An American Missionary Order

The Most Blessed Trinity was developed. In addition to schools and hospitals the Sisters conduct Catholic Charities Bureau in the dioceses of Philadelphia and Mobile. At the Catholic Children's Bureau in Philadelphia hundreds of children are annually received through the courts and other welfare organizations and placed in suitable boarding homes where they are supervised by visiting Sisters.

In Pennsylvania, Mobile, and Birmingham, each staffed with three or four Sisters, the work of the Bureau embraces most of the activities of welfare service with special emphasis on the preventive and religious phases of charity. Relief work takes the Sisters into the homes of the poor and destitute. Many missionary cases are referred to the University of the Sacred Heart where the Sisters follow up those whose spiritual destitution is great and thus many souls are helped and encouraged to return to the Church.

In 1922 a call came from Archbishop Curran who was at that time Bishop of the diocese of San Juan, Puerto Rico. He sought the Sisters for work there among the students of the University of Puerto Rico, students who though Catholic by birth and heritage were in danger of losing their faith because of lack of instruction combined with the false teaching and propaganda being presented there.

The beginning of beauty is a healthy body. Raw fruits and vegetables furnish a radiant skin. There are but a few of the best ideas sponsored by Helena Rubinstein in her new book just off the press called "Food for Beauty".

According to an announcement from the Bruce Publishing Company Milwaukee the 1939 Christian Life Calendar is off the press in a revised edition incorporating a number of improvements which will make it more valuable and popular than ever.

This season of Good-will

In this season of Good-will, our thoughts turn to the well-being of others. It is an appropriate time to plan comfort and happiness through the years to come for those we wish to protect.

The method is simple—a Trust arrangement, carrying out one's ideas efficiently, safeguarding the principal from careless handling and making every expressed desire in a trustworthy manner.

May we discuss with you and your attorney the establishment of Trust arrangements, enabling you to carry out your cherished wishes for relatives, friends and institutions?
