Cleveland Parishioners Deplore Interdict

(CLEVELAND) Many members of Holy Redeemer parish here following a Sunday express deep sorrow over the situation that has resulted from the interdict that has been placed on the parish.

The interdict was imposed after some members of the parish had presented for the third time the installation of a new pastor. Through the scenes at the church on Sunday was tumultuous it is believed that not more than 100 members of the parish actually offered resistance to the new pastor's entrance into the church.

Monignor Begin returned with Father Caruso again last Sunday and again a group of parishioners barred their entrance into the church. Police were on hand and an entrance into the church probably could have been forced but Monignor Begin was determined to avoid possible further disorder.
