Corpus Christi Parish

600 AT ALUMNI BANQUET

A SHINING SUCCESS, the First Grand Banquet of the Alumni Association of Corpus Christi School, promises to be. Over six hundred graduates and their companions will gather tonight at the Starlight Roof of the Sagamore for the affair. Father Stauder of Holy Redeemer Church, the first graduate of Corpus Christi to be ordained a priest, will be the principal speaker. Father Dwyer is directing the labors of the various committees. Dancing will follow the dinner, and an informal reception will be held to enable members to renew school acquaintances and talk over school experiences.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS was raised in the Diocesan Needs Collection last Sunday. The parish quota is nine hundred seventy-five dollars. Parishioners who did not make their offering last Sunday are asked to drop their offering in any collection Sunday, April 21. If these offerings do not make up the rest of the quota, it will be necessary to have a second Diocesan Needs Collection at a later date.

SUPPORT OF THE PARISH SCHOOL comes from the monthly School Collection. To all parishioners this should appeal as a means of doing their duty by Catholic Education in the parish. The Collection for April will be taken up Sunday, April 21.

NOVENA SERVICES TO THE EUCHARISTIC HEART OF JESUS are held each Thursday at 3:30 and at 8:00 P. M. One-half hour of prayer in common with congregational singing, before the Blessed Sacrament will mean many blessings for those making the Novena. Any nine attendances at the services make up a Novena. Petitions for particular favors may be handed in on the prepared forms or on your own stationery. The Eucharistic Heart of Jesus invites you to spend today's Novena Service with Him.

POLISH RELIEF calls for the attention of the Catholics of this diocese as of the rest of our country and all the world. Bishop Kearney has directed that a collection for Polish Relief be taken up in every church of the diocese during April. The collection will be taken up at Corpus Christi on the last Sunday of the month, April 28. Our alms may be given as a prayer that we may be spared the terrible privations and sufferings that are the portion of the oppressed people of Poland.

THE SODALITY MEETS Monday evening after the session of the High School Religious Club. Members and candidates are invited to be present.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION will be given on Pentecost Sunday to a class now in training. Children not in Corpus Christi School are directed to report for instructions Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00 P. M., beginning next Monday, April 22. Members of the class should be seven years old.

Can Regain Coat By Subscribing To Catholic Paper

SEATTLE. — Somewhere in this city there is a man who lost his coat, but if he carried out an apparent intention to subscribe for the Catholic Northwest Progress, he will regain it.

Dr. J. E. Stroh found the coat in the street in front of his home. In a pocket was a subscription blank for the diocesan newspaper. Dr. Stroh advised the publishers he is eager to restore the coat to its owner.

Catholicism's Help To Labor Told Union

WASHINGTON — Catholicism has been one of the great forces which have joined with labor in the struggle against those "respectable" influences conspiring to deprive American Labor of its rights and dignity.

This is the opinion of the Rev. Dr. John K. Cartwright, Pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, expressed at the twenty-first convention of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

"We Catholics did not have much to do with the first formation of the American attitude to life, nor therefore with the attitude to labor," Dr. Cartwright said.

"But we have had a great deal to do with the maintenance and preservation of that attitude. Americans started out with the right idea about labor. Americans have kept the right idea about labor. But this does not say that they have kept it automatically and without a struggle. The mob attitude has not prevailed in America, but the snob attitude has existed and might have spread.

Injustice Existed

"A more dangerous thing, the attitude of those who deny labor its rights, this too has not prevailed in America. But it has existed and might have been more influential than it is. There was a time when many able minds and powerful voices were concentrating on the conspiracy to deprive labor of its dignity by depriving it of its rights.

"There was a time when almost every 'respectable' influence in America agreed that labor had no right to organize, no right to bargain, no right to protest against injustice. Against those 'respectable' influences there were two great forces, on the one hand, labor's own consciousness of the integrity of its purpose, and on the other, the instinct of the Catholic people and clergy to be at one with the great mass of those who bore the burdens and who continued the skilled traditions which made life possible for everyone.

"Such was the instinctive attitude of Catholic clergy and people. It sprang from their reading of the Christian gospel. For them to have been anything else than pro-Labor, would have been to denature the sacred truths by which they lived. These instincts were later given new force and direction when Pope Leo XIII gave out his great encyclical letter of 1891. To read those pages now seems to be reading what is obvious. But do not forget when those pages were written, their thought was not accepted anywhere.

"By that document in 1891, the enormous influence of the Catholic Church was thrown behind a movement which, till then, in many 'respectable' circles was widely disapproved. It then became clear that not only Labor, but, outside Labor, Catholic teaching, supported the concepts of Labor's dignity, of its rights to the protection of the law, of the social duty of wealth and property, of the right to the living wage, of the right to unionize, of the repudiation of the theory of the labor market.

