and the entire student body attended.

Added to Faculty

Sister M. Leona, superintendent of nurses announced that a new member was joining the faculty this year. She is Miss Mary Haller, member of the class of 1937, who will act as social director and instructor. She succeeds Miss Ruth Macie who left for Syracuse to reside.

Miss Haller also studied at Cornell University and Nazareth College, Rochester.

Other members of the school faculty are Sister Louis Bertrand and Sister M. Liguori.

The incoming class was welcomed by the nurse and members of the Junior class who will be their "big sisters."

Freshmen Entertained

Miss Elizabeth Madigan of this city, Junior president, has seen to it that every new nurse is made to feel at home. Under her direction an elaborate program was carried out for the freshmen.

The Juniors entertained their "little sisters" at a get-acquainted party in the hospital recreation room on the ninth for Games, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed. Friday evening the new nurses were guests of the Junior Class at a theater party.

A party is planned for Saturday, September 10 in the Dunn Memorial lounge in honor of the incoming class.

Regular schedule of classes began on Tuesday, the end of two-month preliminary period, those who have shown satisfactory progress with their class work, will be formally admitted to the nursing school at capping exercises on February 1.

Members of the new class are: The Misses Mary Louis Ebrugh, Anna Doyle, Kathryn Shearer, Honnell, Doris Dunbar, Wilbur, Frances Fischer, Marion Hennessey, Geneva; Bernadette Glass, Port Allegany, Pa.; Elizabeth Higgins, Wilkes-Barre; Doris McKinney, Elmira; Corning, Maria and Mary Nickerson, two sisters, Jersey Shore, Pa.; Mildred Saxton, Canistota; Pauline Shannon, Canandigua; Rita Shultz, Prattsville; Mary Vargo, Horseheads; and Agnes Walsh, Auburn.
