The Girl Scouts of Troop 167 held a birthday party on Oct. 15. This troop has been in existence for one year. After the supper the Girl Scouts received awards for attendance, dancing and singing. Following this a short address was given by the Rev. Raymond Wahl. The Rev. Bernard V. Kuchman and committee women of Troop 199 were guests.

Holy Family won its second and third games of the season by defeating the Iroquois Merchants 25-6 and the Northeast Merchants 20-6.

The Dutch owners were too strong for the Bayaiders and repeated power plays ran up the 25-6 score.

The Northeast Merchants had been unbeaten in the last three years until they ran into the Holy Family squad. Scores in the first and third periods proved enough enough to down the Merchants who scored only once in the final period with but two minutes remaining.

Legler, Reichert, Puhish, Dike and Brower featured for the winners, while Schneider, Hoestery and Teuschel were standouts for the Merchants.

Along a Burma Road

From Burma so dramatically in the war news of recent days, comes this picture of some debutantes of the Padareng tribe in the Vicariate of Toungoo, pictured during a visit of their vicar, Bishop Alfredo Lanfranconi. It is not uncommon for the brass ornaments worn about the neck, wrists and ankles to weigh from 20 to 30 pounds. (NC-Fides photo.)

Holy Childhood Association

Rev. John S. Randall
DIRECTOR

These beautiful Autumn days remind us of October's bright blue weather about which the poets write. Although we are along quite a way in the month of the Holy Rosary I am sure that you are realizing more and more every day the importance of the daily recitation of the rosary, and even after October's days have passed into history you will be faithful to this practice so dear to the heart of Our Blessed Lady. You know boys and girls, it was at a time very similar to the troublesome period which the world is now going through that St. Dominic promoted the devotion of the rosary. Some how I feel that if every Catholic in the world would especially at this particular time, say the rosary every day, peace might be restored to the world.

I have just come across a little mission story on the rosary which I thought you boys and girls would be interested in hearing, so I am passing it on to you.

It was Reverend Mother's Feast Day and that meant that it was everybody's feast day at a Mission School in Southern India. The sun was shining the birds were singing, the children were happy. Indians are easily satisfied, because they are poor and need so little. A piece of cloth for clothing a meal of rice, or a few bananas or a cocoanut to eat.

In the convent there at Coimbatore everyone was busy. The children were finishing their garlands of flowers. The tiny tots, the old people, the school children and the catechumens were occupied with many whispering and a great deal of running about.

At last the concert was over and the competition of dancing and singing and reciting before the Reverend Mother. There was the usual distributions of sweets, but added to that a big packet of pictures was opened to the joy of all. And then the children's eyes sparkled when they saw a bundle of shining rosaries of brightly colored glass.

"Mother Superior must be rich to have so many rosaries," cried Soosai, her eyes fixed longingly on the glistening beads. Her turn came to choose. For a long time she hesitated but finally made up her mind and asked for the red beads.

For days there was plenty of praying. Beads rattled and jingled. Then one afternoon, Soosai, who was so proud of her beads, came to the chapel with empty hands and embarrassed. The rosary began and Sister beckoned to her to take out her beads and recite with the others. Soosai did not move. Sister made another sign. Soosai remained with clasped hands.

As they left the chapel, "Where is your lovely rosary, Soosai? Have you lost it?"

"No Sister."

"Well then——"

"Sister you remember what the teacher made us sing?"

"What was it?"

"After the ground has been dug if it is looked after and seeds are planted God will make it bring forth flowers and fruit."

"Well?"

"Poor Mother Superior. She gave away so many rosaries and even then, didn't enough. So I very poor. Yesterday I thought to plant mine. It will sprout and grow others and next year Mother will have plenty and need to buy none."

Soosai relieved, led Sister to the little piece of garden well raked and watered. A little stick marked the place where the rosary was "sown".

"I have made a great sacrifice Sister but watch how well I look after my garden and next year we'll have many, oh so many rosaries."

Sister then explained to Soosai that rosaries do become wonderful flowers, roses of gold but in the bright fields of Heaven.

So you see boys and girls how very anxious little Soosai was to spread the devotion of the rosary. If this poor little pagan without the benefit of the regular religious training that you receive, is so eager and enthusiastic about Our Lady's devotion, you who have so many advantages and opportunities to say her beads should lead the world in this devotion. What not resolve now to say it every day of your life and encourage the other members of your family to join with you. Remember that more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. And remember too, that Our Lady's rosary is a great and powerful prayer.

NEWSWEEK

Well boys and girls, another great Mission Sunday has come and gone. From the results thus far received it looks as if you boys and girls did a wonderful job praying for the success of this day and talking up the missions to your family. And furthermore your girls yourselves did a wonderful job sacrificing and saving for your contribution to the mission cause. While all the schools have not been heard from in this regard we feel that before the week is up a goodly number will have reported their Mission Sunday adoptions to our office. So then, let's see what we have here in the mail bag this morning.

