Among Their Own

This week we ask you to send us Five dollars for the support and education of the students who are in the Major Seminary. These young men will soon be priests. They will work among their own people.

BIGGER SCHOOL NEEDED

Dominican Sisters Near Mosul

To the East of Syria is the Archdiocese of Mossul in Iraq. The Catholics from a small group hedged in between the Mohammedans and the Separated peoples. The Syrian Bishop of Mossul writes:

"About two months ago, we opened a comfortable Chapel in the Village of Bartelli. In this Village the Catholics are outnumbered three to one by the Separated peoples.

"Thanks to your Association we built a large Chapel. On the opening day about one hundred of the Separated people came to Mass. Many of them waited to meet me and expressed their satisfaction with our church. The pastor sent me a letter last week telling me that many of these people come to the new Chapel every Sunday.

"You see what you have done. The gift from one of your good members has attracted these people. It is always this way.

"In Bartelli we have a small school for girls, under the direction of the Dominican Sisters of the Third Order. This school should be enlarged. Now is the time to do it. The Separated people will send us their children just as soon as we can accomodate them.

"When we enlarge the school we will also put on a wing for the sisters. Doing all the work together we will save money. Now here is what I must tell you. We can do it all for Eight Hundred Dollars. Please don't be angry. Just ask for this and we will all be praying. I know somebody will answer. They must because so much depends on it."

Well we have given the Bishop's letter. We know he is right and we join our prayers with his that somebody will answer. A bigger school means more pupils under Catholic influence.

A CHALICE

Ten dollars will purchase a Chalice for a Near East mission chapel. Send us Ten dollars.

COMMUNION DRESS

Have you answered our appeal for the children who are preparing for First Holy Communion? Dress one child for that great day. Three dollars will take care of everything.

MISSION CHAPEL ALTARS

When you attend Mass on the First Friday or Sunday you are pleased to see the Altar beautifully decorated. In our mission chapels it is not a question of decorations but of the Altar. So many are in need of Altars. Those in use are only substitutes. Fifty dollars will erect an Altar in a mission chapel.

PICTURE OF OUR LADY

This is the month of May. Do something in honor of Our Blessed Mother. Donate a picture of Our Lady to a mission chapel. The missionary can buy one in the Near East for Five dollars.

MASS FOR DECEASED

Ask the missionary to offer Holy Mass for the deceased of your family.

PENTECOST SUNDAY

Next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost. The Church commemorates the Descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles. Pentecost has been called the Birthday of the Church, for on that day the Apostles commenced their work of preaching and baptizing.

INTERESTING PAMPHLET

Our pamphlet on Gregorian Masses is very interesting. It answers many questions. It explains the old custom of offering a Mass every day for thirty days for one who is deceased. Write for a copy. It is free.

CANDLES

In the Near East Eight dollars will buy all the candles used at Mass and at all devotions during the year. Make this gift for a special intention.

ALL WE ASK

One dollar a year is not a large sum. That is all we ever ask from our members. Why not enroll?

SCOUT FIELD MASS — INTER-FAITH DIOCESAN COMMITTEE — PRESS HONORS

Grown-ups Get Bid To Scout Field Mass

BISHOP TO OFFICIATE AT RITE, SATURDAY

Scouters, parents and all interested in Scouting are being invited to assist at the Scout Field Mass, Saturday morning, May 11, at 11 o'clock on the campus of Our Lady of Mercy High School.

His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, will celebrate the Mass which is the first ceremony of its kind in the history of the diocese. The Bishop will deliver the sermon and bless the colors of the Scout troops.

Boy and Girl Scouts accompanied by their Scoutmasters and other grown-ups will come from every section of the diocese to swell an attendance estimated in the thousands.

A beautifully decorated altar will be erected under a canopy against the rear of the school. A natural slope will assure a full view of the altar from every part of the field.

The Rev. Benedict Ehmann, professor of music at St. Bernard's and St. Andrew's Seminaries will be at the console of the organ and conduct singing of the hymns by the Scouts. Alternating with the Scouts will be the Mercy High School Choir.

