

THE MARCH OF EVENTS

Most Rev James E. Kearney, as he conducted the first open house ever held in the episcopal residence on New Year's Day

January, 1938 His Majesty Leopold III King of the Belgians, honored the Rev. Camiel VanderMeulen, Pastor of Our Lady of Victory church. The royal degree conferring the title of Knight of the Order of the Crown was granted because of the services rendered for a quarter of a century to the Belgian people in this city.

January 1938—A novena in honor of St. Joseph for bettering the conditions of the working man was started at St. Francis of Assisi Church. It ran for nine consecutive Wednesdays.

January 1938 The Very Rev. W. J. Connaughton celebrated his Silver Sacrodotial Jubilee in his church at South Dakota. His brother and sister reside in Rochester. The Rev. Bernard A. Drew assisted at the Mass.

January 1938 The January issue of the Mercedes semi-annual publication of Our Lady of Mercy High School was dedicated to the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester.

January, 1938 "Communism will never gain a foothold in China." The Most Rev. Paul Yu Pin, Vicar Apostolic of Nanking made this statement as he spoke at Ithaca, N. Y. He is the first native Bishop of Nanking.

January 1938 The Mercy Guild of the Little Flower celebrated its tenth anniversary on January 20, at the Hotel Sagamore.

January 1938—Rochester will join the movement to promote inter-racial justice and charity. This was the message of the Rev. John La Farge, S. J., as he addressed the alumnae of Nazareth College.

January, 1938 The Rev. Henry B. Landenback, M. D. addressed the Rochester Chapters of the Central Women and of the National Catholic Women's Union. He issued a warning to Catholics to take cognizance of the danger which is threatening our schools. Two cases were brought up and two victories resulted for Catholic schools but we must take more interest in our schools. If a persecution should arise against the Church, the parochial school will be the first to be attacked.

January, 1938 A concerted opposition to the Youth Control Amendment, was asked by the Rev. Gerald C. Lambert, diocesan director of Catholic Charities, in conjunction with the action of the Most Rev. Edmund F. Gibbons. The Bishops of the State united again as last year to defeat this measure.

January, 1938—Three Rochesterians received awards from Bishop Kearney as a result of their prize essays on Dr. Derry's lecture on Communism. Miss Norma Ransom, Robert Schatzel and Edward McAuliffe were the lucky contestants.

January, 1938—500 Knights of Columbus from all points in the diocese welcomed Bishop Kearney at a dinner in the Hotel Seneca sponsored by the Fifth District, Fourth Degree.

January, 1938—The Rev. John Baptist Stemmer, of St. John the Baptist Church in Elmira marked his thirty-fifth year as pastor of the church privately. In accordance with his wishes, there was no public celebration.

January, 1938—An example of outrageous vandalism was exhibited when the historically significant 900 pound plaque erected by the Order of the Alhambra was stolen from Dann's Corners near Honey Falls.

January, 1938—Howard M. Woods, Rochester attorney joined in the fight against the youth control proposal and mentioned that the opinion among members of the American Bar Association was against ratification.

February, 1938—Horrors of the struggle in his native China were described by the Most Rev. Paul Yu Pin, Vicar Apostolic of Nanking. His address was given in the Columbus Civic Centre under the auspices of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

February, 1938—With 15,000 crusaders enrolled, the annual drive to increase the influence, prestige and circulation of the CATHOLIC COURIER was begun. Bishop Kearney prepared a special letter to the people exhorting them to cooperate.

February, 1938 Aware of the evil effects from bad literature the Rochester Unit of the Diocesan Holy Name Unit went on record to launch vigorous protest against the distribution of such literature.

February, 1938 The Rev. John S. Randall was appointed diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith by the Most Rev. James E. Kearney. He succeeded the Rev. Leo C. Mooney.

February, 1938—The Rochester Police Force organized its own Holy Name Society. Receiving the hearty support of Bishop Kearney, this group affiliated with the Rochester Diocesan Holy Name Union.

February, 1938—Because the Vocational Society had always been associated with St. Patrick's Church the Rev. Leo C. Mooney was chosen to succeed the Rt. Rev. Magr. Charles F. Shan as director.

February, 1938 Praising the members of the Court St. Ann Catholic Daughters of America, Bishop Kearney cited their ideals as truly Catholic. The occasion was the celebration of their twenty-fifth anniversary at Hornell.

February 1938 Fifty years of benevolence and adherence to Catholic principles were reviewed by members of the St. Herman's Benevolent Society of St. Boniface Church at a banquet closing the observance of the society's golden jubilee.

February, 1938 John J. Craig, of Little Rock, Arkansas, noted Evidence Guildsman, told of the wide appeal to know Christ at an assembly of 250 members of the Holy Name Society at Holy Rosary Church.

