EASTER FLOWERS

By MRS. HUMPHREY WATTS

It was a beautiful custom which I met the special Easter plants with the religious lives of the people

This association was often a poetic fancy emphasizing some peculiarity of form or striking characteristic

Another plant associated with Easter is the Pasque Flower which is a near relative of the familiar Wood Anemone

The most notable flower which springs to mind as one views the Easter scene is the hellebore

In Classical Legend the hellebore is the plant which grows in the garden of the underworld

REDEMPTORIST FATHERS PLAN TWO PILGRIMAGES

The Redemptorist Fathers announced completion of plans for two pilgrimages to Ste Anne de Beauraup

The first of the pilgrimages will leave New York on Saturday July 1

Chicago - A project in manual craftsmanship has been added to the Catholic Youth Organization program

Costumes At Masses Prove Universality Of Catholic Church

The universality of the Catholic Church will be strikingly illustrated by the great diversity of costumes worn in the churches throughout the world

While the people of the Americas and Europe will appear in their best attire

In Africa some converts will wear western habitations

The most notable feature of the costumes will be the variety of headgear

At the same time, the variety of vestments will be striking

Easter Morn at Vatican

By HELENA L. GILGAN

(Written for N.C.W.C. Easter Supplement)

Author's Note - These recollections were written down while he faced the dawn of Pope Pius XI, when the Holy Father was not yet engaged in prayer by the sacrifice of his life

Priest Writes Open Letter To 'Time'

Observations made on a recent article in 'Time' magazine are contained in the following open letter written by the Rev. G. Stuart Hogan

Editor 'Time' 330 E. 2nd St. Chicago, Ill.

In the March 27 edition of 'Time' under the caption 'Churchgoers Believe' pg. 32 you cite Prof. James Henry Leuba

While ostensibly Prof. Leuba's investigation of the religious beliefs of American Scientists was a scientific survey
