Confirms 366 Adults

Deeply impressive were services held last Sunday as 366 adults received the Sacrament of Confirmation from the hands of His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, D.D., Bishop of Rochester.

Comprised of mostly converts, two classes were confirmed. At Corpus Christi Church, 148 men and women from the east-side parishes received the Sacrament at 1 p. m. while in the evening, at 7:30 P. M. a class of 218 was confirmed in the Pro-Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

The Bishop spoke feelingly to both classes on the significance of the Sacrament and the spiritual strength brought by the Holy Ghost to those receiving it. He congratulated the persons being confirmed and bespoke for them many graces as a result of their act.

Pastors and assistants of the various parishes represented attended and there was a large crowd of relatives, friends and sponsors.

Auburn Novena Draws Capacity Attendance

AUBURN.—A capacity crowd of 630 filled every available seat in St. Aloysius Church last Friday evening for the opening of a perpetual novena, honoring the Sorrowful Mother.

The novena was in charge of Rev. Lawrence Calkins, Servite Missionary Father, of Chicago.

The services which lasted but 35 minutes consisted of prayers and singing of hymns and was concluded with benediction. Rev. Earl Anable of Oswego conducted the solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, assisted by Rev. John B. Crowley, pastor of the church.

The priest and the parishioners recited prayers aloud together recalling the sufferings of the Mother of Christ. Prayers were said for the sick and suffering, for special graces, for the deceased, for a happy death and an act of consecration to the heavenly queen. A special prayer was also said for the sick of the parish. The novena included the Via Matris or stations of the Sorrowful Mother.

The novena services will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock each Friday evening throughout the year. Novena notes, which come from the headquarters in Chicago, were distributed to the congregation last evening. Friars Cast Hailed In Comedy

The Blackfriars brought their first theatrical season to a successful close the last three days of last week with the presentation of "First Lady" comedy of life in the nation's capital, in Immaculate Conception auditorium.

Appreciative audiences gave their approval to the production which was well directed, well staged and well acted throughout.

"First Lady" dealing as it does with the struggles of two wives seeking to have their husbands elected to the presidency called for exacting work on the part of feminine leads. Doris Weber a handling of the role of Lucy Chase Wayne, wife of the Secretary of State was excellently done as was that of Virginia Waller as Irene Hibbard, wife of the Supreme Court Justice.

The audience particularly liked the natural manner in which Jane Fowler portrayed "Belle Hardwick." Thelma M. Flaherty was an efficient, industrious and wise Sophy Prescott, secretary. As Mrs. McCreevey, Janet Ferguson had a difficult role but handled it well. The school girl role of Emmy Paige was given the right treatment by Marion O'Neil who demonstrated her versatility in handling it.

In the male leads Emmet J. O'Neill as Stephen Wayne, the secretary of state and Dr. James N. Eastham, as Carter Hibbard, a Supreme Court Justice made the characters believable. Both shaded their mannerisms and lines in the proper manner to emphasize the comedy intended.

George McDermott in the Tom Hardwick role was a gruff old blunt Senator and David Van Winkle as Senator Keane was a likeable younger member of the Senate. As Ellsworth T. Powers, a chain-newspaper publisher, John W. O'Connor spoke his lines clearly and distinctly and acted the part.

Supporting players who were seen to advantage in their respective roles were John Goschar, Jean Ennis, Mary L. Skelly, Gori Bishop, Lucy Hops Lyon, Elinor M. O'Connor, Stephen Richard Storm, Gordon Moll, Paul L. Ryan, Gregory J. Callahan with an excellent make-up as a tottering old man; Helen V. Kane, Arnold Morrison, Fred Shortall, E. Royce Letson and Floyd J. Green.

The play was directed by Francis Ballard and gave evidence of his ability in that department.

"First Lady" ended a pretentious season for the Blackfriars which included "The Late Christopher Bean," starring Helen Menken, Broadway star; The Kingdom of God, Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp, Aaron Slick of Punkin Creek, Stage Door and the concert by Nino Martini.

The Blackfriars distributed a questionnaire at the final performance to ascertain choice of plays for next year.

Knights Pledge Aid In Decency Drive

Full support of the Knights of Equity in the drive on indecent literature was pledged to His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, at their last meeting.

The resolution is as follows: "That we, the members of Court 10, pledge to Your Excellency any support it might be possible for us to extend to you in your timely crusade against immoral and indecent literature.

"That the services of our entire membership are at your disposal in this most necessary effort.

"We pledge you that we shall not purchase and shall use our efforts to prevent others from purchasing any periodicals that savor of indecency.

"We further promise that if your earnest efforts are of no avail with the purveyors of indecency that we will withhold from them any patronage it might be in our power to extend."

The Sodality is a rapidly developing youth movement. Its activities are reported under the "Sodalitalk."

Communists promote lewd literature, their program opposes preserving morality.

Rochesterians Going To California

Catholics not affiliated with the Catholic Central Verein of America and the National Catholic Women's Union are being invited to join the Rochester delegation going to the National Convention in San Francisco.

The annual meeting of the two organizations will be held from July 28 to August 2 with convention headquarters at the Empire Hotel.

Monday, July 31 has been designated as "Catholic Central Verein Day and German Catholic Day" at the Golden Gate 1939 International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco.

A remarkable convention tour is being arranged for delegates and friends of the two organizations. Details of the tour are being handled by Burlington Escorted Tours.

Two return routes are offered—one via the Pacific Northwest, Glacier Park, Yellowstone and Colorado (a grand circle of the West's most famous scenic regions), and the other directly east via Salt Lake City, the Colorado Rockies and Denver (the scenic way across America).

Cordial invitations to members and friends of both organizations have been issued by William H. Stefen, national president of the Catholic Verein of America and Mrs. Mary Filser Lohr, national president of the National Catholic Women's Union.

Local information may be had from Miss Laura K. Schilling at Ford Hotel or 286 St. Paul Street.

Stresses Value Of Chest Team-Work

By FRANK J. CONBOY

GENEVA—The team-work of a Community Chest Campaign has both a temporal and spiritual value, Rev. Raymond P. Nolan of St. Stephen's church told the workers at their opening dinner of the 1939 Chest Drive in the Masonic Temple Hall on Monday evening, May 15th.

"The Chest work is a very praiseworthy endeavor," he said. "There is also a real value to the community in the cooperation of a large group of men and women working together for a common goal."

From the spiritual side Father Nolan said he believed that in such a campaign there is a dominant religious motive. In this vein he quoted the Biblical quotation, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."
