

Friars To Launch Membership Campaign

SET GOAL OF 1,500 FOR THEATER SEASON

The Rochester Chapter of the Blackfriars Guild will launch its second annual membership drive Thursday evening, September 7.

This announcement was made today by Emmet J. O'Neill, president of the Rochester Chapter. The year's goal has been set at 1,500 members.

William T. Nolan has been re-elected as campaign manager and is busy whipping together the personnel for the drive which will continue through Monday, September 18.

Seven separate attractions, including a Broadway production and a concert, will comprise this year's schedule. The names of the Broadway star and production and the concert artist will be announced at the opening campaign dinner on September 7.

Discussing the 1899-1940 program, President O'Neill pointed out:

"The directors of the Rochester Chapter of the Blackfriars Guild are busily engaged in working out a program for the coming year which we hope will have far exceeded last year's presentations."

"Negotiations with the concert artist already have been closed and our members can rest assured that this concert will really prove to be one of the highlights of the city's musical season."

The year's goal not only is a recognition of the Guild's outstanding personality in the field, but we also are concerned with presenting a play worthy of the traditions of the Blackfriars."

The most interesting Nolan announcement is that the directors will be selected within the next ten days and announcements will be forthcoming as soon as the selections have been made.

They Call Him 'Watching Eagle'

James Sweet Grass, full-blood Ojibwa Sioux Indian, bestows the name of "Watching Eagle" upon Rev. John E. Tensely, A. S., director of the Bureau of Catholic Indian Missions, Washington, D. C., during his recent visit to Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, South Dakota. Sweet Grass, a valued catechist for the missions, helped bury victims of the Wounded Knee Massacre in 1890 and served later as a scout. (N.C.W.C. PHOTO.)

New Order Needed To Solve Labor Situation

CLIFF HAVEN—Rev. John P. Boland, chairman of the New York State Labor Relations Board, declared in a lecture at the Catholic Summer School of America on Lake Champlain, Cliff Haven, N. Y., that the labor-industry conflicts now going on present "all the symptoms of a disease in the body politic and specifically in its very heart region, industry" and that a New Order, "built on foundations that were rejected when immoderate liberalistic capitalism began," is necessary if they are to cease.

Father Boland spoke in the auditorium of the Summer School where hundreds of Catholics are now spending their summer vacations on the 400 acres of grounds with golf course, tennis courts and bath.

He said: "All of us, business men and labor leaders, social workers and lawmakers, are on a questing adventure. We are searching for industrial peace, for employer-employee cooperation for a new and acceptable basis of common interests."

"We inherited this from our forefathers. It is not as easy to fix its beginning, the interdependence of man upon man is as old as the race. There never was a time when man could live his entire life through without the services of his fellowmen. Repeatedly Holy Scripture warns against defrauding the laborer of his wages. He is worthy of his hire, we had to be reminded. In the master's vineyard, the workers themselves complained because equal pay was offered for unequal hours and were rebuked. Generosity in sharing the fruits of the land was a frequent admonition because of its infrequency."

"It is not true that the world must make a choice between totalitarianism and Communism. Neither of these two ideologies has to be rejected, as their claimants held, as the only alternative to un-disciplined individualism. There is another form or economic order, the New Order, that must be built on foundations that were rejected when immoderate, liberalistic capitalism began. It may be termed refined or christianized capitalism, but actually the distinction between capital and labor need not be drawn at all. It means a society which does not forget the rights of men—but remembers also his duties. It is a society which will be disciplined but not repressed. The state or government will serve as an artificial mechanism, protecting, promoting, supervising. It is the Church suggested way out of chaos."

Walking University Students Attend 'Sommaine Social'

By M. MAASIANI

PARIS—Approximately 5,000 persons were assembled at the Sommaine Social at the Amphitheatre in the Bois de Boulogne by an organization known as the "Walking University."

The Walking University was founded at Lyon and received the name of Walking University because each meeting is held in a different place. His Eminence Luigi Cardinal Maglioni, Papal Secretary of State, gave evidence of the approval of the Church in the warm message to members of the group.

His Eminence Pierre Cardinal Gerbet, Archbishop of Lyon and Primate of France, who was unable to be present, sent his regrets.

