The Society for the Propagation of the Faith

Rev. John S. Randall, Director

They Hold the Key
It is the native priest who holds the key to missionary situations today. No matter how serious or lengthy the foreign missionary may be, he will hardly approach the native in understanding his people's mentality, language or habits as will the native priest trained by the missionaries. From the beginning, the missionary counts heavily on native catechists to enter into communication with the various tribes and villages to explain the reasons for his coming, to disarm those prejudices rampant in a people that looks with suspicion on everything foreign. If this is true of the catechists, how much more so of the native priests? His Holiness, Benedict XV, keenly aware of the importance of a native clergy, calls this work "the main care of those who rule missions, and it was by organizing a special Pontifical Society—that of St. Peter the Apostle—to gather funds for this salutary work. Pioneering is still being done in practically every part of the world, and thousands of missions to be Christianized, thousands of fields to be tilled, before they can be left to the labors of the native workers. The missionaries nobly aided by the generosity of the faithful, are daily making new spiritual conquests and in time native priests, expertly trained in their own seminaries and advanced in acceptance of all that can be assumed the government of their own diocese.

Therefore, the Society of St. Peter the Apostle appeals to you, spontaneous to cooperate with them to bring about this happy result. The contribution of a Scholarship, Purse or Annuity is a way of converting according to one's means, interest and sympathy. The Society will that includes the adoption or support of a native student will be a heaven-sent legacy to some struggling mission.

S. O. S. for Aspirin
The drug called aspirin is in great demand by missionaries and their people all over the world. A very prominent missionary on internal medicines, when asked the most universally useful drug, replied without a moment's hesitation, "Aspirin, because it serves so many purposes and if properly administered is harmless." To the missionary physician, and yet who is besieged by crowds of poor people, suffering from all sorts of pains and aches, an ample supply of aspirin is of immense aid. The Chinese regard the aspirin as the "wonder tablet" and have learned that whatever is the matter with their aspirin means to make them feel better.

A special fund called the "Aspirin Fund" has been set up by the Catholic Medical Mission Board for the purpose of purchasing aspirin for the missions. Owing to the huge quantities purchased a low price has been secured and those who donate $10.00 for the purchase of aspirin can be considered by thought that they have contributed more than 10,000 5 gr. tablets of aspirin to the needy missions. All are invited to send whatever contribution they can to the Divesan Mission Office, and we will see that your contribution is immediately forwarded to the Catholic Mission Board in New York City.

MISSION INTENTION: For Catholic Schools in Japan
The sons of Nippon are most anxious for education. The importance of Western education to progress has brought them face to face with the need of secular training. The Universities of our own country have accepted the enrollment of many Japanese students. Unfortunately, they imbibe the materialistic and often atheistic doctrines of our modern so-called seats of learning. They return to their native land imbued with these things and because they have been educated abroad, their statements are taken by others for gospel truth.

The Holy Father, seeing the loss of such a procedure to the Church of Japan, prays that Catholic schools may increase and help to affect the modernism that is gradually finding its way in amongst these people. We entreat your spiritual offering, then, for this intention.

DANSVILLE GIRLS FETE CORNING SOCIETY GROUP
DANSVILLE.—The children of Mary meeting was held Monday evening in St. Patrick's Hall, Marie Sprague, Chairman of the Committee in charge, was assisted by Bernadette Maloney, Elsie Kelly, Jean Maloney and Elizabeth Broderick.

A short business meeting was held to discuss plans for a Christmas project. At the conclusion of the necessary business, the members entertained for the first time a few members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary from St. Vincent's Church in Corning.

Father O'Brien, assistant pastor at St. Vincent's Church, accompanied the girls and spoke to members of both societies on the origin and meaning of the Sodality of the Children of Mary.

At the conclusion of the informal talk, Father O'Brien was urged to play the piano and organ, singing, on request, Miss O'Brien, President of the Corning Sodality, from "The Sweetest Song," from "Maytime" and "In the Still of the Night" from "Rosalee."

Before leaving, Father O'Brien extended an invitation to our members to visit them in the near future.

Text of American Bishops' Pastoral

Christian doctrine and Christian morality are under attack from several quarters, dangerous threats which a few years ago were but whispers in the secret convalescence of discontent are today preached from the house-tops, and are even finding their way into the action, private immorality and public subversion have in many places raised the banner of revolt against the Cross of Christ.

We, therefore, entreat all the faithful of every rank in life to unite in this Catholic crusade for better citizenship, which will bring to every individual wider opportunities for sound social education.

Through its own proper agencies, the Catholic University will put before the people its financial plea, which we earnestly endorse. We trust that all will respond generously to the appeal of the Holy Father and thus enable our University to render to our country the priceless service of a more enlightened and conscientious American citizenship.

During the Jubilee Year we entreat all committed to our pastoral care to join with us in making it possible for the Catholic University to render a great measure of service to education and to religion. We ask for the University from all the children of our schools, from the communities of our Sisterships and Brotherhoods, and from the faithful of a daily prayer, and from our priests a daily memento in Holy Mass.

May the Divine Teacher design to make our Catholic center of learning at Washington a providential exponent of the principles of a Christian social order which will command the allegiance of all right-thinking American citizens.

In his own name and in the name of the Bishops present at the Annual Meeting at Washington, 1938.

