crowded schedule in their advancement.

Bishop Hickey was the founder of Cathedral High School, later to become Rochester Catholic High, then Aquinas Institute, which is now housed in an adequate building on Dewey Avenue and is one of the monuments to his zeal for true education.

Builder of Schools

Under his guidance the Sisters of St. Joseph founded Nazareth College 16 years ago, which today is building a new and greater college to carry on the groundwork so well laid by Bishop McQuaid and his successor, Bishop Hickey.

His interest in Nazareth Academy, never flattered down through the years and in September he joined with the Excellency, Bishop Kearney in dedicating the new wing of the Academy and in paying an eloquent tribute to Sister M. Marcella, principal.

Our Lady of Mercy High School, conducted by the Sisters of Mercy, and now building a needed addition on Blossom Road, came into existence under the interested direction of Bishop Hickey.

Advancement of secondary Catholic education was not confined to Bishop Hickey's interest in the See City of Rochester. His Catholic parishes, Holy Family, Holy Family High School in Auburn, both in this diocese.

His early concern for Catholic children in public schools caused him to be one of the first to negotiate with the Board of Education for permission to take the children out of school for one class period each week. This plan became operative as long ago as 1909.

Founded Charities

Through his administration of works of charity, Bishop Hickey founded the Rochester Catholic Charities, the Elmira Catholic Charities, the Elmira Child Genesee Institute and the Charles House.

He founded the Catholic Women's Club and instituted the Holy Name Society in the diocese.

Following his death, donations from Home Bishop erected the diocesan office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith with the Rev. Leo C. Mooney as director on March 10, 1943.

Always manifesting interest in the progress of St. Mary's Hospital where he was called to his eternal reward it was during Bishop Hickey's reign that St. Joseph's Hospital in Elmira and Mercy Hospital in Auburn were founded.

While carrying on his episcopal duties, confirming children and adults and guiding the spiritual progress of the faithful, Bishop Hickey advanced the church building program begun by his predecessor.

Churches Built

During his reign there came into existence in Rochester, the Church of the Sacred Heart, later to become the Pro-Cathedral of the diocese.

Other churches founded in the See City included the church of the Annunciation, Our Lady of Good Counsel, Our Lady of Lourdes (Our Lady of Mt. Carmel), St. Ambrose Church, St. Andrew's Church, St. Anthony of Padua, St. Charles Borromeo, St. George's Chapel, St. George's Ukrainian, St. John the Evangelist, St. Lucy's, St. Nicholas, Serbian, St. Teresa of the Child Jesus, St. Thomas.

Outside the See City were founded: Church of the Holy Ghost, Coldwater, St. Theodor's Church, Gates, St. Louis Church, Pittsford, St. Saomna's Sea Breeze Catholic Chapel at Buford, St. Vincent de Paul's, formerly St. Hilary's, Genesee, St. Joseph's Lavonia, All Saints' Ludlowville Church of the

Seminarians' Religious Courses By Mail

ALTAMONT N. Y.—The inauguration of correspondence courses of religious instruction by the students of the Seminary of Our Lady of La Salette here is being well-received by Catholics and non-Catholics throughout the East.

The course is part of a missionary activity program being carried out by the Father Cote Missionary Seminary unit of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade.

The correspondence method of catechetical instruction was inaugurated two years ago at Kenyon Seminary, St. Louis. Other seminaries in the central and western States have adopted the plan and have been formed into the Associated Catholic Correspondence Courses. The Rev. J. J. Fallon, C.M., directs the organization from the central office in St. Louis.

Canadian Priest Named To Conciliation Board

OTTAWA—Nominee of the Atlantic Sugar Workers' Union, composed of employees of the Atlantic Refiners, Ltd. St. John, N. B., to a conciliation board, is Father J. Arthur Burns, of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception staff in St. John.

The board is to investigate claims of the workers for better working hours and other conditions.

Assumption, Mt. Morris, St. Lucy's, Retail and Church of the Epiphany, Sodus.

