CARDINAL HINSLEY TELLS RESULT

Of Interview Over Book 'Voltaire'

LONDON (NC) — Communications which have appeared in the secular press as a result of premature publication of news concerning the Holy Office and Alfred Noyes in the matter of his book "Voltaire" have brought a letter from His Eminence Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, Archbishop of Westminster, to The Universe, local Catholic newspaper.

After the premature publications had appeared, Cardinal Hinsley addressed a brief letter to The Times, pointing out that there had been no condemnation of the book but merely a question of some amendments, which would be the subject of discussion later between the author and himself.

Common Sense Principle

—Telling of the subsequent interview in his communication to The Universe, the Cardinal said:

"In the interview with Mr. Noyes the Cardinal stated that the authority of the Holy Office must be upheld. This, of course, could and would be done with perfect justice and fairness to the author. The Cardinal remarked that the rule of censorship was after all a common sense principle, because in regard to any society—e. g., the Law Society or the Automobile Society—if or when any member published matter contrary to the aims or rules of the society he would be called to order. The Cardinal then declared that the Holy See required that the book be submitted to a Westminster Board of Censorship. This Mr. Noyes accepted gladly, and stated that throughout he had expressed his willingness to make any corrections of errors that might be pointed out by the legitimate authorities.

"The Cardinal said that he had already chosen three commissioners for the examination."

Needs Explanation

—At this point, the Cardinal's statement said, the author announced that the book had been taken out of the hands of the original publishers and transferred to a "neutral" publishing firm. The Cardinal pointed out that this action might be misunderstood by the Holy Office as a challenge on its authority, unless explanation were made.

As far as he could see, the Cardinal advised Mr. Noyes, there was not much in the book against faith and morals, though some sentences he had read in it would surely require rewriting.

"As to historical matter," the Cardinal's statement said, "the complex nature of Voltaire had been exaggerated on one side, and the Bishops and clergy of the France of the period had been unduly blackened."

The Cardinal's statement concluded with the information that Mr. Noyes had left him under the impression that the author agreed about this two-fold exaggeration and intended to state as much in the new issue of the book. The interview closed, the statement said, what the Cardinal saying he was speaking not so much as an official but as a friend who wanted to help.

SPAIN Today and Tomorrow

Nationalists Fight To Repel Second Red Invasion Says U. S. Observer

By Rev. Dr. Joseph V. Thorning and John V. Hinkel

This is the eighth in a series of articles on the situation today, and the prospect, in Spain, by the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Thorning and John V. Hinkel, who have gone to that country to make a first-hand study of the religious, social and economic aspects of the Spanish conflict.

BURGOS, SPAIN—The Spanish Nationalists under Generalissimo Franco are fighting to defeat the second Bolshevist invasion of Europe and are virtually certain of final victory, Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, O.R.C., United States Army, told these correspondents in a recent interview here.

General Reilly a non-Catholic, has been in Nationalist Spain since March observing the military, political and economic phases of the Spanish civil war. He has had a wide experience, both as an officer in the American Army and as an observer of conflicts in Europe, Asia and in other parts of the world since 1901, when he was graduated from West Point. His opinions, therefore, carry a great deal of weight.

The conclusions of the writers, arrived at after careful first-hand investigation, that the Barcelona-Madrid-Valencia regime is controlled by Marxist elements, are corroborated by the General. These views have also been substantiated many times by foreign newspapermen with actual knowledge of the facts. It is necessary to reiterate them again and again, however, because of a steady barrage of radical propaganda denying that the Spanish Government is directed from Moscow.

Stopped First by Poles

The Bolshevists invaded Europe for the first time in 1919-1920, the General said, but were stopped by the Poles. Now they are engaged in their second European invasion with Spain as the battle ground, he added.

"I am confident that Generalissimo Franco's forces will succeed in defeating this present Red invasion, not only of their own country but of Europe as well," he said, "just as the soldiers of Marshal Pilsudski repulsed the Bolshevists on their first attempt, through Poland, eighteen years ago. Incidentally, I also witnessed this earlier conflict.

"From what I have seen of Nationalist Spain—its people, soldiers and resources—there seems to be no doubt that Generalissimo Franco will succeed in saving his country from Soviet domination."

General Reilly denounced Marxist propaganda in the United States that the Spanish Red Government is fighting for "democracy" and attempting to "save" the Spanish people from an iron-bound fascist dictatorship by Italy and Germany.

"The time I have spent in Spain convinces me," he said "that the people in Red Spain, whether the mass of them realize it or not, are fighting not for democracy but for Marxism. The Nationalists, on the other hand are fighting to save their country from following the footsteps of Russia."

Has Witnessed Attacks

The General has witnessed nearly a score of Nationalist attacks since he has been in Spain. He on the active fronts. In addition he has talked to a large number of Franco military men, from private soldiers to generals, and also has interviewed Leftist prisoners and deserters as well as civilians in territory captured by the Nationalist troops.