Because this is the first time that a Field Mass has been conducted for the growing number of Catholic Boy and Girl Scouts in the diocese, it is expected that the colorful ceremony will attract many who have not fully appreciated the extent of this approved youth movement.

Our Lady of Mercy High School is located on Blossom Road (Main Street East trolley).

500 Women Attend Auburn's First Inter-Faith Dinner

AUBURN—Approximately 500 women attended the first interfaith dinner ever held in Auburn. Mrs. Joseph L. Barry represented the Auburn Deanery of Catholic Women; Mrs. E. A. Levi, the Jewish Women and Mrs. Donald H. MacKenzie, the Auburn Council of Church Women. It was the largest luncheon for women ever held.

Ways and means of cooperation among the three faiths were discussed by the three speakers.

In keeping with the idea of the gathering, three women took turns as presiding officer These were Mrs. E. J. Willis for the Protestant group, Mrs. J. C. O'Toole for the Roman Catholic women, and Mrs. I. S. Liberman for the women of Congregation of B'Nai Israel.

Mrs. MacKenzie

Mrs. MacKenzie, who had as her topic "Democracy and Religion in the World Today" quoted from an article in the current issue of Fortune, in which the writer took the stand that "Democracy is a spirit rather than a form of government."

Mrs. MacKenzie said in part:

"Our religion should develop in us all an attitude of active good will, the ability to see the best in others.

"Democracy is a spirit. It belongs to the intangibles. It is a spirit which our religion must release in the world."

Mrs. Barry

Mrs. Barry, speaking for the Roman Catholic women of the city, was given as the topic to be developed: "Religion and Democracy in the Home."

Mrs. Barry declared that religious training should begin in earliest childhood and that there is "no substitute for the home" in providing the early religious training which will enable our homes and our nation to resist the influences which are predominant in Red Russia and Nazi Germany and which are boring from within in our own country.

"In our homes we should be taught that a civic duty is a sacred trust."

Mrs. Levi

Speaking from the theme: "Religion and Democracy in This Nation," Mrs. E. A. Levi, as a representative of the Jewish women of this city, declared "religious teaching based upon the principals of brotherhood leads to the spirit of the golden rule. Such a spirit is vital to religion and to democracy."

Mrs. Levi developed the thought that religion and democracy are vital to the civil and spiritual life of the United States of America. The latter, she pointed out, is interwoven with the former.

The three chairmen alternated in introducing the speakers. Women of the various religions represented were intermingled in the seating. Friendly discussions of various matters of common interest among them were under way informally during the serving of the luncheon.

So numerous were the participants in the luncheon that they overflowed from the Pompeian Room into adjoining portions of the hotel.

200 Policemen Told Religion's Value

Miniature gold badges resembling police badges were presented to the Most Rev. James E. Kearney and the Rev. John S. Randall at the Communion Breakfast of the Police Holy Name Society held in the Elks Club following reception of Holy Communion at St. Joseph's Church, Sunday.

Bishop Kearney, celebrant of the Mass was assisted by Father Randall, with Policeman Arthur Doyle and Plainclothes Officer Lee Davis serving. Policemen acted as ushers.

More than 200 Rochester policemen attended and heard Thomas F. Galvin, Lawrence, Mass, public safety director declare that "A God-fearing policeman is a good policeman," as he urged religion as a part of every day life.

His Excellency, Bishop Kearney told the officers that "a good policeman is not only one who enforces the law and follows all departmental regulations, but, one whose sense of duty springs from his mind and his soul."

The gold badges were presented by Commissioner Thomas C. Woods on behalf of the Holy Name Society. Instead of numbers, each badge has a cross. On the Bishop's badge are the words: 'Spiritual Adviser," and on Father Randall's, "Chaplain."

Policeman Mark Hollham of Franklin Street Station was elected president of the society. Elected with him were Father Randall, chaplain, and Policeman Theodore Neidert, Joseph Avenue Station, secretary.

Among guests including city and police officials and prominent business men was Norman A. O'Brien, president, Rochester Diocesan Holy Name Union.