Honored by Pope Pius XII, the occasion of Bishop Hickey's twentieth anniversary of his consecration was made especially memorable when His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, appointed him an Assistant at the Pontifical Throne. This added honor was given him in recognition of the fact that he was the Senior Bishop of the ecclesiastical Province, and because he had maintained the active interest which his predecessor had manifested in the cause of Catholic education.

That Bishop Hickey had at all times a deep and abiding interest in the charitable and welfare agencies of the Diocese over which he reigned is strikingly reflected in this statement concerning agencies made in 1927: "I regard the direction of our institutional work as a grave responsibility. It is therefore a matter of serious moment to be equipped properly that the work thus intrusted may be performed rightly."

Ever concerned over the proper education for Catholic youth, Bishop Hickey, in his Letter pastorals to the Clergy and Catholic parents, urged more care in rearing their children. He deplored the lack of earnestness given to things spiritual by the youth of America.

It is the cause of many young women he attributed to immorality, to bad literary, satirical plays and cigarette smoking.

Ill health brought on by the burden of his holy office, caused Bishop Hickey to resign as Ordinary on Oct. 30, 1928. Promotion to the titular Archbishopric of Viminianum followed.

At the time Bishop Hickey's health brought about his resignation, the Rt. Rev. Mgr. John F. O'Hara, administrator of the diocese, an intimate friend of the Bishops and later to succeed him.

One of the great monuments to Bishop Hickey is the Aquinas Institute, a Catholic high school for boys with a registration of over 800 boys. The Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Joseph on East Avenue in Pittsford, the new Metropolitan School on Blossom Road, the two new parishes on the East Side make up the closing works of the Bishop in the development of diocesan institutions.

Tribute From Press

Sincere tributes were paid to Archbishop Hickey by the secular press at the time of his resignation. The evidence of his exceptional ability as an administrator and of the high esteem in which he was held by the people of Rochester is given in these glowing tributes.

The Rochester Evening Journal said: "There has never been built in this diocese in large numbers, membership has been increased, educational institutions have been brought into being by the Church has steadily gone forward under his guidance."

The Democrat and Chronicle said: "Bishop Hickey's retirement will bring genuine regret to this entire section and the general hope that one of his arduous duties will reduce him to physical health. His appointment to the honorary See of Viminianum by Pope Pius XII will be generally regarded as a deserved tribute to a record of faithful service."

PARISHIONERS SPEND THREE YEARS REPAIRING CHURCH

MINTO N. B.—When Minto in a soft coal mining section, was established as a separate parish in 1927 the parishioners decided to make some improvements to the Holy Rosary Church and agreed there would be no cost for labor.

In the intervening three years, under the direction of their pastor the Rev. Simon C. Oram, and curate the Rev. Robert B. Fraser, the men of the parish have expended 1040 cubic yards of red clay from under the church, and removed the clay inside the building, laid the basement, laid a concrete floor, installed two steel beams to support the church, finished the new basement as a parish hall, put a new roof on the church, painted the roof in grey and white, placed a new gold cross on the spire, covered the interior of the church with fibreglass, and had a new lighting system in both the church and parish hall, painted the interior wood-work, building of a new sanctuary, and enlarged the altar.

SAN DOMINGO, D. R.—La Verdad Católica, weekly of the Archdiocese of Santo Domingo, directs attention to the fact that in the last 30 years the Dominican Republic has produced only twelve priests of one every two and one-half years.

"This is a normal yield with only 15 or 20 students in the seminaries, the weekly notes. At this rate, says the Dominican priest, will be obtained every hundred years. This reduced number is even worse when considered in relation to the great increase in population. Foreign priests who today are almost indispensable, will have to be more than tripled to meet the absolute needs of the population."

School Children Pray For Archbishop

When word went out that the mortal life of Archbishop Hickey had drawn to a close the deep mourning was manifested by Masses being offered in parish churches throughout the diocese, and hospitals throughout the diocese.
