The storm has passed and a street departments and highway crows clear the roads and remov the white stuff that caused to much trouble, WHAM just schembers relax a bit take a deep breath and get ready for the next. Radio always ha arad ht us hope, always will be at the beck and call of its listeners in time of trouble. Although we of Western New York were reather forturnate in escaping the last blizzard, as far as loss of life was concerned. we can resadily understand what suffering resight have been caused were it not for the great miracle of Radio. Thous sands of calls were received at WHAM during the two-day storm. Requests for work, announce ments that schools would be closed, benefit parties and dances postponed, dogs lost, roads blocked and numerous other requests that were important to the caller. All of these calls were checked for authenticity and were put on special buffletin periods for news broadcasts. People isolated from the storm sares, except for their telephone and radio, were in constant Louch with what was going on. Jorinny Jones at the crossroads knew that the school bus would not come by tomorrow because the News Reporter had said that his District School was closed City children were informed that scillagok would or would not close. Lastest road conditions were sent out. state and local police hulleting were given arging people most to travel, to keep their cars off the street, to shove out the hyddramts in front of their becomes and a dozen other warnings that were for the benefit of the limiten-er. It was a busy time at WEIAM but there was no thought of that because it was only orne ( the many services that radio gives, to the public. Everyone was ready to help out. It was another job to do, and all tried to the best of his ability to reaske an example of what a good job well done should accomplish. So until the next of nature's pranks comes along we'll sit back and plan for more and better ways of serving the radio audience. While we are sitting back seeing that our daily programs go on, we feel that we are doing our share to make the world a better place in which to hve. It's a great mame this radio business, but one that grows and grows. May we always have it with us. Atfer that somewhat lengthy discourse let's turn to a zadio oddity before signing off. Here's one from Roy Shaelds, NBC conductor in Chicago: "You can probably credit 34 myElims with more proposals of marringge than any other tempo. The 44 rhythms are the ones that send
