St. Bona's To Mark Baseball Centennial

St. Bonaventure College is to have its share in the celebration of the Baseball Centennial. A special commemorative cachet is to be issued from its Post Office on June 13. Permission to issue this cachet was sought and granted by the postal authorities in Washington.

The petition sent to the postmaster's office was for a cachet to be used on all mail matter to be dispatched from the St. Bonaventure College Post Office on the thirteenth day of June.

Originally, Brother Cletus sought the privilege of issuing the Centennial Baseball stamp, printed by the government on the twel th o June. However, this was denied Cooperstown, N Y., the birthplace of the American pastime, will be the only place where the stamp may be secured at that date

Designed by Aud

The design for the cachet to be issued from the College Post Office was especially drawn by Joseph Aud of the Seminary, and submitted to the proper authorities for official approval The approval was not long in coming, and words of praise were also added. It was adjudged as being one of the most attractive and most fitting cachet to be submitted in a long time

The design will measure two inches by three inches At the top center will be printed the date, June 13 1939. At the upper left-hand corner will be a baseball diamond with the year 1839, the beginning of baseball, printed upon the diamond In the upper right-hand corner will be a baseball diamond with the present year printed on it.

A semi-circular scroll beginning and ending about half way up the diamond will be lettered thusly: "Baseball Centennial" Bounded by the scroll will be the words, "St. Bonaventure College's Contribution to Baseball" At the left-hand extremity of the scroll will be imprinted the seal of the Franciscan order. At the right-hand extremity will be imprinted the seal of this college

Bona Heroes Honored

Immediately beneath this will be inserted a picture of a baseball game on the McGraw-Jennings field Below the picture in the center will be two crossed baseball bats In the "V" formed by the top of the bats will be a baseball In the lower "V" will be the initials "S A G" In the lower left-hand corner will be a medallion of John McGraw with the dates of his birth and death in the lower right-hand corner a medallion of Hugh Jennings with the dates of his birth and death

The issuing of such a cachet is a great privilege given to a Franciscan College on the feast day of the great and well known Franciscan saint, Anthony St Anthony is known universally as the patron and protector of all mail in transit, and has been so honored for centuries since 1729 to be exact

It has been the pious custom of people to letter their missives "S A G" "St Anthony Guide" ever since that time

All who want this cachet as a souvenir should send 10 cents to Brother Cletus or Brother Bonaventure at St Bonaventure College St Bonaventure N Y with a self-addressed envelope

Friday next is the feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. No doubt you are planning some fitting observance of this great day If not, may I suggest that Mass and Holy Communion offered for the intention of the missions would be the most suitable way of honoring the Sacred Heart that I know.

One of the wishes which Our Blessed Lord revealed to St. Margaret Mary of Alacoque when He appeared to her was His desire "to be loved by all men. That means everyone without a single exception. Yet, over two-thirds of the population of the world knows nothing of the One Tru God and for that reason is not loving the Sacred Heart.

You boys and girls, the most of you anyway, have been making efforts to bring others to Christ The little ones whom your pennies have adopted make quite an army of new converts They, in turn, will surely bring countless others into the Church so indirectly you have probably made thousands of new Catholics, new lovers of God

Yes, you have done your bit But unfortunately a great many are lagging behind They're not keeping up to the pace many of you are setting. The result is that millions have gone without God and will be until all of us begin to do our best.

In the name of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, I beg your help. His Heart thirsts for souls; your little sacrifices will quench that burning thirst. Let us honor Our Master with Mass and Holy Communion next Friday, praying that all will love the missions as we do.

Newsweek

Well, things really happened during the past week, and we're pleased to report their marvelous results.

First of all we were invited to Holy Trinity, Webster, last Wednesday. We had to play ball and join in the other games which as usual were in session during the noon hour. It was a lot of fun. But the next day-oh, boy! Sure did discover some new and hidden muscles. Guess I'd better brush up on my baseball before attempting it again Why even the girls rapped my choicest curv all over the lot. I gave up pitching and as a catcher I made a good sieve At bat I made Babe Ruth look terrible on one of Babe's bad days I mean But anyway we had a lot of fun and I sure hope they invite me back another time I'll promise to be able to hit a basket ball at least.

