"How To Keep America Out of War"

EDITOR CATHOLIC COURIER:

"Ponce on earth, good will In every country towards mon." the world today these words. of Christ are being pushed ande in the tumult of war propaginda. In America this war propaganda is at high tide. As a result a very grave question arises. Can Amor ica keep out of another, world

We are not the censors and policemen of the rest of the world is not our conany of our business if the two types of imperialism in Europe come to blows. For us to attempt to reform Europe and bring it back to the ideals of morality and the respect for equal rights of nations would show us to be insane. They have been fighting over there since the dawn of history and porhaps they will still be fighting at the end of time. We can best stay out of war by not leaving our own. Our r care of our domestic affairs. There are so many things to be done in our own country that if a cleanup was once started there would o time to meddle in foreign offairs. More pay roles must be created. The United States is the richest country in the world yet she has ten million unemployed. people undernourished in midst of planty, crime to a great extent, and Communist organizations to a dangerous degree. These are the things that threaten our democracy and will destroy it long before a foreign invasion comes about. We do not perhaps, approve of governments of Japan, Italy and Germany, but we have no right to dictate their forms of MENT ON THEIR DOMESTIC AFFAIRS. We certainly would permit no ation to tell us how to run our affairs. The idea of a oreign investor is toolish. least ten thousand sups would be needed to successfully attack th United States. The combined ships of Japan, Italy and Germany would not number over three thousand. Japan, more than 7.000 miles from our shores and with a navy only two-thirds as large as ours could not make a successful attack on the United States. We have a navy twice the combined navies of Italy and Germany. No airplane has yet been devised that will fly 3,000 miles, bomb its objective and re-turn back to its base. Furthermore, Japan, Italy, Germany are surrounded by powerful even there anyone so foolish as to believe that they will leave their nin lands neglected to come and attack the United States? Is it possible that our leaders in talking about foreign wars and foreign affairs desire to take the minds of the American people off their own affairs?

The United States Today?

The Church population of the United States in 1926 as revealed by the official census taken up by the Government at that tim and published by the Bureau of Census in two targe volume entitled -"Religious Bodies" amounted to 54,070,346 This figure represents the total membership of the 212 different and disand official.

Purgatory differs from Hell widely and in many ways. Hell is permanent ard eternal Purgatory is passing and temperary. The soul made for God and drawn to God as the steel is drawn to a magnet, realizing at niness consists in possessing God. in Hell is banished from God beatifying Presence of Him who sione can make it happy sense of privation, this eternal loss of God, is the greatest misfortune that can befall the soul of man The souls in Purgatory likewise are not permitted to see God. The souls in Furgatory however are saved souls

Paradise is for a time only they blessed day when they will be admitted to the beatifying Presence and Possession of God of God is the pain of punishment suffered by those who are shut out of Heaven Sacred Scriptur tefers to this frequently under the figure of fire teg Mark 9 42. Luke 6 24 Matt 25, 41 Having the whole dictionary at His command Christ chase the word fire to describe Hell. The nature of this fire is undetermined The Catholic Church Indulges neither in fantastic exaggeration nor in foolish denial regarding the reallty of this fire.

Fire it is, and that says enough the damned in Hell live eternally in despair, without hope or love, the saved in Purgatory live ing that their time of purgation is but temporal and that as soon as they are free from the least stain of sin they will be permitted to enter into the eternal happiness. *Sursum Corda Something Constructive

By REV. JAMPS M. GILLIS, C.S.P., Editor, The Cribalic World

There have been many criti-cisms of the Soviet exhibit at the New York World's Fair But H one seems to make a constructive suggestion. So, if it is not too late. I venture to offer a hint as to how the Russians may improve on their remarkable demonstration what has taken place in the U.S.S.R. in the last twenty years. To carry out my idea may cost a few thousand dollars, but that is a bagatelle compared to the mil-lions already expended. When you go into anything on a grand why not make it absolutely Derfect? The Stalin government has erected what is by all odds the most imposing building at the fair. It seems to have limitless funds at its disposal, and will therefore make no objection on the ground of cost. The few little improvements I shall suggest will enable visitors to understand still better what Communism can do when it gets complete control. First: with all due regard to the excellence of the mural papet. ings which show the Russian people smiling, smiling, all smiling, walking, walking, vigorously and triumphantly straight at you, like the Californians in the movi "San Francisco" coming up over the brow of Nob Hill, singing Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!— I say why not add to those gorgeous Russian murals one depicting the "liquidation" of the Czar and his family in the cellar at Ekaterin-REALISTIC

Better still, why not show that epoch-making event by menns of tableaux in wax figures? Make It realistic. Here you have the Czar, futile in death as in attempting to protect his wife and children from the herolc Bolshevik executioners, who fearlessly staiked into the care armed with rifles and sword and knives, and dispose of the royal family in the goriest possible MARINET.

