ROCHESTER DIOCESAN COUNCIL

National Council of Catholic Women Office: 536 Columbus Civic Centre, 50 Chestnut Street

In Miss Egan's annual report at the San Francisco Convention she mentioned an interesting development during the past year: the organization of an Overseas Division of the National Catholic War Council.

The idea of those organizing the group was, of course, primarily the preservation of the division established during those eventful years when the members went overseas under the auspices of the National Catholic War Council.

A small committee met in New York to plan a reunion in that city in 1939. At this reunion it was decided to organize permanently, and as an evidence of their deep and continued interest in the social work with which they had been associated, their first act was to plan a contribution to the National Catholic School of Social Service, the successor of the emergency school of Clifton. At the check for $600.00 was presented to Father Laerman, Director of the School.

Our congratulations go to the members of the Catholic Women's Union, one of our affiliated organizations, who are this week celebrating their five jubilee.

The following CONVENTION CALL has been sent to representatives of all our affiliated organizations throughout the diocese: As President of the Rochester Diocesan Council of the N.C.W.U. it is my privilege as well as my duty to call the members of the Council to meet in Convention on Friday, October 21, and Saturday, November 11, 1938.

This will be our Ninth Diocesan Convention. The convention will open on Friday with Mass, celebrated by our Most Reverend Bishop, at 8 o'clock.

Members of the Catholic Women's Club will again as in previous years observe the Feast of Christ the King with a day's Retreat on Sunday, October 29, at Nazareth College, N. Y. The program of the day will begin with Mass and Corporate Communion at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be a series of conferences throughout the day closing with Holy Hour and Benediction at 4 o'clock.

Breakfast and dinner will be served to the retreatants. Mrs. Frank J. G. Connor is Chairman of arrangements for the day.

An invitation is extended to all Catholic Women of the Diocese to attend. Reservations may be made by calling or writing the Clubhouse at 536 Columbus Street, until Friday, October 26.

Life of Madame Rose Lummis

By REVEREND RALPH J. MEYER

ARTICLE XXI... During the period that Madame Lummis remained at Halifax she carried on perpetually her instructions to convert, her night classes for widows and for those who had "girl graduates," but above all her life in her Community was her greatest work.

The old sunny, equable temperament, the merry laugh, the sweet, clear manner, the charm and clarity of conversation, the cheery endurance of suffering, and especially her beautiful spirit of prayer and patience, made her loved and revered at Halifax as at Simcoe.

Her health, always so delicate, could not endure the ordinary overness of Community life, and it was vain to prolong the struggle. Madame Lummis asked and obtained from Mother Lehon, Superior General of the Society, permission to become an Associate, "carrying out the work of the Sacred Heart in poor and neglected missions, under the authority of the local parish priest, and with the counsel and approval of the Superior of the Society of the Sacred Heart in Canada."

LEAVES COMMUNITY... She renewed her vows in the chapel of the Sacred Heart at Montreal in the presence of Mother Amelia Schullien, who was transferred to the kindred and quiet of Superior's the tenderest of mothers, the most loyal and sympathetic of friends in every event of her subsequent life and work.

In the year that followed no step was taken without her advice and permission. Mother Schullien's words were received at the voice of God, sent at her doorway, let us from her was found carefully preserved, daily and lovingly placed away.

If leaving Simcoe was heartrending, what the loss of the Community life was to that great warm human heart of Madame Lummis will never be known. Her death, except at rare intervals she was to tread her way alone and far from them.

Madame Lummis began, or rather, took up again, her work in Courtright, an outlying mission in the London diocese, which Bishop Walsh was particularly desirous she should visit. And here began the old congenial work, the old uphill fight. She was told there were no children. In two weeks they appeared: the St. Charles River rubes through the village, and over the river, and up the river, and down the river the children came knocking to her. The morning of the First Friday, when the priest came from Courtright to say the Mass, Madame Lummis presented him with fifty children whom she had prepared for confession. His reverence could only stare and exclaim: "Where in the world did you get them?"

BACK IN SIMCOE... Madame Lummis returned to Simcoe to find great changes. She lived near the church and hoped to teach the children. Her health was good for two years but then she was advised to go to the mountains. Although she did not like to go she bowed to God's will and went to the mountains of North Carolina, helping the mountain people of the different towns to know, love and serve God. What good she did during those years is not known.

Before entering into the details of the last six months of her life, we shall see what the passing years of trial, through prayer, but more than all of the love of God, had wrought in the soul of Madame Lummis.

The accident, however, gave her a new perspective on life.
