Trinitarian Sisters

ish; when it was finished, Father Dissott asked that a permanent mission be established there to do the follow-up missionary work.

AUBURN

The latest foundation of the Community was opened in Auburn, N. Y. in September, 1931. The work here is similar to that in Lyons. The Sisters visited the homes and took census during the early days, then organized classes in catechetical instruction for the children of St. Aloysius and St. Francis parishes. The Catholic Daughters provided a place for classes for the children in the outlying districts. Later it was necessary to hold classes at a private home also in order to reach the children very far away.

ITHACA

The Sisters have been conducting Religious Vacation Schools in Ithaca, N. Y. each summer since 1933. In that year two Sisters took a census in Ithaca, but the pastor, Rev. William Byrne, Ph. D., found it necessary to ask for a third Sister before the summer was over as the work was so heavy. Each summer since then, four Sisters have been working in Ithaca during the months of July and August, with two of them staying on through September.

Besides in the Immaculate Conception parish in Ithaca, census work has been done at St. Michael's in Penn Yan, at St. Mary's in Canandaigua, and at St. Patrick's in Elmira.

THE LAY APOSTOLATE

It is not only in the Summer School work that the Missionary Servants of the Blessed Trinity depend upon the assistance of devout and zealous lay people. As the Sisters are sometimes able to meet situations that present insurmountable obstacles to the priests, so the trained and prudent lay Catholic can often do that which is impossible for the Sisters. The Lay Apostolate associated with the Missionary Servants is known as the Outer Missionary Cenacle. In the city of Rochester, the members gather each month for a brief Retreat and meeting at Christ the King Missionary Cenacle at 82 Prince Street. What are the requirements for membership? A wish to help some weak soul to turn back to God, a close acquaintance with Our Lord through frequent Communion, and a willingness to sacrifice oneself in the effort to help someone else.

Propagation

lected and they are enrolled as members of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Membership may be of three kinds, annual with dues one dollar a year; a family membership enrolling ten persons, with dues six dollars a year; or perpetual membership with an offering of forty dollars. Both the living and deceased are enrolled.

Of the funds collected for the missions, sixty percent is given to foreign missions, forty percent remains in this country for the missions of the south and west and a portion is given to the Catholic Near East Relief Society for the missionary work in the barren sections of Eastern Europe, Western Asia, Northern Africa and the West Coast of India.

Thus the work of the Church which is essentially missionary, goes on. Consecrated men and women labor that Christ may be known to the uttermost parts of the earth. We at home by our charity and our prayers make possible the continuance of this apostolate.

The Sisters of St. Joseph mar school. Nothing of merit has been omitted from the curriculum for the tots registered at this newest school of the Sisters of Saint Joseph and the acclaim with which the announcement of its opening was hailed is but a prophecy of its popularity which will increase year by year.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

Elmira, was opened September 24, 1908, under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Joseph of the diocese of Rochester at the request of the Right Reverend Bishop McQuaid. The work was begun in a building formerly known as Our Lady of Angels Academy, conducted by the Sisters of St. Mary. It furnished capacity for thirty-five patients. This was taxed to capacity the first year of the hospital's existence. In 1914 a separate unit was built to properly care for maternity cases and for general work. This proved adequate up to 1918 when it was realized that additional space must be provided to meet the demand and through the generosity of the citizens of Elmira and the late Edward J. Dunn a surgical unit was completed which provided besides additional room for patients, space for Pathological Laboratory, X-ray Department, Dietetic Laboratory, Pediatric Department, Physical Therapy Department and new operating rooms as well as ample space for administration purposes. In 1930 a long cherished dream was realized in the erection of the Dunn Memorial Nurses Residence, made possible through the bequest of the late Edward Joseph Dunn. The following year the original hospital building was razed and an additional built which brought the capacity to 200 beds, providing rooms for clinical purposes and isolation department for contagion, used as occasion requires. An important advance in connection with the Tumor Clinic work of the hospital was the installation in 1936 of a Deep Therapy unit which is under the direction of a full time radiologist. May 1, 1939, the hospital suffered a very great loss in the death of our dear Sister Rose Alice, who was a wonderful executive and administrator, endowed with many noble qualities, kindness itself to all who came within the hospital walls.

Quietly and peacefully located on East Avenue, Pittsford is NAZARETH CONVENT AND NORMAL SCHOOL, wherein is generated the motive power which keeps the machinery of this vast organization in motion. Here the young aspirant receives her introduction to the secrets of the spiritual life, here she is clothed in the somber garb of a Sister of Saint Joseph, and here she pronounces the vows binding her forever to her Eternal Spouse. Here in her years of Novitiate and Normal-training she is equipped for her life's work both spiritually and intellectually. Here are welded friendships which years of working under the guardianship of the Carpenter of Nazareth but serve to strengthen. Here each year she comes for spiritual regeneration. Here, aged and infirm, she returns when her labors are ended, and here at last she closes her days within the shadow of the tabernacle.