Too gruesome? Not at all. At Tussaud's in London and the Eden Musee in New York, the gaping multitude were privileged to look upon the grisly exploits of Jack the Ripper and all but hear the cries of the victims By the way, why didn't the Soviet government take movies of the execution with dialogue and sound effects? They are showing movies of "Professor Mamlock their gorgeous mausoleum *pardon me, pavilion) at the Fair. A picture of the slaughter of the Czar and his wife and his children would be an even greater drawing card and teach on equalfumbled a fine chance when they missed that one Second how about a painting let us say a triptych—showing the exploits, the victories and the death of the generals who were purged. In the first panel we should see them leading their soldiers on to victory in the Rev olution the accord panel would depic them triumphant again in the struggle against the White Eursians in the third panel they would appear with their backs to

Talking Over Their Views

NOT WANTED The United States Army maintains enlistment offices in all parts of the country and in all territorial possessions for the pur pose of keeping our armed forces up to the limit prescribed by law Men of good character are invited to join the colors. Naturally we have to draw the fine at certain individuals who may want to wear the uniform of the country We are very glad to note that our military authorities regard as undesirables all those who served in the so-called "Lincoln Brigade in the recent Spanish civil war Many of these were Americans who sold their birthright for a

Adjutant General William W Dick has circulated a letter to all army posts and stations stating that "since such service was un dertaken in violation of the policy of the United States as announced by the State Department the War Department does not favorably consider the enrollment in the regular army, the civilian components, or the advanced course of the R.O.T.C. of persons

ALL TOGETHER

"I cannot belp but think of just how much could be done if we all worked together. There was a policeman in New-York who fell off his horse. He prayed to St. Patrick to help him get back on His nationality you might well know, because of his praying to St. Patrick. He tried but could not get on. He prayed again, But he couldn't make it. So he prayed to St. Patrick. St. Margaret, SS. eter and Paul, St., Bridget, all the Apostles and Disciples of heaven, all the saints and angels in heaven. Then he tried to mount again. And this time he jumped way over the horse's head. Said he "Glory be to God. why did you all have to push at once?" So, if all the Catholics, and the Protestants, and the Jews push together there should tremendous good accomplished."-Msgr. Fulton Sheen.

WHEAT FIELDS Third auggestion; a picture of wheatfields in the Ukraine, vast areas like those in Wisconsin or the Dakotas—the sowers, the reapers, the shippers, the boats carrying the preclous cargo out of the harbor of Odessa, to be sold and consumed abroad while the farmers who sowed it and reaped it died, millions of them, noble martyrdom for the cause of the great god Foreign Exchange. Fourth: I think the American people, who after all are the principle patrons of the Fair, would have been interested in a picturization of the workings of the celebrated OGPU. True we have policemen here and detectives, but compared with the great OGPU, ours are blundering amateurs. The most efficient organi-zation ever created for spying zation over created for spying upon, apprehending and punishing disloyal citizens of signest Republic is the OGPU. General Krivitsky has told us how the system works. But the Soviets sa, "No. No. he has it sli wrong" Very well then, let's see how it really is done. Don't tell us but really is done. Don't tell us but show us, in a painting in staluary, in wax figures, in movies any way you choose, but make

WHAT A MISS! Just see how many chances the Soviets missed. What a pity to have spent so much money on marble and stainless steel and art, and yet to be wanting in "showmanahip. They had an abundance of material the most apoctacular and sensational in all history, but they didn't play it up. In fact they didn't make use of it at all.

And besides they left a great riddle unsolved. Why are those healthy happy rosy-cheeked those healthy happy rosy-cheeked pecasants in the pictures laughing and singing and rejoicing Was it because the Czar was butchered? Because the Soviet generals were shot" Because millions of farmers were starved? Is that what commissars and the proletariat found so funny?
