

WHERE TO BUY

A Home of Preferred
Business Firms

ROSARIES
From $1.00 up
HUMBERT
Kittles
1 NORTH ST.
WATCH-CLOCK
Repairing

DAVISON BROS.
Auto Tops and Side Curtains
Custom Model & Photo Seat Covers
Decorating - Repairing - Cleaning
Contributors of
"The Catholic Cigar and Plastic Cigarette MATCH"
ANY CAR

Bartolomay
PAINTERS
MILK-CAKES
MAIN 1230
St. John Bakery

W. A. RON
STAMPS
PHOTOGRAPHY
MAILING DEPT.
MAIN 1231
Rochester, N. Y.

ROPPING AND METAL WORK
We supply all your needs
in sheet metal, wire mesh,
DAVISON CO., INC.
100 South St.
Rochester, N. Y.

TIMELESS SPECIALIST
A. J. D. Tamm, Owner
Photographer
Services: Photography
Portraits and Pictures
Photo Studio
Main 247
Rochester, N. Y.

Vincent F. Barker
Portrait and Business Photography
Portraits and Pictures
Main 247
Rochester, N. Y.

Seminary Club
To Present Play

St. Boni Student

Given Cervantes Medal

ST. BONAVENTURE N.Y.

The Cervantes Medal

presented for excellence in Spanish

J. S. JENNER

Rochester, N. Y.

Care To Read

The Movie Guide

THE GOODS

WINGSIDE INN

LAKE

DIOCESAN NEWS

Parents Throng Schools Making 'Week' Success

Parents went back to school this past week—thousands of them, to see for themselves the work Johnnie and Mary are doing in school these days. If attendance records count for anything, "Catholic School Week" may rightly be judged a decided success.

Schools were gaily decorated with samples of the work done by children in their regular classroom periods throughout the year. Colorful displays of everyday scenes done by the primary grade children vied with striking posters of the upper grades on inventions, virtues and various other subjects which constitute part of the regular curriculum.

Handicraft work—exact productions of vestments used in church services, soap-carvings, wood-carvings received special commendation.

In some grades projects were put up on themes such as "Children of Other Lands," showing historically the lands wherein they live, their native foods, their peculiar dress and special traits of character. Perhaps the keynote of all the exhibits was sounded in the schools' depiction of the motto for "God and Country." The sound religious training of the children, which makes for good citizens of earth and heaven, clearly influenced the whole setup of the exhibits.

Acknowledgments will extend from the schools in a double fashion—first, they will thank the 200 Mass celebrated by Father Tolson as Thanksgiving for the blessings which God has already blessed the pastor. Next, they will present at the supper following the pastor the offering of these Masses as God's gift to the people. This will be a most appropriate gesture, since Father Tolson, the Elizabethan pastor from the earliest times of the New England Colonies.

Representatives from local societies are in charge of the entire affair and program. St. George, St. Peter and Paul, St. Mary, Living Rosary, and the Parish Committee, following the supper, dancing now the young people will be the attraction until the 10th anniversary will be the theme for the monthly folk dancing.

Annual Retreat For Laymen To Open June 14

Twenty-five days in warm-weather after a return to spiritual and bodily training nature will be the principal theme of the annual retreat of the members of the Rochester Diocesan Laymen's Retreat League, scheduled to open at 7 p.m. Friday, June 14, at St. Bernard's Seminary, Cedar Avenue. Their Rev. Msgr. John J. Healy, C.M., Diocesan Vicar General, will conduct the retreat. It was announced by Captain A. Tucker, chairman of the retreat, that it would be held in all diocesan parishes. The dates are expected to follow the Thursday afternoon to Saturday morning. There will be only one weekend retreat this year. Tuition fee, reservations may be made with Salm or with Leopold Secretary Charles M. Dierman, 6 Main St. at 23rd Genesee St., Blvd.

Services Held For Joseph C. Witzel

The funeral of Joseph C. Witzel, 1084 Clinton Ave. North, was held Tuesday morning, May 24, at St. Michael's Church with the Rev. Arthur Flork officiating. The Rev. Charles Aszl, assistant at the funeral parlors of Bender Bros. on Alexander St., was in the sacristy during the Mass. Burial was at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery where the Fathers Flork and Aszl conducted the service.

Burials were nephews, Frank Witzel, Hilbert Witzel, Walter Witzel, Ralph Witzel, Florian Deleith and Ralph Deleith.

Mr. Witzel was in his 84th year, born in Rochester in 1856 and lived for nearly 60 years at the Clinton Ave. residence. He was well known serving a large portion of German people in his line of work.

He was president and acted as treasurer for several years in the Baudelaire Manufacturer, and when he resigned on account of failing health he was made an honorary member.

The Choral Society met in a hall and marched to the funeral home where they sang in his honor as a fitting farewell to one of their members who was ever ready to help them when advice was needed.

Mr. Witzel is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Witzel, and one daughter, Mary Witzel, who wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to all relatives and friends who so kindly extended their sympathy during this time.

