Milk For Babies

Tomorrow morning 30,000,000 bottles of milk will be placed on the doorsteps of American homes. The milk will be clean, pure, and safe from contamination. Special milk trains will serve the large cities, rushing the precious fluid at express speed direct from cow to consumers. In no other land do consumers enjoy such wonderful milk distribution systems as we have in this country. In Europe many children still dip milk from their cans into the open containers of householders.

[illegible] where her mother bought the family food, much of it scooped out of open bins and barrels, where it was exposed to dust and smells. The cat in the cracker barrel was no rarity tale in those days. But the flies really got first chance at everything. All this is changed now. Modern food stores are models of cleanliness. Their neatly arranged containers and shelves are lined with attractive packages, cans, and bottles of well-prepared foods.

Not only are these processed foods clean and attractive. They also save many weary hours of kitchen labor for every housewife. Perfectly baked bread wrapped in wax paper, fresh ground coffee in cans, ready-cooked breakfast cereals, instant pancake flour, canned fruits, and vegetables of every conceivable variety. A total of 125,000,000 cans of packaged and processed foods was produced in this country in 1935. A quart for every man, woman, and child.

'Veronica's Veil' Holds Strong Local Interest

CRUCIFIXION SCENE IN 'VERONICA'S VEIL'

Rochester's first opportunity to view America's Passion Play, "Veronica's Veil," comes Friday of this week at the Auditorium Theatre, East Main Street, with last-minute preparations completed by the Passionist Fathers of Dunkirk for the matinee and evening performance.

The famous Passion Play, which was originally written by a former Rochester boy, the late Father Bernadine, C.P., will be repeated Saturday, evening and again at a matinee and evening performance on Palm Sunday.

His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, has given the play his endorsement. In a statement issued to the CATHOLIC COURIER today the Bishop said:

"The Passion Play has become accepted as an appropriate Lenten function. It is good to see the public interested in a religious theme. The Knights of Columbus are doing a good piece of work in sponsoring this activity. I am pleased to commend the play to those interested in dramatic work based on a religious theme."

The author of "Veronica's Veil," who took the name of Bernadine in religion when he joined the Passionist Order, was known here as Martin Dusch, son of Margaret and George Dusch.

Author Born Here

His cousin, Mrs. Theodore Statt of Long Pond Road, told this week of the noted Passionist Father's boyhood. He was born in Clinton Avenue North, just north of Clifford Avenue, near St. Michael's Church, in 1856. As a member of the Passionist Order he wrote the play, which will be presented here over thirty years ago. He died in Pittsburgh in 1931 at the age of 75.

Rochesterians will be interested in the performances of "St. Peter" in which part is cast James P. Morrissey who for many years was in the State Division Engineer's Office in this city. Mr. Morrissey will come with the other members of the cast from Dunkirk.

There will be two casts of 75 persons each coming to present the Passion Play, which has just concluded successful performances at Buffalo and Dunkirk.

Director Widely Known

They will be directed by Milton McGovern, a former actor who has been directing the Dunkirk players for several years. He taught dramatics at St. Louis University for 12 years and is widely known in Catholic dramatic circles.

Supervising arrangements for the Passion Play is the Rev. Aidan English, C.P., pastor of St. Mary's Church, Dunkirk. He is getting the cooperation of Grand Knight Leo F. Rombaut of the Knights of Columbus, sponsors of the play's presentations here. Paul A. Predmore is treasurer of the play committee.

Final effort on the ticket sale is being carried on under the direction of William T. Nolan, general chairman, and Mrs. Louis C. Hock, vice-chairman, in which representatives of many Catholic organizations participated because of the Catholic Action opportunity given in promoting such a project.

Frank J. Smith is heading the committee on patrons and patronesses.

Ticket reservations are being made at the box-office by persons as far away as Ithaca in this diocese.

PRIEST SAYS FEAR BARS TRUE PEACE

Declares World Must Return 'To Christ'

A "return to the peace of Christ" was held out as the only true peace for a world in which hatred and mutual fear have resulted in a false peace enforced by arms, by the Rev. Joseph V. O'Driscoll, C.M., professor of political science at Niagara University in an address here Sunday.

Basing his talk on an encyclical of the late Pope Pius XI, Father Driscoll spoke to 200 gathered in Columbus Civic Centre ballroom. This was the last of a series of Lenten lectures on the late Pope's Encyclicals given at the invitation of Bishop Kearney by Niagara University professors.

Roots Laid In Hatred

Loss of respect for authority and denial of the fact that all true authority comes from God were the reasons advanced by the speaker for the "international lawlessness, anarchy and regimentation in the world today." More than 500,000,000 people, he said, "are subject to an ideology whose very roots are laid in hatreds either of class, race or religion."

Against the "modern confusion," Father O'Driscoll contrasted the "Christian League of Nations" in the Middle Ages, which he called a rational, social and economic unity. This Christian fellowship was rent asunder the priest contended, by "the Protestant revolts in theology, philosophy, morality, sociology and economics."

Injustices Cause of War

Most persons seek peace merely as an absence of war, Father O'Driscoll said, rather than trying to eliminate the injustices which cause wars.

Asked in the open forum why the late Pope Pius XI "didn't do something" when Italy marched on Ethiopia, the speaker explained that "the Pope can only define principles not enforce them. To quote the Holy Father himself in this case, Pope Pius said that 'if this is a war of offense, it is unjust—if it is a war necessitated by expansion there are many other ways to solve this necessity than by war.'"