February, 1938 The "Child Labor Bill" was defeated 107 to 40. Thirteen assemblymen in this area opposed the measure while only two favored it. The victory was hailed as another step in the fight to prevent Congress from gaining control of the youth in the country.

February 1938—At the annual fathers' and sons banquet at Syracuse, the Most Rev. Walter A. Forry said that America is protected from those ideals and policies which are tearing the world apart today by a bulwark of men here realizing their responsibility to God.

February, 1938—$2,000 and seven tons of food were shipped to Red Spain by Rochester's North-American Committee to aid (so-called) Spanish democracy.

February, 1938—Emmet Lavery's masterpiece of Catholic Theater art—"The First Legion" with Bert Lytell—launched the Blackfriars' Guild with a tremendous success before capacity crowds at the spacious Main Street Auditorium.

March, 1938—Two little Indian boys, garbed in tribal regalia, added their names to the register at the Diocesan office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. They accompanied the Rev. Bernard A. Cullen who succeeded the late Rt. Rev. Magr. William Flynn, as Director General of the Marquette League.

March, 1938—St. Stephen Club of Geneva elected a Board of Directors to assist the officers in their work at the monthly dinner meeting.

March, 1938—After the government received the recommendation that there should be a Federal grant for the benefit of American school children, the Social Frontier group immediately staged frenzied opposition. Wonder was expressed here as to what could prompt that august body to assume such a narrow attitude.

March, 1938—Patrick Casey, a native of Araglin County, Cork, who fought in the war of independence in Ireland, assumed his duties as general manager and treasurer of the Bartholomay Co., Inc., here, one of the largest milk distributing firms in the state.

March, 1938—169 members were welcomed into full-fledged membership in the Knights of Columbus, by Bishop Kearney, sponsor of the class. High officials of the organization were present for the reception.

March, 1938—Bishop Kearney began a vigorous assault on the methods of spreading communism in radio address launching the diocesan discussion program. It was the first in a series of Sunday talks over Station WHAM.

March, 1938—In response to the concerted drive for more loyal support of the CATHOLIC COURIER, 3,071 orders were obtained by school children. Bishop Kearney had made an early appeal and was delighted with the results.

March, 1938—Marion Kellog, Rose Lamark and Mary Claire Kennedy received prizes for their winning essays on "Godless Communism," in a contest sponsored by the Knights of Columbus in conjunction with the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

March, 1938 Holy Family High School of Auburn defeated Aquinas Institute 25-21 in an overtime basketball contest. It was a ding-dong battle throughout the game and even after that. By its victory, the Auburn team merits the mythical high school championship of the diocese.

March, 1938—Before a gathering of 350 Elmiraans, Bishop Kearney cited emulation of dignity of the soul as exemplified by St. Patrick as the means of saving democracy. The occasion was a St. Patrick's banquet of the Knights of Columbus.

March, 1938 Holy Family school of Rochester was the winner in the third annual Students Catholic Press Crusade. Second honors went to St. John the Evangelist school of Rochester.

March, 1938—An interfaith dinner was held at the Chamber of Commerce with about 600 guests attending. Bishop Kearney spoke briefly but in a few remarks he flayed the atheistic state vigorously.

March 1938—The insidious attack of Communism, as it bores in on labor, was cited by the honorary president of the Holy Name Society, B. Edward Schlesinger, in the third of a series of radio talks on the Catholic Hour.

March, 1938—Aquinas Institute closed its court season with a record of 11 wins and 7 losses. They outscored their opponents by 63 points and averaged 25.88 per game.

March, 1938—St. Stephen's Club of Geneva concluded its basketball season with a loss to the Detroit Glens. The Genevans are enthused about the game and planned to restore that city to a place high in court circles.

March, 1938—The feast of St. Joseph, Patronal Feast of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph, was solemnly celebrated in the Motherhouse Chapel with Bishop Kearney officiating at the pontifical mass.

March, 1938—St. Anthony of Padua church installed a marble altar, made of heavy marble from Carrara, Italy. The columns are terra cotta and made from Porta Santa marble, which is very beautiful and quite rare.

March, 1938—The people of Auburn officially welcomed Bishop Kearney as he made his first visit to the deanery, St. Mary's Church, with its beautiful refurbishing was crowded to the very doors. Magr. Bergan, a native of Auburn, assisted.

March, 1938—Little Peter Covich of St. Aloysius School, Auburn, was the winner of the third annual students press crusade. John Steger of Holy Family parish was second.

March, 1938—Former County Judge Philip Donnelly, gave the Catholic answer to communistic class hatred by