Record Priest's Address

Washington.—The address of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John A. Ryan, Director of the Department of Social Action of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, in which he discussed the cure of the unemployment problem before the regional meeting of the Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems in New Orleans May 4, was printed in the Congressional Record, on the motion of Senator James M. Mead of New York.

However, after the exhibit, talk in those offices will start between the business hills, and talk between all doors.

Wings' First Night Game Set

Promising towards the first night game of the season, scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 28, the Rochester Red Wings continued an interesting building campaign by announcing a new 14th game date with the White Sox leading off the series against the Newark City Giants on May 29.

The Wings, having won the first division, invaded Red Wing Stadium Sunday, May 26, and will play a double-header from the Byrdmoor Chiefs. The Wings are still battling it out with the Baltimore Orioles and Little Giants for the top spot in the loop. This week they embarked on a long way to praying the faithful to stay at one place. While the Giants and Orioles are battling each other the White Sox and the Montreal Royals and Toronto Maple Leafs in three-game series. The Buffalo Bisons, having around the first division, invade Red Wing Stadium Sunday, May 26, and will play a double-header.

The old rivalry between the Wings and Bisons is expected to flare and at capacity crowds should be on hand. The Bisons also will furnish the opposition in the first owl game slated for May 28, and President O'Brien French obligingly announced that it will be ladies' night with the feminine routers serving minestrone at a reduced price.

On the final night, the Wings face another familiar opponent, the Newark City Giants, who will be joined by the Newark Indians in a double header.

With the opening of the new stadium, the Red Wings will be in full swing again.

CATHOLIC COURIER

SCHOOL WEEK A SUCCESS! MARK ANNIVERSARIES

Knights of St. John

General Orders

1. The Officers and Knights of this commandery ordered to appear in full dress uniform at the Headquarters, St. Joseph's Church, Franklin St., etc. Thursday morning, May 20th at 8:45 A. M. Sharp for Memorial Day Parade.

2. Staff Officers will report to Chief of Staff immediately upon arrival.

3. Band will report to Regiments Adjutant immediately upon arrival.

4. Each Captain will assign both colors to the color company.

5. Line will be formed in command of the battalions at 8:45 A. M.

6. The Aquinas Institute Band directed by Mr. Ray Hauseuer, the Knights of St. John, commanded by Col. Frederick J. Wiegmann, will follow as the escort to the Patriotic School Division.

7. Following will be the standard bearers with the colors.

8. Line will be formed in command of the battalions at 8:45 A. M.

9. The Aquinas Institute Band will bring up the rear.

10. The line of march will include these schools: Sacred Heart, Blenheim, Immaculate Conception, Corpus Christi, Good Council, Holy Angels, St. Francis de Sales, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Our Lady of Victory and Immaculate Conception.

11. Ambrose, St. Andrews, St. Augustine's, St. Anthony's, St. Boniface, St. Bridget, St. Francis Xavier, St. George, St. John the Evangelist, St. Joseph's, St. Lucy's, St. Mary's, St. Michael's, St. Monica's, St. Peter and Paul's, St. Theresa's and St. Mary's Home.

Boys from Aquinas Institute will carry the Catholic School Banner.

The parade will start at Main and Broad Street, proceed east on Main Street to East Avenue, south on Alexander, west on Monroe and dispense on South Avenue at Grinnell Street.

Assisting the Rev. John M. Duffy, Assistant Marshall in charge of his section, are: Frank Melville, Rev. Msgr. Hauseuer, Bands Col. Frederick J. Wiegmann, Knights of St. John, Roy Benson and Lewis Stiles on drilling units.

Fr. Boland Named Rector and Dean

The Rev. William T. J. Boland, of Rochester, has been appointed rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Dean of the Seminary and Desecanry and President of Immaculate High School, according to word received from the Diocese of Leavenworth in Kansas.

Born in Rochester June 18, 1893, he was graduated from old Cathedral School in June 1910. He attended St. Andrew's Seminary and spent four years as a student for his degree at the seminary.

He was ordained to the priesthood at Nazareth College where he was a member of the National Catholic Women's Union, Rochester Branch.

He analyzed the factors that brought about a decline in the guild system. Chief among these was the apathy of man and a desire for gain. The Reformation had its part also because it weakened the religious thinking of the people, with the consequent effect upon the religious freedom of the people.

Growth of individualism.

As a consequence, he stated, individualism became more widespread; workers were denied the right to associate with one another for mutual protection, and the right of the state to interfere was denied. These conditions continued until the rise of modern trade-unionism. By steady and persistent efforts of the guild system.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.

He concluded his talk with an explanation of the corporative system as advocated by Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical. On the reconstruction of the Social Order.

This system goes back to the late M. Maier, Raymond Hermele.

He pointed out further that if the working man is to retain what he has already gained and to make further progress, the individualistic spirit must be broken down and the spirit of cooperation built up.

He gave instances of many forms of cooperation that are working well. In all of these workers are given a more active part in the business, and divisions of profit are made on the basis of the share that the worker takes in the business. This called cooperation.