Holy Childhood Association Rev. John S. Emdick DIRECTOR

Here we are back again and this time with a great big report to make. It surely is a real encouragement to hear from you boys and girls and learn of your serious interest-to-goodness interest in the missions.

Now that we are in the midst of the month of November we should be prepared to follow the direction of Holy Mother the Church and pray for the souls departed. You must have either friends or relatives who have died during the past year.

Another thing of some importance began to happen last Friday afternoon I began to visit the schools. I started right when I left off last May, with St. Peter and Paul's, Rochester.

The pupils of our grade have saved their pennies with which they wish to ransom a Chinese boy to be named Damian Seventh Grade.

They have formed a Mission Club and members in the footsteps of the Missionaries. Every day they meet and plan some special for the Missionaries.

Here and now we wish to ransom a little Indian boy. We have decided to name him Paul Joseph after St. Paul, the patron of our Club.

AQUINAS MEETS OLD FOG IN ST. MARY'S C. B. A. Air Attack Overcomes Irish

After watching last Saturday's contest with C.B.A. of Syracuse, two facts seem to be outstanding. Aquinas has a great line as evidenced by the goal line stand in the third quarter when they held the favored C.B.A. team for four straight quarters within their own five yard line.

Second, the Syracuse boys were an alert outfit and knew how to capitalize on their own abilities. When their running attack was stopped by the outstanding punting of Dick Quinn and Bob Hoffmann they took to the air and hurled two touchdown passes.

Statistics show Aquinas had twice as many first downs as the Brothers and had an edge score, 20-14. In rushing until the Irish resorted to the air, the game had been close.

Which ever way the Settlers choose to play, they are capable of turning in scoring plays either through the air or on the ground. They have big, fast, hard-charging backs and a clever quarterback in Mahady.

The Saints from Rome scored on a blocked kick in the fourth quarter. Trafton broke through and poked up the ball to score the six points for St. Aloysius.

Machines, Jobs and Advertising

MACHINES have been in the deal of modernizing industry...

It is important that we know the truth about this, for without question machines have deeply affected all industry and have individual wage rates...

About the time of the American Civil War some industries began to change from neighborhood shops with hand labor to the modern factory system...

Now big open air window glass was manufactured through the long power of human plane blowers. Now it is all made by these long glass-making machines...

Shortly after the Civil War the amount of mechanical power used to operate machines in American industry was only 2 1/10 horse power for every wage earner...