Toomey and McKay High In Pedro

Frank Toomey and George McKay split first and second prizes Friday night in the Rochester Knights of Columbus Pedro Tournament. Each wound up the evening with 217 points. Closely following the winners, was Joe Logan with 216 points and Gus Hall finished fourth with 211 points. Bill Hartell was awarded the Booby prize with 96 points for 7 games.

Joe Logan, paired up with Joe Garin, Sleight-at-hand artist, electrified the participants when he scored 14 points in four successive hands. Another tournament is scheduled for Friday, April 19, at 9:00 P. M.

Fair To Show Photos Of Poland's Ruin

NEW YORK — The Polish Pavilion at the 1940 New York World's Fair will display a gallery of photographs showing the destruction of historic buildings, shrines and other important landmarks in the history of Poland, at the hands of the Nazi and Soviet invaders.

In making this announcement today, Witold Wankowicz, acting Polish Commissioner General to the Fair, said the Polish Pavilion would remain "a perfect symbol of Poland." Placed in the gallery will be a list of names of distinguished Polish civic, religious and other leaders who died in the war or who are now in prison camps in Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia.

Jewish Constable Brings Priest, Last Sacraments To Girl Bus Victim

LONDON. — Kathleen O'Donnell came over from Roscommon to take a job in Birmingham. While out shopping she was knocked over by a bus, was taken to a hospital and died.

But before her death she received the Last Sacraments, owing to the quick-wittedness of a Jewish constable who saw the crowd of people on the sidewalk, doing nothing except looking at the helpless girl.

He heard someone say "She sounds Irish," for the girl was muttering something in her agony.

Without a word he ran to a nearby church, apologized for troubling the priest and added "We are all human and at such a moment it is a duty to see that a dying person has all the comfort she can get."

They dashed to the scene of the accident. No one knew whether the girl was a Catholic, so another policeman, who is not a Catholic, said "Perhaps she carries a rosary," and he opened her handbag.

There was a rosary there and Kathleen O'Donnell received the Last Sacraments.

REDEMPTORISTS PROGRESS IN NEGRO MISSIONS

ORANGEBURG, S. C.—Evangelization by the Redemptorist Fathers among the colored of this area, begun only a few months ago, already is bearing great fruit.

There are 5,000 Negroes in this county seat of 12,000 inhabitants. Until four months ago they never had a Catholic church of their own and knew little of the church and her teachings. Today as a result of the efforts expended by the Redemptorists of Holy Trinity Church, there are eleven pupils of the State College receiving the Sacraments and 25 under instruction. A Mission of Christ the King has been established and on Easter Sunday the first Mass was celebrated there. Instruction classes at the mission are growing and most popular. The Redemptorists distribute Catholic literature, make house to house visits and give frequent catechetical talks to children and adults.

276 Negro Catholics Receive Confirmation

PHILADELPHIA — The Church of Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament presented an impressive scene Sunday, when 276 Colored Catholics—56 adults and 220 children—received the Sacrament of Confirmation from the Most Rev. Hugh L. Lamb, Auxiliary Bishop of Philadelphia.

Bishop Lamb was attended by the Very Rev. George J. Collins, Provincial of the Fathers of the Holy Ghost, and the Rev. Joseph Cassidy, C. S. Sp. Several other members of the clergy and Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament were present.

In a discourse to the recent converts, Bishop Lamb exhorted them to the continued and persevering study of their religion.

WOMEN'S PARTY FRIDAY

A benefit card party is scheduled for Friday evening, April 19, in the school hall by the Women's Sodality of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Admission is 35 cents and all parishioners and friends are invited to attend.

Helping on the committee are Mrs. C. Barker, Mrs. H. Bistry, Mrs. M. Corrigan, Mrs. M. Heuer, Mrs. A. Hoch, Mrs. M. Keegan, Mrs. M. Metzger, Mrs. A. O'Hara, Mrs. C. Schied and Mrs. M. Schoen.

Members of the Holy Name Society had the pleasure of hearing Former U. S. Marshal Joseph Fritsch last Sunday morning at the Communion breakfast.

Commenting on the fine turnout for Holy Communion, Mr. Fritsch, a former parishioner, pointed out to the men that they should live their lives as Catholics, so will that members of other religions could have nothing but admiration for them and for the Church to which they belong. As Holy Name members, there is a special obligation to live good lives and to give good example.

The Young People's Club had a supper last Tuesday evening with a special program of movies. This is the first in a series of suppers to be held and the unanimous approval voiced last week indicates the success of the venture.

The large crowd present at the card party last Wednesday evening, held for the benefit of the Convent, was deeply appreciated by the Sisters. Redecorations are needed and the hearty response of the people to the appeal of the nuns shows they appreciate and are aware of the fine work being done in our school and have taken this opportunity to show their gratitude.

Another dance for the young people is scheduled for April 26 in the school hall. These activities have proven very popular and provide an evening of entertainment at a very small cost.
