Family Questions Answered

By WINIFRED THOMAS

Several days ago we celebrated Christmas. Generally over 60 per cent of all women and girls receive a letter as one of their most valued annual gifts.

Dear Winifred Thomas: Over a year now we planned writing you. Tonight dad is helping us clean up all our messes to do jobs. Our mother used to smoke.

Dear Friends: Any worth while work this column ever turns out is nine-tenths due to inspirational letters.

Dear Winifred Thomas: For a long time now we have read your column, and it is most interesting.

Dear Friend: Glad you reprint your request. We are confident that many reader friends will rally to your aid.

Dear Winifred Thomas: How can one know if one has a "call" in conventional life? I'm 27, there's nothing ahead of me the way I live.

Dear Friend Confidence in our ability to succeed is a long step in the right direction. Our state of mind, facing our daily work, helps determine how well we shall do.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS LEADING FRANCE TO SOCIAL JUSTICE

Editor of French Paper

WASHINGTON. — You have equipped yourselves with a sound and thorough knowledge of Catholic social teaching.

Dear Friend: Children are obliged by the fourth commandment to obey and honor their parents.

This is to advise readers who write in disagreeing or slanting tone on any matter.

Dear Winifred Thomas: Answers to your call for address of St. Ann's Club.

Dear Winifred Thomas: Perhaps you could make use of these books by sending them to someone who may be helped by them.

Dear Friend: Thanks for booklet that we have retained to a young man in a Sanatorium.