Well, after the game was over we all gathered around a rock garden in the center of which was a statue of the Blessed Mother One of the girls, acting as spokesman for the others told me of their mission work It sure was a delightful story recounting their many sacrifices to benefit the little children of mission lands

Then they presented me with a big box in which I found exactly 1,000 nickels At first I was afraid I'd have to hire a carting company to lug it over to the car But with everyone's help we got it there These nickels bought ten mission babes Five little Chinamen are to be named Francis Hoefen James, John, Aloysius and Regina Catherine Two Indians are getting the names of Jacob Rauber and Margaret Ann Three other Negroes will be known after baptism as George Kalb, Charles and Mary Queen of Peace

All in all it was a great day and we scarcely know how to thank them for this wonderful piece of work

I must interrupt this story to tell you that I was just serenaded, and it wasn't the Penny Serenade' either Altho that, by the way might be our theme song Say why not have one of our brilliant young song writers sit down and fit some mission thought to that tune I'm waiting for it

Well anyhow my serenaders were four boys and girls from the Fifth and Sixth Grades of St. Joseph's, Rochester. Yes it seems like it is always St Joseph's doesn't it I want to tell you that the one that beats them out has a real job on their hands They're missioners and I don't mean maybe Accompanying their song was the presentation of another adoption. But let them tell the story

"Your Wide Awakes read in the Annals about a poor priest in China seeking for help to continue his work His name is Father Letembaure We bet he will be tickled to get it"

Fifth and Sixth Grades

Don't you think thear name is most appropriate" I mean "Wide Awakes." Judging by the record they're that and then some. And oh yes, although they failed to mention it in their letter, they are naming this little Chink well, you guess' I'm bashful Thanks loads, Wide Awakes, and we sure are pround of you.

We had another visitor during this past week. He came from Holy Family, Rochester. You know them, of course. Everybody in the whole country does, so I'm taking it for granted that you do, too. But maybe like the Prophet who was without honor in his own country we don't know those closest to us. Let me say that if any school in the world yes I said world—finishes this year even close to Holy Family, it will be nothing less than a miracle. Anyhow, they dumped a whole orphanage into our lap the other day Forty-two ransoms! ! ! Did you get that? I hope you were sitting down on that one. Sure was glad to see them. It's just impossible to know what to say because when they come into the office they just anow us under More power to them and Gods richest blessings upon them

Now here's another good friend, St. Mary's, Elmira. They appear quite consistently and though they don't make much of a commotion, they're doing a swell job. The missions have a real loyal friend in these people. This time they say. "We would like to ransom a Chinese baby We would like to have her named Mary Agnes"

Rose Mary Rouse

Here's a good size package Wonder what's in it? From St. Lucy's, Rochester. Say now, you know when looking for real missioners, you've got to travel a long ways to find any better than those boys and girls at St Lucy's. They've really got the stuff, and no fooling about it. Yes, sir, they just don't make them better any place

The Sister in the First and Second Grades writes to say that her pupils are ransoming a Chinese baby for whom they have selected the name of Delores.

And then.

"The Seventh & Eighth Grades are ransoming an African Negro baby girl named Rose Mary Teresa We pray every day that God will bless your mission work saving poor helpless babes from suffering"

Rose Colozzi

That about winds up the account for this week All in all it has been a big one Now, we look forward to you the Friends of the Sacred Heart of Jesus to honor Him with new children

Aquinas Graduates Issue 'The Arete'

Dedicated to Blessed Martin de Porres, Negro Dominican lay brother, the 1939 edition of the Arete, senior annual of Aquinas Institute made its appearance this week.

Foremost is a striking photograph of His Holiness, Pope Pius XII taken on his coronation day, March 12 1939 with a prayer offered for the Holy Father.

An excellent likeness of Pope Pius XII and his Excellency, the Most Rev James E. Kearney together is given a prominent position in this year's edition of which the class of 1939 can be justly proud.

Full page photographs of Bishop Kearney the Rev John H O'Loane, C.S.B. M.A., principal and the Rev Wilfred J Murphy, C.S.B., M.A., director of studies are featured.

Tribute is paid to the late Pontiff His Holiness Pope Pius XI and the late Patrick Cardinal Hayes in an appropriate manner

Departments, all with original treatment are given over to "Our Leaders," the Graduates, Undergraduates, Dramatics, Music, Clubs, Humor and "The Rockne," the last regaling the athletic prowess at the school during the past year

An open letter to, His Holiness, Pope Pius XII and signed by Martin A Schnorr, editor-in-chief of the 1939 Arete for the class of 1939 pleads the canonization cause of Blessed Martin Porres, the patron of social justice

With a photograph of St John Fisher, Bishop of Rochester, England is the caption "Patron of the pray for our Bishop and for us his Diocese of Rochester New York children"

Recognition is given five graduates of the school who this year became "Ambassadors of Christ, the Rev John D Malloy the Rev Francis J Bueschel, the Rev Francis J Taylor the Rev Harold J Prendergast and the Rev. Richard G Stanton.

Well written and timely articles are interspersed with new photographic treatments of faculty students and events at the school during the year 1939

Under the caption "In Their Footsteps are pictures of Aquinas alumni and their sons now students at the school

The wide activity of student interest at the school is demonstrated in group pictures and the famous Aquinas band are shown for the first time in their new uniforms

A gold and blue design is used throughout the book to relieve the black and white effect

The faculty is listed in the forepart of the book and a graduates directory appears near the end
