New York Paper Lauds Work of Catholic Group

NEW YORK.—The work of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists, which was organized here several years ago in aiding the labor movement of undesirable elements, while supporting vigorously all legitimate activities of labor, is described in an article by Richard Lamb appearing in the New York World Telegram.

The proprietors of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists, Mr. Lamb writes, "are young Catholic men and women who were wholeheartedly in accord with the principles of trade unionism but against some of its dynamics." "As one of them remarked, they were 'horrified' and 'indignant' at the 'double-edged sword' of the labor racketeers' thrust between the 'individualistic creed of capitalism on the one hand and Communism on the other,' he adds.

Based on Encyclicals Mr. Lamb explains that the Association is an outgrowth of recommendations made by the late Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical, Quadragesimo Anno, in which the Pontiff urges the formation, side by side with trade unions, of associations which aim at giving their members a thorough religious and moral training, so that these "may impart to the labor union to which they belong the upright spirit which should direct their entire conduct."

"The Association," Mr. Lamb said, "yields its militancy to none, as a number of militant employers can testify. Once convinced that a striking union has justice on its side and needs help, the A.C.T.U. will help to picket. And when a rank and file appeal for aid against an unscrupulous leader the A.C.T.U. will even supply, at its own expense, legal counsel. While membership is restricted to Roman Catholic members of bona fide unions, the A.C.T.U. extends its services to unionists of any faith and to non-unionists of any faith. Non-Catholics are welcome, however, to participate as full-throated members in the industrial conferences, or panel discussions, sponsored by the A.C.T.U."

SS. Peter and Paul's SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR

The annual bazaar which was held on 88. Peter and Paul's Church grounds last weekend was most successful. Father Fox, who was in charge of the affair, wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the people of the parish and to thank the workers for their splendid cooperation. A "thank you" party was held in the hall on Wednesday evening for all the workers and collectors.

Sacred Heart Parish SODALITY PICNIC

Members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of Sacred Heart Church held a basket picnic at Ellison Park last Wednesday. Several of the Socialists attended, and a most enjoyable time was had by all. Funeral services for Miss Honora Foley were held last Thursday. July 11 were held in the Pro-Cathedral of the Sacred Heart at 9 o'clock on Monday, July 22. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Geo. V. Burns, Rev. P. Crimmins, deacon and the Rev. John Callahan, sub-deacon.

According To The Doctor

The voice should not be used more than is absolutely necessary when it is hoarse. The best way for a child to acquire distinct and refined speech is to hear it habitually. Great numbers of people are handicapped by heavy, harsh, indistinct, or disagreeable speech—much of it also hoarse. Parents and teachers should remember as children are growing up what an advantage to them in later life a refined, melodious voice will be. Nearly all children have sweet voices when young, but many lose them before adult life through acquired nervous habits, dusty and ill-ventilated rooms, deformity of lungs due to restrictive clothing, or from singing during the time their voices are changing or attempting to sing beyond the compass of their voices. Methods of voice training vary, but it should be noted that there is no special virtue in any one system. To train the voice properly the motor factor, the vocal instrument and the resonant chambers must be considered together. In some pupils one factor may need more emphasis than the others and the successful teacher will meet the needs of the pupil rather than persist with every pupil a rigid system. There must be no straining and no tenseness. Breathing exercises that call for a rigid overfilled chest destroy flexibility. Gymnastics, too, sometimes make the individual tense and rigid from a too great strain of nerves and muscles.

'Upper Room' Was First Church

NEW YORK.—The Council ever, that if men are to share in the benefits of the Eucharist, they must first be purified by the sacrament of the Eucharist, which purifies the soul. The "Upper Room" is the first church of the "Catholic Hour" in the city. It is a place where the soul is purified and the heart is made ready for the reception of the Eucharist. CATHOLIC BOOK GUILD THRIVES NEAR STATE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

WASHINGTON.—The Berkeley Book Guild, which conducts a Catholic lending library and book shop just off the campus of the University of California in Berkeley, is becoming recognized as one of the city's leading book centers, according to Mrs. F. W. Alston, of Berkeley, who was in Washington this week with her daughter and visited the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

"Our Guild is unique, we feel, in a number of ways," Mrs. Alston said. "Our location near the campus of the University of California brings to us increasing numbers of students, both Catholic and non-Catholic, who use our reading room, borrow books, and attend our regular lectures and book review hours. We have a well-stocked pamphlet rack and a magazine section, and there is no charge for borrowing pamphlets and magazines. We have about 100 contributing members and 50 general members. Service in the library is given by voluntary workers.

"We have book reviews and teas on Wednesday afternoons, and an evening lecture once a week. We try to have a talk on interracial problems once a month, one on international affairs once a month, and one on some aspect of the Church's social teaching once a month. Non-Catholic students and members of the faculty of the University show a keen interest in our activities."

AMERICAN NEGROES TO HAVE 'CATHOLIC WEEK'

CHICAGO.—Proclaiming July 25 to August 4 as Catholic Week at the American Negro Exposition, now in session at the Coliseum here, the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago, has called upon priests and people to cooperate in making this week a week of demonstration of our common brotherhood in Christ.

"The Exposition was arranged as a national commemoration, to mark the progress of the Negro race since Emancipation 75 years ago. The Week will be brought to a close with a Solemn Pontifical Mass on Sunday, August 4, at an altar erected in the main aisle of the Coliseum. Archbishop Stritch himself is scheduled to preach the sermon on this occasion. It is expected that large delegations of some of them headed by their Bishops and priests, will come from distant points for this concluding ceremony.

Asserting that "the presence of a Catholic Exhibit offers an opportunity which must not be overlooked," Archbishop Stritch says that "for perhaps the first time the Catholic Church is able to reach out to a majority of the Colored people of America and make them understand the feeling she has for them." "Many of these people, because of mistaken impressions and hearsay, would never enter a Catholic church by themselves," he points out. "But at the Coliseum, we have been able to bring the Church into their midst at the diamond jubilee celebration of Emancipation in such a way as to stir up an honest pride in the heart of every Negro Catholic and to excite an admiring and friendly curiosity in the rest."

Priests, Nuns Rescue Patients in Fire

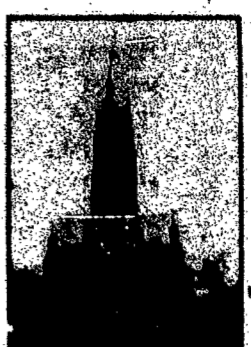

TOLEDO.—Priests, nuns, nurses, hospital employees and volunteers worked with such efficiency and self-possession during a fire which damaged St. Vincent's Hospital here, that 17 persons, many of them bed-ridden, were removed to safety without disturbing the slumber of some of the patients. Sister Papineau, Superior of the Sisters of Charity (Grey Nuns), who conduct the hospital, issued a statement lauding the police and fire departments for their work in connection with the fire. Damage has been estimated at $35,000. Children are expected to contract disease. Protect them.
