DIOCESAN NEWS HONEOYE FALLS CHURCH — LAY RETREAT HONOR JUBILARIAN — INMATES PRESS

Cornerstone Laid For New St. Paul Church

Rites at Honeoye Falls Brings Many Priests

The ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the new $50,000 St. Paul's Church in Honeoye Falls was held last Sunday with a large audience attending. Contained in the stone was a box in which an historical sketch of the Catholic Church here, newspapers, pictures and other historical data were contained. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, V.G. officiated with the Rev. John Naper of Shortsville and the Rev. John M. Duffy, superintendent, Catholic Schools assisting. Following priests were also present: the Rev. Raymond Lynn, Henrietta; the Rev. George W. Doud, East Bloomfield; the Rev. John M. Ball, Lima; the Rev. Patrick McArdle, Scottsville; the Rev. John Redding, St. Bernard's Seminary; the Rev. E. Joseph Eber, Victor; the Rev. Paul Gaffney, Industry.

The Rev. William J. Killackey, pastor of St. Paul of Cross Church in Honeoye Falls took part in the ceremony. In commemorating this occasion, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, who spoke at the ceremony said: "Many of you people here today have memories go back to the dream of the pastor who here served you before of a new church to be erected here, realize the reality is near at hand. Monsignor Hart spoke of the zealous and priestly labors of Father Leary and Father O'Rourke, former pastors and congratulated the parishioners and others on the fact they are about to realize the long cherished dream of a new church.

The ground for this new edifice was broken May 1. The building will be 102 feet long and 37 feet wide. It will seat 350. The basement has a seating capacity of 100. Father Killackey, pastor, says the edifice will be finished about Oct. 1. The new building at Monroe and Locust Streets, will replace the building recently purchased by the federal government as a site for a new postoffice, according to Father Killackey. It will be a brick building of Gothic design. Leo F. Ribson of Rochester is the architect. The general contract of the building is to Anthony Link Sons of Rochester. E. J. Bloomfield, Mendon, has the plumbing, heating and electrical contract, and Morrison & Schuler, Rochester, holds the electrical contract. Services are being conducted in the old church at present. Father Killackey says if the government decides to build the new post office before the new church is finished, he said, temporary quarters will be found in the village.

Arthur Q. Bryan, the "Wayward W. Washington" singer, at Peacock's program, was a star radio tenor for four years, gradually working into the field of entertainment and comedy. George Burns of the Burns and Allen team started show business as a "hooker" and was a singing and dancing man until he and Gracie teamed for a new comedy act. Earl Perry, the "Olderleever" of Fibber McGee and Molly, was known as the "agitated songster" in radio's early days before he acquired the eighty characteristics he now possesses. Al Pearce was a barber shop bongo player in San Francisco as his first entertainment venture.

Statue of the Sacred Heart

As an act of thanksgiving, give a Statue of the Sacred Heart to a mission chapel. The missionary can purchase a large Statue for fifteen Dollars.

NEED FOR NATIVE PRIESTS

Nothing that we can do for the future of the mission is more important than the training and education of young men for the priesthood. After God's grace, we must depend on them.

In the Near East there are young men who wish to be priests. They have offered themselves to the Bishops. They were not accepted because the Bishops are too poor to support these students. In the meantime, the mission lands need native priests to work and minister to the people.

If a benefactor were to sell at our office with a large sum of money and the sum suggested, we would give it to us to do the young men of the mission who wish to be priests. The native clergy is necessary if real progress is to be made. A priest who belongs in a country is immediately accepted by the people in the language of the people and understands their customs, ideas and idiosyncrasies. He is one of themselves.

After high school and at least two years in college the student is ready for the Major Seminary. Here he spends six years, and then is ordained a priest. We need one hundred dollars each year, or six hundred dollars for the entire course in the Major Seminary. We ask for help. Some can afford to be a student through the seminary. They can send us one hundred dollars a year to send the student to college for one year. There are others who would be willing to support a student for one year. This can be done. They can send us their offerings in any way they feel convenient. Perhaps others will take care of a student for 4 months—ten dollars.

We ask our readers to do what they can. Every gift, even the smallest helps the Bishops to develop a native clergy.

ALTAR LITENING

The law of the Church requires that certain liturgical books be used on every altar where Mass is said. In some of our missions these books are very old, worn and worn. They should be replaced. The necessary material for a new set. The Bishops will do the work of setting and shipping them.
