Musical Americana Offers Music For America

If you like a good musical program, by all means don't miss "Musical Americana" over WHAM next Thursday night at 8 o'clock A desire to drive home the fact that America has produced and still produces great music is the primary aim of this superbly presented musical offer-

Raymond Paige, below, is musical director of the program; Deems Taylor is master of ceremonies and the orchestra is a mighty organization rumbering one hundred fine musicians.

Keyed to meet all musical tastes, "Musical Americana" is planned to win over those who look down on American popular music, and to inspire a keener appreciation of serious music in those who "cant' understand it" or "just don't care for it." A feature of each broadcast is the guest appearance of a musician of exceptional talent from an American college or conservatory.

The program originates in Pittsburgh and is announced by NBC dean of announcers, Milton Cross. And while on the subject of interesting items about the show here are a few more facts: More than 12,000 miles of wires across and up and down the nation are connected every Thursday for the broadcast of the Washington Musical Americana program. At the controls of network, the A. T. & T. telays and the stations transmitters are 247 engineers. Standing by all over the country are 100 announcers including 2 at KDKA. Pittsburgh, where the program originates. The total power of all the stations equals 460,000 watts. These figures do not include the short wave broadcasts of Musical Americana to all inghouse Stations WPIT. Pittsirgh, and WBOS, Boston, for which additional wires, engineers nd announcers (foreign-speaking) are required.

Superman Offers

Presidential Coins which present the story of the United States Presidents. from Washington to Franklin D Reosevelt in a way that will interest all youngsters, are being offered on the SUPERMAN program. Station WHAM is constantly receiving requests for coins from children who listen to this program every Monday. Wednesday and Friday at 5:15 P. M. Two coins are given away in return for two tops from boxes of Force Wheat Flakes and one little boy who sent in box tops just attached a slip of paper with his name and address and said "You know what I The Presidential coins, of simulated gold, are larger than a quarter and have a sculptured head of a U. S. President on one side and on the other a few of the reasons why he was great. Parents and teachers are very enthusiastic about these coins besause of their educational value and the youngsters are having an exciting time making a collection oine of melodramas, introduced to radio. While on tour in western melodrama, part of Mento's act was to throw herself on an ore conveyor and ride across the stage to rescue the hero. One night a cog of the conveyor broke, throwing Mento eighteen feet to the ground, and left her partially blind and crippled from the waist the stage after eight months of neuropathic treatment, but was restricted to character parts . . . so she auditioned for radio.

Now Mento (Judy on "Arnold Grimm's Daughter") spends all her time talking back to the "mike" every day, Monday through Friday at 2:15 over WHAM. An enjoyable story that has attracted loads of listeners.
