THE ART OF PRAYER

To pray is the simplest thing | on earth and in human life. It a like breathing to the body God made it natural and easy because it is so necessary. To pray needs no learning, no elequence, no money, no earthly cartificates mor deplomas. It does not even require a special feeling of devotion; sensible relish and consolation at prayer are acci-dental accompanaments, and not part of prayer.
We enumerate these facts to remind you of the real purpose and power of Mission Sunday of the Sick, observed on the Feast of Pentecost, May 12. In these days when might is considered the only right in the world, we urge our Catholic people to remember that, while the pen may be, on occasion, mightier than the sword, prayer still remains the greatest weapon in the hands of man. It is the ladder setween the Oxamipotent God and His humblest creature, a ladder upon whose rungs no twisted limb is too weak to climb, no tortured body too feeble to ascend. Today as perhaps never before, the Catholic world realizes the weakness of mighty force. With that realization comes the knowledge of the power of the weak. Strong and stalwart manhood, the erry of the sick and afflicted, once more becomes the food of death, camnon fodder for the gods of wrath. Statesmanship, diplomacy, intrigue are checkmated—justice, hope, even sanity, are destroyed Only prayer remains— prayer, the weapon of the weak, as well as of the strong, the great medium most used by our God made Man. Let us hope nome of His beloved sick will forget to utilize this power on Pentecost, and thus provide the strength and spiritual reall misforturies caused by the spirits of evil? The noise of the tom-toms and cybals are capable of frightening these spirits away and the knoantations of the priests with their prayer whells will insure their non-return. These ideas must be set aside by the sincere catechumen and not phyte. The surkining hand of fervent prayer is required in order that he might achieve the ultimate goal of active Christianity.

Yet there are many consolations for our valiant missionaries. In June, 1838, there were litted close to three and a quarter milition catechermens, while for the same year there were approximately 430,000 neophytes. Truly the harvest is whitening, the isborers are willing, but it must be remembered that "the iffe-germ and potentialities of the 'naw plant' come solely and entirely from God."