The boys and girls down in Irondequoit from St. Margaret Mary's School had to run a very fast race to win the Mission race this week. However they won easily over the other schools of the diocese because they came in with no less than six adoptions three from the Fifth Grade and three from the Seventh. The Fifth Grade would like three little Negro children from North Carolina and they are to receive the names of Mary Margaret Mary and Charles at their baptism. The Seventh Grade girls and boys also show a partiality to the little colored folk. The boys would like theirs named Charles and the girls have chosen Vincent Mary. And here comes John Friedrich this year in the Seventh Grade to ransom another baby all by himself. John has been as loyal and true a missioner as we have ever had the pleasure to meet. He is naming his little Chinese boy Vincent Mary. Thanks a million times boys and girls. You sure do have the real mission zeal at St. Margaret Mary's.

Close on the heels of St. Margaret Mary's came another school that always puts up a good fight for first place. Of course you know that it is St. Andrew's of Rochester. Here's a letter from the Fifth Grade West who in addition to ransoming in their ransom have also paid their dues to the amount of $4.25.

"We could not let Mission Sunday pass by without showing our dear Saviour how anxious we are to help win souls by our daily prayers and little sacrifices. We cannot tell you how happy and proud we felt when Sister told us we had all our dues paid. By saving our pennies every day we finally reached our goal—$4.00—just in time for Mission Sunday."

Since the boys won this time they would like to name their Indian baby Robert Paul Delaney.

Fifth Grade West, St. Andrew's School.

Thanks a million, boys and girls. It's good to know that we can always count on the good old faithfuls like St. Andrew's. But that isn't all, along comes the Fourth Grade girls with a little Indian lad to be christened Aloysius. Carrie Lou Jones and Joan Flanagan are the godparents. And then there's the Eighth Grade South who would like to rescue Mary Celine, a little Indian maiden. They have chosen John Burns and Vita Vullo for the godparents. And just arriving under the wire came the Third Grade South with their contribution of $4.25 for Holy Childhood dues. In addition to their sacrifices Sister advised us that they had a very large showing at Mass and Holy Communion on Mission Sunday for the mission intention. I can't find adequate words to express my thanks for all this wonderful work but I can assure you that you will receive many and rich blessings from Almighty God for this wonderful work.

The Holy Family team meets the Trojans at Y & E. field on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27. The game begins at 2:30 P. M. sharp. The public is invited to watch the game free of charge.

The Sacred Heart Society Prayer Hours will be from 3 to 4 in the afternoon and the Sodality of Mary's from 6 to 7 o'clock.

Solemn closing of the Forty Hours will be held at 7:45 Sunday evening.

The officers of the various Church organizations are asked to attend the Harvest Festival meeting which will be held on Friday evening.

Books of tickets on the 100 turkeys have been distributed among the parish. Every effort should be made to sell these tickets. Awards have been promised to the three people selling the greatest number of books.

The Church needs our help and we should do all in our power to make the Bazaar a success.

Our prayers are requested for the repose of the soul of Mary Anna Bauer Geratner, who died Wednesday morning, Oct. 16, at her home, 870 Linden Street.

Mrs. Geratner leaves her husband, Joseph M. Geratner; one daughter, Mrs. Herbert G. Reinschmidt, two granddaughters, two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Boniface Church. Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Drowned Priest's Body Found Washed Ashore

DERBY, Conn., — The Rev. Julian Pustelnick, C.M., Assistant Pastor of St. Michael's Church here, whose body was washed ashore on Long Island after he had been missing, was buried following services at St. Michael's. The Most Rev. Henry J. O'Brien, Auxiliary Bishop of Hartford, gave the final absolution.

Father Pustelnik, a native of Poland, went for a sail in his boat from Milford on September 5. The boat was found empty ashore that night near Shiffen's Point. It was believed Father Pustelnik was dragged overboard by the anchor line.

Well, well, here's an interesting letter from our good old friends at St. Boniface.

"We are still out of breath from hurrying to be the first of St. Boniface School to ransom a mission baby. So here we are to tell you that we want a Chinese baby. Please name him John Bernard. We promise to ransom as many as possible." Sixth Grade, St. Boniface School.

The Eighth Grade-1 has its first ransom. We are second on the list. We would like you to choose the Mission and the name. Send it where it is most needed. We hope to ransom more during the year."

Eighth Grade-1, St. Boniface.

Well, let's see now. What can we name it? How about a little Indian girl to be called Monica? Do you like that? I'm sure you boys and girls from the Sixth and Eighth Grades realize how very much I appreciate your efforts of sacrifice for Mission Sunday. Thank you a thousand times, and keep up the good work.

DUES

Several of the schools are getting right down to the serious business of paying up their dues before starting on their ransoms. This week we heard from St. Vincent's in Corning who sent us $21.72. And then there came $8.50 from the boys and girls of Holy Family School in Auburn, with the promise that very shortly the ransoms would be pouring in. And last, but by no means least, came our good friends from St. Patrick's School in Owego. They sent us a check for $12.00 for Holy Childhood dues. Many thanks to these boys and girls for their promptness in this matter. We'd like to hear from you next week. May we?