SODAL TALK

By Margaret Worthington

Plenty of pep was in evidence at St. Boniface Sodality November meeting. After a conference with Father Walsh and Benediction in Church, the meeting gave way to plans for Christmas baskets for the poor and a Christmas dance and party at the home of Mrs. Norman conducted by Professor Quix Contest with prizes for the winners.

And for ruggedness, St. Boniface's cash is best. Eight of the Sodality, Mrs. Mary Helen Hayes, Joyce Miller, Helen Curran, Mary Clare Hauser, Emmy Lou Miller, had a breakfast in Durand Eastman Park last Sunday morning after extending a check to Mrs. Hayes. Believe it or not, they had steaks and potatoes for breakfast.

St. Peter and Paul's Sodality will celebrate their December meeting on December 12, Dorothy Mulhearn and Nina O'Keefe are co-chairmen of the Christmas party which will take the form of a supper meeting. We hear there will be a Christmas tree, too.

Elizabeth Heidman was announced as winner of the Sodality Photo Contest at the November meeting. A silver Sodality medal was the award.

On Friday evening, November 25, the Sodality of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Sodality will sponsor a roller skating party at the Roller-Drome. All friends of the Sodality are cordially invited to attend. Tickets will be secured from the members of the Sodality.

LITTLE THREE CLUB Hears Bona Professor At Dinner Meeting
Approximately fifty members attended the dinner of the Little Three Club at the Brewster Grill last Thursday evening.

Rev. Clarence Ford, O.F.M., of the Department of Education at St. Bonaventure College, came to Rochester to address the Club.

The Little Three Club is composed of members from Niagara University, Canisius College and St. Bonaventure College. It was recently formed. The dinner was the official organization meeting.

The next meeting of the organization is scheduled for December 7 at the Brewster Grill, 8 o'clock. This has been designated as the regular meeting place of the club. Alumni of the three schools are invited to attend.

One of the objectives of the club is to send some deserving student to one of the three colleges. Another purpose of the club is to renew the spirit of friendly rivalry which has always existed among Little Three schools.

be adequately described. But the contribution made by the University to this system is not widely known outside educational circles. We, however, who are familiar with the University realize how effective have been its inspiration and work in building up Catholic education in the dioceses of our country.

Saying that, "through its own proper agencies, the Catholic University will put before the people its financial plea which we earnestly endorse," the Bishop added: "We trust that all will respond generously to the appeal of the Holy Father and thus enable our University to render to our country the priceless service of a more enlightened and vigorous Catholic citizenship."

"During the Jubilee Year we entreat all committed to our pastoral care to join with us in making it possible for the Catholic University to render a great measure of service to education and to religion. We ask for the University from all the children of our schools, from the communities of our Sisterships and Brotherhoods, and from the faithful of a daily prayer, and from our priests a daily memento in Holy Mass."

May the Divine Teacher design to make our Catholic center of learning at Washington a providential exponent of the principles of a Christian social order which will command the allegiance of all right-thinking American citizens."

Some comments on the Pastoral Letter were also made public here.

Cardinal Dougherty said: "Democracy is on trial in the world today. It is being attacked and endangered even in this country."

"The Pope instructs the University to devise a constructive program for the future. During the National Eucharistic Congress at New Orleans, despite the outraging of the eternal majesty of God in certain other countries, the Church, in pursuance to his instruction, presents a new plan of democracy to America."

Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit, Chairman of the Administrative Board of the National Catholic Eucharistic Congress, said: "Although this new plan is of Catholic origin and to be instituted in Catholic schools, I hope that it shall not be considered an exclusively Catholic program. In our form of government, the schools are teaching the subjects which are to be expanded and systematized here."

"Such studies are needed all through America today to arm and steady the minds of youth and to qualify the current influences which tend to undermine democracy in this country. If these deeper studies may be the guide of future years to the children of America, whom they are intended and through them reach and shape the portion of the total population, they will be performing a great service for the future of America and possibly for the world at large."

For Adults as Well
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph M. Corrigan, Rector of the University, said: "While these texts are primarily intended for the instruction of the young, it is reasonable to assume that the impressions imparted in the class room will be projected far beyond those walls to the consciousness of those in homes and to an unpredictable number of individuals normally unaffected by any educational program in any group or system of schools."

"What is proposed here is education in the fundamentals of freedom. As the pastoral letter puts it, His Holiness calls us to the defense of our democratic government, framed in a constitution that safeguards the inalienable rights of man. Freedom cannot be guarded and preserved unless citizens are equipped with the knowledge to fend off and beat down whatever attacks may be made regardless of their guise or the honeyed promises surrounding them, and whether they are made in the open or with insidious cunning."

Says Moisture Proof Powder is Beauty Aid
According to Helena Rubinstein, noted cosmetic authority, face powder has played the role of villain in the beauty drama all too often, robbing the skin of its vital moisture and freshness, leaving it dry and parched and prone to lines and coarse texture.

Nine out of ten of the modern woman's complexion ills may be attributed to moisture absorbing qualities of face powders, says Madame Rubinstein. Her answer to the problem is a series of new moisture-proof powders, perfected after years of experimentation and research—face powders designed to guard the precious moisture of your skin, to eliminate forever that tipped-in-the-scales effect that makes your skin grow more beautiful every day!

Her new Flower Petal Face Powder at $1.00 and her new Water Lily Face Powder at $1.50—like the luxurious, moisture-expanding moisture-proof Town and Country Face Powder—presented last spring—are put through ten seasonal new processes to make them impervious to moisture, both from without and within.