His Excellency the Most Rev. Valere Vallet, Papal Nuncio to France, was assisted in his address by twelve Archbishops, Bishops and a delegation from 20 countries, including representatives from the United States, Central America, South America, England, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland.

The International Labor Office sent R. P. Le Roy to attend the session.

The program was concerned with the problem of harmony between the classes—sociologists, theologians, lawyers and philosophers spoke.

Archbishop Vallet himself celebrated Solemn Mass at the Church of St. Sulpice and on that night, at the Cathedral, a vigil of prayer for peace was held by Canon Theodor de Panchoville.

WATKINS GLEN PARK NOW ILLUMINATED

The Watkins Glen State Park at Watkins Glen, N. Y., is now illuminated each night with 11 P. M. to 11 P. M. DST. Powerful floodlights are flashed upon the towering cliffs and rushing waters. It is a beautiful sight as the night is turned to day. The towering walls are brought out in bold relief, accentuating the rugged handiwork of nature. The green foliage is made more vivid by the powerful lights which appear every crook and cranny.

The water is turned to silvery spray as it glides and rushes along the rocky walls. The light is intense and new attractions at the revelation of such incomparable beauty. He feels as though he were in an enchanted world, away from the busy and turmoil of life. He has a feeling of restfulness and is being at peace with all mankind. A visit to Watkins Glen State Park at night would be a thrilling experience to any vacationist.

Parish Groups Banned In Wuertemberg

BERLIN—All parish organizations have been dissolved in Wuertemberg by Nazi order. The measure falls particularly on Protestants who had banded together to raise sufficient funds to support their churches and pastors.

A Protestant pastor arrested at Ulm for having in his possession a list of names of members of parish groups, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment. Pastor Frober of Muehlheim, accused of supporting the pamphlets, has received a six-month sentence.

Catholic Action School Scheduled At Fordham U.

NEW YORK—The Summer School of Catholic Action, which was begun in Saint Louis in 1931, will hold its fourth session at Fordham University from August 21 to 28.

The courses include lectures and round table discussions on subjects pertinent to a Catholic layman's understanding of both the doctrinal and practical phases of his faith. The Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S. J., editor of The Queens Worker is general director of the school.

Among the elective courses this summer are Catholic literature, teaching upon the topic and the activities of the Catholic Literature Committee, its projects, methods and materials; digest of political science, training of the participation of Catholics in the government and the problems of today; and the discussion groups on economic and public questions.

In the eight years of its existence, 1,600 priests, brothers, nuns, seminarians, men and women from lay organizations, parishes and schools have taken its courses. Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, New York, Buffalo, Boston, Washington, New Orleans and St. Paul have played host to its students. Father Lord heads a faculty of sixteen.

When the Summer School of Catholic Action was launched in 1931, its sponsors believed in it, but they were not sure anyone else would. If they reasoned fifty people thought it worth while to make the trip to St. Louis to take the course, that would be absolutely satisfactory. Actually 407 came.

The sponsors wondered if they dared attempt a second year. They did, and the number increased. Then invitations came to carry it around the country; so the next year it went to New York, New Orleans and Milwaukee, and the enrollment increased to 1437.

GARRISON, N. Y.—(NCI)—The Rev. Patrick McCarthy, St. Christopher's Inn, here, Spiritual Director of the "Ave Maria Hour," nationally-known religious program, has received word that His Holiness Pope Pius XII has conferred his blessing on this radio hour. The late Pope Pius XI blessed the undertaking last January.

Pope Pius XII gave his blessing to the "Ave Maria Hour" on the occasion of an audience he granted to a group of Franciscan Friars of the Atonement at the Vatican. The Friars, returning to Garrison, have brought back with them a document attesting to this honor.

The "Ave Maria Hour" originates each Sunday evening in the studios of Station WJCA in New York City.

Young Atheists Seize Church In Siberia

MOSCOW—A group of young atheists having taken possession of the Church of St. Sergeus at Tyumen, Siberia, the church authorities complained to the civil officials. They were told that the seizure of the church was "a spontaneous action on the part of Soviet youth against the Church because it is hostile to the State." The church building is now serving as the headquarters for the local atheist youth organization and the red flag flies from its tower.
