The picture we have of the world human reason alone ruling us as if oday is a tragic one. Education has not conduced toward order. Science has added to thes accourrements of war. Industry least constant the Machine Age with its accom-panying unemployment. Art is lan-guishing because the spiritual mobonds in many countries.

Religion, with all its reverses, has had a directive and a construc-tive influence on civilization from the beginning of the world. Christianity has advanced civilization more than any other in stitutionence. Christanity marches along with the arts and science, lifting up mankind to its present state of enlightenment. The touc hatorse of Christianity's endeavors was embodied in the theologiam's state-ment: "Anima naturalities Christiana"..."The human soul is naturally Christian."

Hate for Love now demands restitution.

When this thing started several canturies ago, men began following false leaders who desired to overthrow Christianity, which, in their opinion, was outmoded. Hegel tried to explain the universe in natural terms Shelley postulated the superman, and made him like a beast in the jungle, surviving his conquered enermies. Other philosophers led humanity up blind streets, with the result that men are now in a haz: and do not know which way to turn. Following blind leaders, men left off following the Supreme Leader, who from the mornent of his birth went about doing good, preaching the law of love, and following the rule of fraternity.