He believes that what the Nationalists offer the Spanish people from the point of view of the average Spaniard, is far superior to the program of the Reds. The Nationalist Government is doing everything possible to correct the abuses of the past, and to guarantee social justice for each man, woman and child he declared. For that reason, he added, a Nation-

LUTHER DID NOT COMPOSE HYMNS

Credited To Him Says Organist

PITTSBURGH (NC) — Martin Luther was not the composer of the famous choral Ein' feste Burg (A Mighty Fortress is Our God), or of any of the other hymn-tunes ascribed to him, declares Dr. Caspar P. Koch in a paper on "The Catholic Influence on Bach," delivered at the 1938 convention of the Catholic Organists Guild of Pittsburgh and publish currently in The Pittsburgh Catholic.

Dr Koch is a member of the faculty of Carnegie Institute of Technology, organist of Holy Trinity Church (Carmelite), here, and for many years has been engaged by the City of Pittsburgh to give the weekly free organ recitals in Carnegie Music Hall.

"Not a Single Hymn-Tune"

Although every hymnal containing Ein' feste Burg ascribes both words and music to Martin Luther it is a significant fact, Dr. Koch states, "that during Luther's lifetime not a single hymn-tune was attributed to him."

"Some ten years after his death Sleidanus Luther's first biographer, credited him with the authorship of both text and music of Ein' feste Burg," he says. By the end of that century no less than 137 hymn tunes were being attributed to him. But nineteenth century research has played havoc with those fairy tales.

"By the turn of the century the number had been reduced to three all others having been traced to other sources. And what is the score today? None at all. Some 50 years ago Bäumker, Catholic hymnologist had demonstrated in the 'Monatshefte fuer Musikgeschiete' that all the phrases of the melody were taken from Gregorian chant. That still left Luther with the credit of having cleverly strung together various Gregorian phrases into one homogeneous whole that, too, was not the end. Indebted to Dr. Wilhelm Middelschulte, Chicago organist of international reputation, himself a Lutheran, for the following information.

Found Line for Line

"The melody to Ein' feste Burg is found in a motet by Johann Walther, line for line, in 1524. Luther wrote his stanzas five years later, in 1529. The proof of this statement is found in an article by Bernhard Ziehn, famous theorist, in the "Allgemeine Musikzeitung" about 30 years ago. Ziehn quotes the melody from Walther's motet and compares it with the melody of Ein' feste Burg, and he concludes his article, 'this proves that A might fortress was not built by Luther.' Koenig's Deutsche Literaturgeschichte states the same thing.

Wilhelm Nelle, prominent Lutheran hymnologist finally acknowledges with philosophic complacency that 'not a single melody not even Ein' feste Burg, can with certainty be ascribed to Luther.'

Dr Koch points out that Johann Sebastian Bach was strongly influenced by the music of the Catholic liturgy and by the works of Catholic polyphonists and organist-composers, including Palestrina, Frescobaldi and Vivaldi. References to the great master as a Protestant or Lutheran church composer are inaccurate Dr Koch says.

FINAL TRIBUTE

Paid Fr. Moffett At St. Bridget's

A final tribute to the Rev Francis T Moffett, who died Wednesday of last week was paid in St Bridget's Church, Saturday morning where a Pontifical Mass of Requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Most Rev James E Kearney Bishop of Rochester.

Close to 100 priests were present to show their esteem for Father Moffett. Many of his old parishioners from Addison, Moravia and vicinity attended the funeral.

The sermon eulogizing the zealous, priestly career of Father Moffett was preached by the Rev Francis J Hoefen pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

Assisting the Bishop in the Mass were Assistant Priest, the Rt Rev Msgr William M Hart V.G.; Deacons of Honor, the Rev F William Stauder and the Rev George W Eckl; Deacon, the Rev Frank W Mason; Subdeacon, the Rev Adelbert Schneider. Master of Ceremonies the Rev Lawrence S Casey, Assistant Master of the Very Rev. Edward Lyons; Acolytes, the Rev Roy Haggerty and the Rev George Vogt; Candlebearer, the Rev Edward Hartmann; Censorbearer the Rev. Walter Carron; Mitre bearer, the Rev. Orrin Feller and bookbearer, the Rev. Jacob Rauber.

Interment was in the priests' plot at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Nazis Take Over Catholic Paper

SALZBURG. — The Salzburger Zeitung, successor to the Catholic daily Salzburger Chronik, has ceased to appear. It is to be succeeded, in turn, by the Salzburger Landeszeitung which is to be the official Nazi publication for the Salzburg district, and "indispensable to all citizens of good will who do not wish to be excluded from the popular community finally constituted."

State Counselor L. Steinwerder, editor-in-chief, and Karl Engl, editor, of the old Chronik were arrested on the night of the Anschluss. Two days later the Zeitung appeared with the announcement that it would serve the Nazi ideal "faithful to religious and moral principles as heretofore."
