Yearnings of Man Seen As Showing Soul Is Immortal

NEW YORK The yearning of man for knowledge and happiness and the identity of personality and the physical changes of the body, all point to the soul's immortality...

Death Sunday's Human Compound Father Russell declared that "we can not live intelligently until we decide the purpose of life" and added that in reaching such a decision "one thing before all others must be reckoned with, namely, the human soul."

Another source of immortality is found in the fact that the soul survives the physical changes continually take place in our body," Father Russell said.

"There is only one explanation," he declared. "That there is within man a soul that is not subject to change, that is not affected by the law of dissolution and death, and if the soul survives this constant, continuous death that is going on in the body why may we not logically conclude that it will continue to survive when the body has been consigned to the grave?"

Bishop On Visit Lauds Summer School

CLIFF HAVEN. Events at the Catholic Summer School of America on Lake Champlain are going along at a "merry clip" here.

Highlighting the week's musical program was a well-attended and well-appreciated concert by John Carroll, New York City baritone.

The Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, left the school Monday of last week after enjoying a short stay over the week-end.

Two other lecturers are scheduled to begin Monday and to speak every morning through Friday, Dr. M. O'Gorman, chairman of the department of psychology and philosophy at Hunter College, will talk on "Mental Hygiene."

The Blackfriars Repertory Company, a group of Catholic actors, has made its permanent summer headquarters at the school and will present weekly shows.

The summer theater movement, which they have inaugurated at the school bids fair to becoming an institution of great proportion.

Life Begins at R. B. I. By Ernest W. Veilm, Jr. Pres. Rochester-Business Institute.

AFTER many talks with boys and girls in our high schools I am led to believe that there is one outstanding fear in their minds. It is Life! They have learned the "3 R's", and have succeeded in passing examinations...

At Rochester Business Institute this fear of life is not only allayed but the things we seek to obtain. R. B. I.'s Balanced Training Program teaches students that life is a very normal thing...

R. B. I.'s balanced training program consists of courses which give preparation in the essential skills of business...

Finally R. B. I.'s balanced training completes its program by not only preparing the student for a job in business...

A new fall term starts at R. B. I. on September 11. The new fall term starts at R. B. I. on September 11. The new fall term starts at R. B. I. on September 11.
